Reason Relativism And God Joseph Runzo,1986-05-19 World Views and Perceiving God Joseph

Runzo,1994-01-12 This collection of essays presents a systematic analysis of some of the foremost issues in the philosophy of religion The focus is on the epistemology of religion the most significant area of recent interest in the field After developing a religious epistemology in the first half of the book that epistemology is both further expanded and explicitly applied to salient issues in the contemporary discussion The central question throughout the essays is how our world views affect our perception especially our perception of God The first essays set out a general epistemology of perception The next two sets of essays build upon this in assessing the cognitive value of religious experience and analyzing the proper epistemic foundations for belief in God Then in view of the role of faith developed in those essays the final essays address the dual challenges to traditional theism of theological non realism and of religious pluralism God and Realism Peter Byrne,2017-07-05 Peter

Byrne s study of God and realism offers a critical survey of issues surrounding the realist interpretation of theism and theology Byrne presents a general argument for interpreting the intent of talk about God in a realist fashion and argues that judging the intent of theistic discourse should be the primary object of concern in the philosophy of religion He considers a number of important ideas and thinkers supporting global anti realism and finds them all wanting After the refutation of global anti realism Byrne considers a number of important arguments in favour of the notion that there is something specific to talk about God which invites an anti realist interpretation of it Here he looks at verificationism the writings of Don Cupitt forms of radical feminist theory and the ideas of D Z Phillips The book concludes with a discussion of whether theology as a discursive academic discipline can be interpreted realistically Offering a comprehensive survey of the topic and of the leading literature in the field this book presents key arguments for exploring issues brought to bear upon the realism debate Students and scholars of philosophy of religion philosophy of language metaphysics theory of knowledge and theology will find this an invaluable new contribution to the field Is God Real? God and the Processes of Reality David A. Pailin, 2024-12-06 Can belief in God be rational David A Pailin identifies the reasons behind this questioning of theistic faith in his book God and the Processes of Reality originally published in 1989 and demonstrates how the supposed incoherences in the concept of God are due to the generalization of partial insights He establishes the basic character of the concept of God and examines the nature of the major attributes of the divine and of the relationship of God to the processes of reality looking at God as creator the relation of God to historical events and the role of God as the basis for individual fulfilment The book takes up many of the insights developed by Whitehead and Hartshorne in what is commonly known as process thought Pailin explains these insights and counters common misapprehensions about them critically sometimes radically so to present a credible understanding of the God of theistic belief and a coherent understanding of the relationship of that God to the processes of reality This book will be of interest to students and researchers of religion and philosophy

Why Religion? Towards a Critical Philosophy of Law, Peace and God Dawid Bunikowski, Alberto Puppo, 2020-02-11 This book examines the relation between religion and jurisprudence God and peace respectively It argues that in order to elucidate the possible role religion can play in the contemporary world it is useful to analyse religion by associating it with other concepts Why peace Because peace is probably the greatest promise made by religions and the greatest concern in the contemporary world Why jurisprudence Because quoting Kelsen's famous book Peace through Law peace is usually understood as something achievable by international legal instruments But what if we replace Peace through Law with Peace through Religion Does law as an instrument for achieving peace incorporate a religious dimension Is law ultimately a religious and normative construction oriented to peace to the protection of humanity in order to keep humans from the violence of nature Is the hope for peace rational or just a question of faith Is religion itself a question of faith or a rational choice Is the relatively recent legal concept of responsibility to protect a secular expression of the oldest duty of humankind The book follows the structure of interdisciplinary research in which the international legal scholar the moral philosopher the philosopher of religion the theologian and the political scientist contribute to the construction of the necessary bridges Moreover it gives voice to different monotheistic traditions and more importantly it analyses religion in the various dimensions in which it determines the authors cultures as a set of rituals as a source of moral norms as a universal project for peace and as a political discourse
