Realizing Rights Transforming Approaches To Sexual And Reproductive Wellbeing:

Realizing Rights Andrea Cornwall, Alice Welbourn, 2002 Sexual and reproductive wellbeing has gained recognition as a basic right Yet reality is different as society health programmes and aid agencies are all entrenched in old ways This book portrays a range of examples from around the world

Spaces for Change? Andrea Cornwall, Vera Schatten Coelho, 2007 This book provides a clear and comprehensive introduction to the developments which have brought about a new global wave of inclusiveness and democracy From Brazil to Bangladesh a new form of participatory politics is springing up Featuring contributions detailing how such movements have worked in Latin America Europe and Africa the book analyzes the impact they have had on the democratic process By opening up the political sphere in this way the authors contend these grassroots movements truly have created spaces for change

Thinking Differently Gabrielle Griffin, Rosi Braidotti, 2002-10 This book is the first to ask whether there is a specifically European dimension to certain major issues in Women s Studies It strives to create a synergetic debate among different disciplines and cultural traditions in Europe and in doing so fills some gaps in our knowledge about women and enriches debates hitherto dominated by Anglo American influences Among the new areas of enquiry opened up in this book by the specificities of European Women s Studies are The fact that Europe has repeatedly experienced warfare on its own territory which has impacted significantly on women Hence the focus in this volume on women and militarism and on ethnic cleansing as an attack on the family The abidingly problematic relationship between feminism and anti semitism and issues of migration and whiteness in a context where racism reflects the colonial histories of particular European countries The importance of passion and the emotions as well as psychoanalytical theory for politics particularly in Southern and Eastern European countries Current problems facing Europe including the decline of the welfare state the phenomenon of the single woman and the relationship between women s rights and human rights The diverse faces of feminist movements in particular European countries Reading feminism from a European perspective will enable readers to reflect upon the ways in which changes in political social and cultural positions and practices over the past century in Europe have impacted on feminist thinking and theorizing The volume raises important issues about the transfer of feminist concepts across cultures and languages And to English speaking audiences the volume also offers fresh viewpoints on some of the key debates in Women s Studies

The Politics of Rights Andrea Cornwall,Maxine Molyneux,2013-09-13 Since the late 1990s development institutions have increasingly used the language of rights in their policy and practice This special issue on feminist perspectives on politics of rights explores the strategies tensions and challenges associated with rights work in a variety of settings Articles on the Middle East Africa Latin America East and South Asia explore the dilemmas that arise for feminist praxis in these diverse locations and address the question of what rights can contribute to struggles for gender justice Exploring the intersection of formal rights whether international human rights conventions constitutional rights or national legislation with the everyday realities of women in settings characterized by entrenched gender inequalities and poverty plural legal systems and cultural norms that can constitute formidable obstacles to realizing rights The contributors suggest that these sites of struggle can create new possibilities and meanings and a politics of rights animated by demands for social and gender justice

The Power of Labelling Rosalind Eyben,Joy Moncrieffe,2013-09-05 The Power of Labelling illuminates a fundamental and intriguing dimension of social and political life Striking cases from a range of policy contexts generate eyeopening analyses of labellings causes and consequences uses and abuses and of alternatives in thinking and relating DES GASPER INSTITUTE OF SOCIAL STUDIES THE HAGUE The authors convincingly and often vividly explain how the unavoidable framings and labellings of the objects of policy secrete relations of power which can obscure as much as they reveal and often lead in policy itself to perverse outcomes Their detail is riveting their analyses persuasive what they suggest realistic and deeply sensible This immensely readable collection is indispensable for anyone who wants to think about how they think about development and should be forced on all who dont GEOFFREY HAWTHORN PROFESSOR OF INTERNATIONAL POLITICS UNIVERSITY OF CAMBRIDGE This is an essential book not only for those interested in understanding the development industry but also for development practitioners It discusses key questions concerning the ways in which knowledge is generated by development agencies and reaffirms the importance of understanding who categorizes people why and how R L STIRRAT PROFESSOR OF SOCIAL ANTHROPOLOGY UNIVERSITY OF SUSSEX Very important Martin Kalungu Banda Oxfam GB What does it mean to be part of the mass known as The Poor What visions are conjured up in our minds when someone is labelled Muslim What assumptions do we make about their needs values and politics How do we react individually and as a society Who develops the labels what power do they carry and how do such labels affect how people are treated This timely book tackles the critical and controversial issue of how people are labelled and categorized and how their problems are framed and dealt with Drawing on vast international experience and current theory the authors examine how labels are constituted and applied by a variety of actors including development policy makers practitioners and researchers The book exposes the intense and complex politics involved in processes of labelling and highlights how the outcomes of labelling can undermine stated development goals Importantly one of the books principal objectives is to suggest how policy makers and professionals can tackle negative forms of labelling and encourage processes of counter labelling to enhance poverty reduction and human rights and to tackle issues of race relations and global security The Afterword encapsulates these ideas and provides a good basis for reflection further debate and action

