Dalton, Hans-Dieter Klingemann, 2007 Assembles the world's leading scholars on public opinion and political behaviour to describe the state of the art research on the beliefs values and behaviours of contemporary politics American Political Scientists Glenn H. Utter, Charles Lockhart, 2002-10-30 This dictionary offers the only comprehensive collection of profiles of American political scientists each of whom contributed significantly to the intellectual development of American political science from its beginnings in the late 19th century to the present This second edition includes 22 new and 110 revised entries reflecting new scholarship that emerged during the 1990s Numerous experts helped the editors develop this consensus group of the 193 political scientists who have made the most important theoretical contributions over the years with attention to varied approaches and the different subfields Alphabetically arranged entries focus on the main ideas and major works by each scholar listing list the most important publications by and about the individual There are numerous cross references to show how the work of one scholar has influenced another in the discipline Appendices list the political scientists by degree granting institutions and by major fields A short bibliography points to important general readings about the profession A general index makes this major reference easily accessible for broad interdisciplinary research

On the Interactions of News Media, Interpersonal Communication, Opinion Formation, and Participation Joohoan Kim, 1997-12 Deliberative democracy can be defined as a political system based on citizens voluntary and free discussions on public issues Most scholars have discussed deliberative democracy within normative boundaries However based primarily on Katz s interpretation of Tarde this study finds the concept of public sphere a useful framework for operationalizing the normative concept of deliberative democracy since the four components of the public sphere news media use interpersonal communication opinion formation and political participation provide us with empirically testable categories This study tests the validity of theories of deliberative democracy through examining the inter relationships among the four components of the public sphere Methodologically it includes a set of 63 items to probe where people talk and what they talk about in their daily life An experimental treatment a stop and talk question is also included in the survey to simulate the effects of real conversation Through a set of data gathered from a nationwide survey sufficient evidence was found to support the basic hypotheses 1 news media use encourages people to have political conversation 2 news media use and political conversation tend to enhance the quality of opinions measured by consistency opinionation and consideredness 3 news media use political conversation and enhanced opinions encourage political participation The significance of this study is that 1 unlike other media effects studies its dependent variables are not just of opinion positions or attitude changes but also opinion quality 2 it does not consider media alone but deals with the combined effects of interpersonal communication conversation and mass media news media use 3 it combines an experimental design with a nationwide survey and 4 it assumes that the effects of mass media do not stop at people s attitudes but are extended to their activities

Joining Political Organisations Laura Morales, 2009-04-01 From political parties to environmental organisations citizens join a host of associations in order to influence policymaking and political agendas Yet why in some western democracies do citizens join political organisations much more than in others Drawing on a large number of crossnational surveys and data sets Morales shows that huge crossnational variations in political membership are not so much related to social or attitudinal differences between these countries citizens but are explained to a great extent by the structure of the political system of each nation

Society And Structures, Proceedings Of The International Seminar On Nuclear War And Planetary Emergencies - 29th Session Richard C Ragaini,2003-08-12 This proceedings volume contains presentations group discussions and reports on terrorism related issues such as motivations tools and countermeasures worldwide stability risk analysis Social Science Quarterly ,1987 Includes section Book reviews Institutions, Mobilisation, and Political Participation Laura Morales Diez de Ulzurrun,2004 Esta tesis mantiene que no podemos entender completamente el asociacionismo politico de los ciudadanos a menos que fijemos nuestra mirada mas alla de las caracteristicas individuales es decir a menos que intentemos comprender qu efecto tiene sobre su comportamiento politico el contexto politico y social en el que los ciudadanos act an Los recursos y las caracteristicas socioeconomicas proporcionan oportunidades para unirse a organizaciones politicas Las actitudes y las orientaciones proveen o por el contrario reducen la motivacion para unirse a un grupo con objetivos politicos Sin embargo estos rasgos individuales no son necesariamente factores de desigualdad en todas las sociedades ni tienen siempre las mismas consecuencias El contexto social y politico en el que los ciudadanos toman decisiones sobre su participacion interactua de manera importante con los rasgos individuales para activar o desactivar su impacto politico Adem s el contexto social y politico que rodea a los ciudadanos tiene tambien un impacto independiente sobre su comportamiento politico Las instituciones politicas y las pautas de movilizacion politica condicionan de manera crucial el asociacionismo politico Estos dos conjuntos de factores instituciones y movilizacion estructuran las oportunidades de participacion que en realidad tienen los ciudadanos De hecho algunos sistemas democraticos han desarrollado instituciones politicas que facilitan la pertenencia a grupos politicos As mientras que en algunos paises occidentales los ciudadanos son movilizados con mucha frecuencia a trav s de asociaciones politicas en otros lo son en mucha menor medida Esta tesis es por lo tanto un intento de incorporar de una manera sistematica la politica y las instituciones en el analisis del comportamiento politico A lo largo de la misma se demuestra que las enormes diferencias entre los paises occidentales en terminos de la propension de sus respectivos ciudadanos a organizarse politicamente no pueden explicarse solo por las distintas caracteristicas socioeconomicas de los individuos Sin duda estos aspectos tambien contribuyen a que sean menos participativos pero no nos ayudan gran cosa a explicar las variaciones que encontramos entre sociedades occidentales Los resultados de esta investigacion ponen de manifiesto la enorme importancia del contexto sociopolitico para explicar por qu los ciudadanos de algunas democracias occidentales participan en politica a trav s de organizaciones y por qu no lo hacen los de otras sociedades similares Determinadas estructuras de oportunidades politicas favorecen la participacion de los ciudadanos de manera muy importante As sistemas politicos mas abiertos a la influencia de las organizaciones politicas gracias a la existencia de arreglos corporativistas de intermediacion de intereses y al mayor pluralismo y fragmentacion de la representacion

parlamentaria contribuyen a que los ciudadanos encuentren mayores incentivos para participar en los asuntos p blicos Del mismo modo el grado en que las propias organizaciones pol ticas act an como agentes efectivos de movilizaci n pol tica influye en el comportamiento participativo de los ciudadanos All donde las organizaciones pol ticas tienen una red organizativa y de infraestructuras m s densas los ciudadanos est n m s expuestos a los est mulos de reclutamiento pol tico y por tanto participan m s Adem s el contexto pol tico no s lo estructura las oportunidades de participaci n de los ciudadanos sino que tambi n interact a con las caracter sticas de los propios ciudadanos contribuyendo as a aumentar o disminuir las desigualdades participativas de los mismos Las estructuras pol ticas m s abiertas y accesibles disminuyen las barreras y los costes a la participaci n de tal manera que los individuos con menores recursos socioecon micos por ejemplo la educaci n no se encuentran tan desfavorecidos en su capacidad de influir en el proceso de toma de decisiones Por el contrario las estructuras pol ticas m s cerradas exacerban el efecto de las desigualdades sociales y las transforman en desigualdades pol ticas De esta manera el contexto pol tico tiene un doble efecto sobre el asociacionismo pol tico en las democracias occidentales Por un lado condiciona cu nta gente participa en los asuntos p blicos a trav s de organizaciones pol ticas y por otro incide en qui nes son los que participan Los sistemas pol ticos m s abiertos extienden e igualan la participaci n organizada de los ciudadanos los sistemas pol ticos m s cerrados reducen la participaci n y la hacen m s desigual socialmente
