Regional Garden Design In The United States:

Regional Garden Design in the United States Therese O'Malley, Marc Treib, 1995 Increased mobility uprootedness and the pace of change in an increasingly technological society have contributed to interest in regionalism which places value on cultural continuity in local areas These essays lay the foundation for examining regionalism in American garden design

The Grove Encyclopedia of American Art Joan M. Marter, 2011 Arranged in alphabetical order these 5 volumes encompass the history of the cultural development of America with over 2300 entries

Midwestern Landscape Architecture William H. Tishler, 2000 This richly illustrated collection profiles the bold innovators in landscape architecture who around the turn of the twentieth century ventured into the nation's heartland to develop a new style of design celebrating the native midwestern landscape The pioneers of landscape architecture in the Midwest are responsible for creating some of the most recognizable parks cemeteries recreation areas and other public gathering places in the region

Midwestern Landscape Architecture includes essays on Adolph Strauch who introduced a new concept of visually integrated landscape treatment in Cincinnati's Spring Grove Cemetery William Le Baron Jenney designer of Chicago's diverse West Parks and Jens Jensen who created the American Garden in Union Park in Chicago a celebration of native flora and founder of The Clearing a unique school of the arts and humanities in Wisconsin Other major figures include Frederick Law Olmsted Sr co designer of New York's Central Park whose work in the Midwest included the layout of the 1893 World's Columbian Exposition and Ossian Cole Simonds who helped reconcile the formal approach of the City Beautiful movement with the naturalism of the Prairie School in urban park design This volume also details the contributions of crusaders for ecological awareness and an appreciation of the region's natural heritage These include horticultural writer Wilhelm Miller who spread the ideals of the Prairie style and Genevieve Gillette a landscape architect and conservationist whose preservation efforts led to the establishment of numerous Michigan state parks and wilderness areas

Midwestern Landscape Architecture fosters a better understanding of how landscape design took shape in the Midwest and how the land itself inspired new solutions to enhance its understated beauty Despite Olmsted's assessment of the Illinois prairie as one of the most tiresome landscapes that I ever met with the Midwest has amassed an important legacy of landscape design that continues to influence how people interact with their environment in the heartland

Perspectives on Garden Histories Michel Conan,1999 Garden history is a discipline of contested purposes Perspectives on Garden Histories contributes to a self critical examination of this emergent field of study at the same time offering an overview of its main achievements in several domains such as Italian and Mughal gardens and of the new kinds of investigation to which they have led In its early years garden history centered on architectural studies of garden design but in the 1960s the emphasis shifted from garden design to garden meaning The new paradigm considered gardens as complex works of art and demanded an extensive documentation of the historical context as well as of the figurative and discursive sources This approach in its turn was challenged by neo Marxist scholars who proceeded to view landscape appreciation as an ideological superstructure an outgrowth of agricultural production processes Garden designs and their histories can also be viewed as expressions of ideological conflicts in society Neither gardens nor their history can thus be studied independently of the social cultural and political movements that give prominence to the contested ideologies Gardens can be used to foster some ideologies or reflect a reaction against a social change Comparative research offers another fascinating approach exploring the relations between European landscape concepts and other cultural contexts and discussing issues of cultural dominance and interpretation The emergence of various perspectives has led to the incorporation of further questions into the domain of garden studies which has been moving in new directions and using new methods in search of an adapted theoretical framework This volume offers a striking view of changes taking place in the discipline

Historic Residential Suburbs David L. Ames,Linda Flint McClelland,2002 Site Matters Carol Burns,Andrea Kahn,2005-07-08 This volume through theoretical essays and empirically grounded pieces on Le Corbusier s designs contemporary suburbs and the planning agendas of the World Trade Center site provides theory on the appreciation of site and context in architecture

Forest and Garden Melanie Louise Simo,2003 How wild and managed or artificially arranged environments coexist has long been a matter of intense debate among foresters and landscape professionals