Development with a Body Andrea Cornwall, Sonia Correa, Susie Jolly, 2013-07-04 We used to talk about development with a human face We should be talking about development with a body Arit Oku Egbas African Regional Sexuality Resource Centre Nigeria Sex and sexuality have always had a place at the heart of the development agenda from concerns regarding population and environment to practices in education and efforts for protecting reproductive health and rights Yet this agenda has largely focused on negative dimensions of sexuality disease risk violation rather than positive aspects including rights to sexual fulfillment wellbeing and pleasure The shift towards a rights based approach to development has brought the human rights dimensions of sexuality into clearer view and consequently the need to address discriminatory laws and violations of the human rights of those whose sexual identity and practices diverge from dominant sexual orders norms This book offers compelling insights into contemporary challenges and transformative possibilities of the struggle for sexual rights It combines the conceptual with the political and offering inspiring examples of practical interventions and campaigns that emphasize the positive dimensions of sexuality It brings together reflections and experiences of researchers activists and practitioners from Brazil India Nigeria Peru Serbia South Africa Turkey the UK and Zambia From political discourse on sex and masculinity to sex work and trafficking from HIV and sexuality to struggles for legal reform and citizenship the authors explore the gains of creating stronger linkages between sexuality human rights and development The SAGE Handbook of Action Research Hilary Bradbury, 2015-06-19 The third edition of The SAGE Handbook of Action Research presents an updated version of the bestselling text including new chapters covering emerging areas in healthcare social work education and international development as well as an expanded skills section which includes new consultant relevant materials Building on the strength of the previous landmark editions Hilary Bradbury has carefully developed this edition to ensure it follows in their footsteps by mapping the current state of the discipline as well as looking to the future of the field and exploring the issues at the cutting edge of the action research paradigm today This volume is an essential resource for scholars and professionals engaged in social and political inquiry healthcare international development new media organizational research and education Gender, Development and Marriage Caroline Sweetman, 2003 This book traces the economic and social impact of inequality in marriage and considers its implications for development Looking at child marriage the link between women's economic contribution equality within marriage NGO responses to domestic violence and the need to understand particular forms of marriage for appropriate development policy

Sex Slaves and Discourse Masters Doctor Jo Doezema, 2013-07-18 Why is the international community so concerned with the fate of prostitutes abroad And why does the story of trafficking sound so familiar In this pioneering new book Jo Doezema argues that the current concern with trafficking in women is a modern manifestation of the myth of white slavery Combining historical analysis with contemporary investigation this book sheds light on the current preoccupations with trafficking in women It examines in detail sex worker reactions to the myth of trafficking questions the current feminist preoccupation with the suffering female body and argues that feminism needs to move towards the creation of new myths The analysis in this book is controversial but crucial an alternative to the current panic discourses around trafficking in women An essential read for anyone who is concerned with the increased movement of women internationally and the attempts of international and national governments to regulate this flow

Public and Community Engagement in Health Science Research: Openings and Obstacles for Listening and Responding in the Majority World Gillian Black, Phaik Yeong Cheah, Mary Chambers, Deborah Nyirenda, 2022-10-11

Participatory Visual Methodologies in Global Public Health Claudia Mitchell, Marni Sommer, 2018-10-18 Participatory Visual Methodologies in Global Public Health focuses on the use of participatory visual methodologies such as photovoice participatory video including cellphilmimg or the use of cell phones to make videos drawing and mapping in public health research These approaches are modes of inquiry that can engage participants and communities eliciting evidence about their own health and well being as well as modes of representation and modes of production in the co creation of knowledge and modes of dissemination in relation to knowledge translation and mobilization Thus the production by a group of girls or young women of a set of photos or videos from their own visual perspective can offer new evidence on how for example they see sexual violence Unlike other data such as those collected through surveys or even conventional interviews the images they have produced not only inform the empirical evidence but also do not need to remain in a laboratory or the office of a researcher They can through exhibitions and screenings reach various audiences school or health personnel parents and community members and perhaps also policy makers This collection offers a critical overview for students practitioners researchers and policy makers working in or concerned with the use of participatory methodologies in public health around the globe This book was originally published as a special issue of Global Public Health

