Marek Jan Chodakiewicz

Polska I Polacy:

Belonging to the Nation John J. Kulczycki, 2016-03-28 In 1939 Nazis identified Polish citizens of German origin and granted them legal status as ethnic Germans of the Reich After the war Poland did just the opposite searched out Germans of Polish origin and offered them Polish citizenship John Kulczycki's account underscores the processes of inclusion and exclusion that mold national communities The Exile Mission Anna D. Jaroszyńska-Kirchmann, 2004 Considering the two distinct Polish immigrant groups after World War II the Polish American descendants of pre war economic migrants and Polish refugees fleeing communism this study explores the uneasy challenge to reconcile concepts of responsibility toward their homeland Between Nazis and Soviets Marek Jan Chodakiewicz, 2004-01-01 Between 1939 and 1947 the county of Jan w Lubelski an agricultural area in central Poland experienced successive occupations by Nazi Germany 1939 1944 and the Soviet Union 1944 1947 During each period the population including the Polish majority and the Jewish Ukrainian and German minorities reacted with a combination of accommodation collaboration and resistance In this remarkably detailed and revealing study Marek Jan Chodakiewicz analyzes and describes the responses of the inhabitants of occupied Jan w to the policies of the ruling powers He provides a highly useful typology of response to occupation defining collaboration as an active relationship with the occupiers for reasons of self interest and to the detriment of one's neighbors resistance as passive and active opposition and accommodation as compliance falling between the two extremes He focuses on the ways in which these reactions influenced relations between individuals between social classes and between ethnic groups Casting new light on social dynamics within occupied Poland during and after World War II Between Nazis and Soviets yields valuable insight for scholars of conflict studies Polacy i ziemie polskie w dobie wojny krymskiej Jerzy W.
