Formative Years, 1918-1928 Peter J. Boettke, 2013-03-14 This book presents a narrative of one of the more interesting utopian experiments in comparative political and economic history the first decade of the Soviet experience with socialism 1918 1928 Though historical and textual analysis the book's goal is to render this experience intelligible to get at the meaning of the Soviet experience with socialism for comparative political economy today The book examines the texts of Lenin Bukharin and other revolutionaries as well as the interpretations of contemporary historians of the revolution and the writings of more recent interpreters of Soviet political and economic history Arguing that the first three years of the Bolshevik regime 1918 1921 constitute an attempt to carry out the Marxian ideal of comprehensive central planning and that the disastrous results which all commentators agree occurred were the inevitable outcome of this Marxian ideal coming into conflict with the economic reality of the coordination problem that all economic systems face the book draws clear conclusions and elucidates the air of mystery that often surrounds the subject Offering a radical challenge to contemporary comparative political economy at the level of high theory applied research and public policy this book is appropriate for students and scholars interested in Marxism economic history political economy and Austrian economics Political Economy and Soviet Socialism Alec Nove, 2011-11-17 First published in 1979 Political Economy and Soviet Socialism is an integrated selection of papers written over the past 12 years of Russian history which offers a unique insight into some

World Communism at the Crossroads S.S. Rosefielde, 2013-03-09 The collection of essays presented in this volume grew out of a series of lectures given at the University of North Carolina during the academic year 1976 1977 The series was sponsored by the Soviet and East European Studies Program which I chaired at the time and the Curriculum of Peace War and Defense headed by James Leutze In the ensuing years almost all the manuscripts have been redrafted at frequent intervals to reflect the changing state

János Mátyás Kovács, 2018-09-15 This edited volume opening the new series Revisiting Communism Collectivist Economic Thought in Historical Perspective focuses on the concepts of ownership the cornerstone of political economy in Soviet type societies The authors main objective is to contribute to the still unwritten chapter on collectivism in the history books of modern economic thought They trace the lengthy evolution of economic ideas of property reform under communism leading from the doctrine of blanket nationalization to projects of moderate privatization in eight countries of Eastern Europe and China The comparative analysis sheds light upon the tireless attempts of reform minded economists in communist countries to populate the no man s land of social property with quasi private economic actors such as bodies of workers self management and managers of state owned companies For a long time these were expected to crowd out the communist nomenklatura from its actual ownership position without challenging the primacy of collective property rights The fact that even the most radical reformers came to the conclusion that such surrogate owners would not be able to break the power of the ruling elite only on the eve of the 1989 revolutions demonstrates the immense strength of collectivist ideas The authors coin the term trap of collectivism to warn those demanding nationalization or other forms of non private ownership today it is rather easy even with the best intentions to walk into this trap but it may take long decades to break out from it Political Economy A.