Participation Samuel Hickey,Giles Mohan,2013-07-04 Participation has established itself as a significant approach to project implementation policy making and governance in developing and developed countries alike Recently however it has become fashionable to dismiss participation as more rhetoric than substance and subject to manipulation by agencies and social change agents intent simply on pursuing their own agendas under cover of community consent In this important new volume development and other social policy scholars and practitioners seek to rebut this simplistic conclusion while addressing the problems of power and politics which have beset some approaches to participation They describe and analyse new experiments in participation from a wide diversity of social contexts that show how far from being a redundant and depoliticizing concept participation can given certain conditions be linked to genuinely transformative processes and outcomes for marginalized communities and people This volume is the first comprehensive attempt to evaluate the state of participatory approaches in the aftermath of the Tyranny critique It captures the recent convergence between participatory development and participatory governance and spans the range of institutional actors involved in these approaches the state civil society and donor agencies It places participatory interventions in a political context and links them directly to issues of popular agency The volume embeds participation within contemporary advances in development theory and proposes theoretical and practical ways forward for relocating participation as a genuinely transformative approach Scholars and practitioners alike and from a diversity of disciplines and community and development agencies are likely to find this volume a theoretically illuminating and practically useful source of ideas about how participation can achieve concrete liberatory outcomes

Managing Reproductive Life Soraya Tremayne,2001 In 1999 the Institute of Social and Cultural Anthropology at the University of Oxford held a workshop on the social dynamics of human reproduction This volume contains 12 papers from scholars in Britain and the U S that were originally presented at that workshop Topics include for example motherhood among young prostitutes in Thailand the meaning of children in Hong Kong and the reproductive health of refugees Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

Rights, Resources and the Politics of Accountability Peter Newell,Joanna Wheeler,2006-05 With examples drawn from a wide range of economic and industrial sectors and from both South and North this title presents a topical exploration of struggles for accountability in development projects

Feminisms in Development Andrea Cornwall,Elizabeth Harrison,Ann Whitehead,2013-07-04 This collection of essays by leading feminist thinkers from North and South constitutes a major new attempt to reposition feminism within development studies Feminism's emphasis on social transformation makes it fundamental to development studies Yet the relationship between the two disciplines has frequently been a troubled one At present the way in which many development institutions function often undermines feminist intent through bureaucratic structures and unequal power quotients Moreover the seeming intractability of inequalities and injustice in developing countries have presented feminists with some enormous challenges Here emphasizing the importance of a plurality of approaches the authors argue for the importance of what feminisms have to say to development Confronting the enormous challenges for feminisms in development studies this book provides real hope for dialogue and exchange between feminisms and development

Reproductive Agency, Medicine and the State Maya Unnithan-Kumar, 2005-11 Recent years have seen many changes in human reproduction resulting from state and medical interventions in childbearing processes Based on empirical work in a variety of societies and countries this volume considers the relationship between reproductive processes of fertility pregnancy childbirth and the postpartum period on the one hand and attitudes medical technologies and state health policies in diverse cultural contexts on the other

A Feminist Approach to Sensitive Research Tricia Ong, 2022-12-07 This book explores the development and implementation of the Clay Embodiment Research Method CERM with one of the most stigmatized oppressed and marginalized groups of women in Nepal sex trafficked women It argues for the use of a feminist approach to such research given the prevailing patriarchal norms cultural sensitivity of reproductive health stigmatization of sex trafficking and low literacy of the women involved Beginning with an exploration of the author's relationship with Nepal and the women who guide the study and the realization that a more accessible research approach was needed than the techniques otherwise commonly used it discusses the use of clay and photography as ideal entry points to engaging with the women in the research and creating this ethical methodology for self empowerment Not only does the volume highlight extraordinary insights offered by the women involved in this study through the application of CERM but also the recognition that its use requires expertise that can deal with the potential elicitation of trauma The book makes the case for further study on improving the method's use in research education and therapy involving low literate stigmatized oppressed and marginalized populations particularly where cultural sensitivity is an important consideration A Feminist Approach to Sensitive Research is suitable for students scholars and researchers in Gender Studies Sociology Health Studies Anthropology and Asian Studies