The Language of Landscape Anne Whiston Spirn,1998-01-01 This eloquent and powerful book combines poetry and pragmatism to teach the language of landscape Anne Whiston Spirn author of the award winning The Granite Garden Urban Nature and Human Design argues that the language of landscape exists with its own syntax grammar and metaphors and that we imperil ourselves by failing to learn to read and speak this language To understand the meanings of landscape our habitat is to see the world differently and to enable ourselves to avoid profound aesthetic and environmental mistakes Offering examples that range across thousands of years and five continents Spirn examines urban rural and natural landscapes She discusses the thought of renowned landscape authors Thomas Jefferson Frank Lloyd Wright Frederick Law Olmsted Lawrence Halprin and of less well known pioneers including Australian architect Glenn Murcutt and Danish landscape artist C Th S rensen She discusses instances of great landscape designers using landscape fluently masterfully and sometimes cynically And in a probing analysis of the many meanings of landscape Spirn shows how one person s ideal landscape may be another s nightmare how Utopian landscapes can be dark There is danger when we lose the connection between a place and our understanding of it Spirn warns and she calls for change in the way we shape our environment based on the notions of nature as a set of ideas and landscape as the expression of action and ideas in place Gardens, Knowledge and the Sciences in the Early Modern Period Hubertus Fischer,Volker R. Remmert,Joachim Wolschke-Bulmahn,2016-06-03 This volume focuses on the outstanding contributions made by botany and the mathematical sciences to the genesis and development of early modern garden art and garden culture The many facets of the mathematical sciences and botany point to the increasingly scientific approach that was being adopted in and applied to garden art and garden culture in the early modern period This development was deeply embedded in the philosophical religious political cultural and social contexts running parallel to the beginning of processes of scientization so characteristic for modern European history This volume strikingly shows how these various developments are intertwined in gardens for various purposes Garrett Eckbo Marc Treib,Dorothee Imbert,2005 A beautifully illustrated consideration of the life and career of modernist landscape architect Garrett Eckbo The American Lawn Georges Teyssot,1999 The site of political demonstrations sporting events and barbecues and the object of loving if not obsessive care and attention the lawn is also symbolically tied to our notions of community and civic responsibility serving in the process as one of the foundations of democracy Architectural Regionalism Vincent B. Canizaro,2012-03-20 In this rapidly globalizing world any investigation of architecture inevitably leads to considerations of regionalism But despite its omnipresence in contemporary practice and theory architectural regionalism remains a fluid concept its historical development and current influence largely undocumented This comprehensive reader brings together over 40 key essays illustrating the full range of ideas embodied by the term Authored by important critics historians and architects such as Kenneth Frampton Lewis Mumford Sigfried Giedion and Alan Colquhoun Architectural Regionalism represents the history of regionalist thinking in architecture from the early twentieth century to today Public Spaces, Private Gardens Lake Douglas,2011-05-17 Landscape architect Lake Douglas employs written accounts archival data historic photographs lithographs maps and city planning documents many of which have never been published until now to explore public and private outdoor spaces in New Orleans and those who shaped them Public Spaces Private Gardens an informative stroll through the last two hundred years of the designed

Places of Commemoration Joachim Wolschke-Bulmahn, 2001 Everyone is occupied consciously or unconsciously with identity one's origin and the question of one's place in humankind and society of the past present and future Identity and memory are not stable and objective things but representations or constructions of reality related to a particular interest such as class gender of power relations Identity is problematic without history and without the commemoration of history and of course such remembrance may distort historical events and facts When dealing with gardens a substantial part of our physical environment there are always unspoken questions of identity Places of Commemoration examines commemorative sites of different character including gardens landscapes memorials cemeteries and sites of former Nazi concentration camps detailing the ideas behind the creation of memorials and monuments and the struggles over the narratives they present

Women, Modernity, and Landscape Architecture Sonja DümpeImann, John Beardsley, 2015-02-11 Modernity was critically important to the formation and evolution of landscape architecture yet its histories in the discipline are still being written This book looks closely at the work and influences of some of the least studied figures of the era established and less well known female landscape architects who pursued modernist ideals in their designs The women discussed in this volume belong to the pioneering first two generations of professional landscape architects and were outstanding in the field They not only developed notable practices but some also became leaders in landscape architectural education as the first professors in the discipline or prolific lecturers and authors As early professionals who navigated the world of a male dominated intellectual and menial work force they were exponents of modernity In addition many personalities discussed in this volume were either figures of transition between tradition and modernism like Silvia Crowe Maria Teresa Parpagliolo or they fully embraced and furthered the modernist agenda like Rosa Kliass Cornelia Oberlander The chapters offer new perspectives and contribute to the development of a more balanced and integrated landscape architectural historiography of the twentieth century Contributions come from practitioners and academics who discuss women based in USA Canada Brazil New Zealand South Africa the former USSR Sweden Britain Germany Austria France and Italy Ideal reading for those studying landscape history women s studies and cultural geography
