Political Poetry in the Wake of the Second Spanish Republic Grant D. Moss, 2017-12-06 From notions of art for art s sake to committed poetry it may seem that poets cannot achieve reconciliation between the politics and poetry However among committed Communist poets of the 20th century of the Spanish speaking world three poets stand out as examples of a search to bring together their political and their poetic commitments Rafael Alberti Nicol s Guill n and Pablo Neruda Political Poetry in the Wake of the Second Spanish Republic analyzes the simultaneous development of politics and poetics in these three Spanish language poets as it was nurtured by the Second Spanish Republic 1931 1939 Beginning in these years Alberti Guill n and Neruda strove to tackle the challenge of committing to their own independent poetic projects and to their politics at the same time Later these three poets maintained their Communist Party affiliation until their deaths and produced collection after collection of quality poetry Despite the differences in their overall poetic trajectories and projects the ability to maneuver between politics and poetry without sacrificing either one is common among them Because of their unique experiences during the time of the Second Spanish Republic in Spain each author explicitly denounced the injustices that the opposing Franquist forces had committed against the Republic After the fall of the Republic in 1939 Alberti Guill n and Neruda continued to intertwine their politics with their poems only in a less obvious manner Therefore each could solidify his position within the poetic canon while at the same time each could maintain his position as a committed or at least card

Love's Wounds Cynthia N. Nazarian, 2017-01-10 Love's Wounds takes an in depth look at the widespread language of violence and abjection in early modern European love poetry Beginning in fourteenth century Italy this book shows how Petrarch established a pattern of inequality between suffering poet and exalted Beloved rooted in political patriarchy Sixteenth and early seventeenth century French and English poets reshaped his model into an idiom of extravagant brutality coded to their own historical circumstances Cynthia N Nazarian argues that these poets exaggerated the posture of the downtrodden lover adapting the rhetoric of powerless desire to forge a new countersovereignty from within the heart of vulnerability a potentially revolutionary position through which to challenge cultural religious and political authority Creating a secular equivalent to the martyr early modern sonneteers crafted a voice that was both critical and unstoppable because it suffered Love's Wounds tracks the development of the countersovereign voice from Francesco Petrarca to Maurice Scève Joachim du Bellay Théodore Agrippa d'Aubigné Edmund Spenser and William Shakespeare Through interdisciplinary and transnational analyses Nazarian reads early modern sonnets as sites of contestation and collaboration and rewrites the relationship between early modern literary forms

The Reinvention of Love Anthony Low, 1993-11-11 In The Reinvention of Love Anthony Low argues that cultural economic and political change transformed the way poets from Sidney to Milton thought and wrote about love Examining the interface between social political and economic practices and individual psyches as reflected in literary texts Professor Low illuminates the connections between material circumstances perceptions and ideals Through detailed readings of the work of Sidney Donne Herbert Crashaw Carew and Milton he shows how from the late sixteenth century poets struggled to replace the older Petrarchan tradition with a form of love in harmony with a changing world and to reconcile human love and sacred devotion Donne fled the social world Carew made new accommodations with it Milton revised it For Milton sacred love cut off from communal norms verges on hatred while married love takes on the burden of assuaging loneliness in a threatening world
