Transnational Financial Associations and the Governance of Global Finance Heather McKeen-Edwards,Tony Porter,2013-02-11 The role of business in global governance is now widely recognized but exploration of its role in global financial governance has been more haphazard than systematic This book provides the first comprehensive analysis of the role of transnational financial associations TFAs in the organization of global finance This book develops three theoretical themes of assemblage functionality and power as enrolment These themes challenge approaches that treat financial power as emanating from a single location or force Whilst existing approaches tend to treat TFAs as irrelevant or as merely transmitting power originating elsewhere this book argues that power must be created by painstakingly assembling actors networks and objects that are often quite autonomous and working at cross purposes to one another a process in which TFAs play a central role

The book explores these themes in chapters examining the roles of TFAs in interacting with public authorities constructing global financial markets and creating financial communities The authors additionally analyse the roles of TFAs in the European Union in the Global South and in promoting goals other than profitability including Islamic finance microfinancing savings banks and cooperatives Making a distinctive contribution to our understanding of global finance and global governance Transnational Financial Associations and the Governance of Global Finance is an important book for students and scholars of international political economy finance global governance and international relations Industrial Relations Around the World Miriam Rothman, Dennis R. Coates,2005-01-25

Though the emerging sub discipline of comparative political economy is now rich in studies of different advanced capitalisms it still lacks a systematic consideration of the organizing frameworks and methodologies underpinning those studies This definitive volume outlines the two great debates currently shaping the analysis of advanced capitalism It makes the case for a greater awareness of underlying theoretical issues in the design of empirical research and demonstrates the value of exploring the interconnections between competing intellectual approaches Pathways to Industrialization and Regional Development Allen J. Scott,Michael Storper,2005-09-27

The paradigm of mass production has given way to radically new forms of organizing industrial production based primarily on the need to foster continuous redesign of products and processes in the face of intensified competition This change which is designed to engender continuous adaptive learning in production systems requires considerable organizational flexibility The mass production systems constructed in the early post war period foundered in the face of new forms of competition which put a premium on learning and flexibility

Environment & Planning ,2004 Cities in Contemporary Europe Arnaldo Bagnasco,Patrick Le Galès,2000-05-11

European cities are at the centre of social political and economic changes in Western Europe This book proposes a new research agenda in urban sociology and politics applying primarily to European cities in particular those that together make up the urban structure of Europe a fabric of older cities of over 100 000 inhabitants regional capitals and smaller state capitals The contributors develop an analytical framework which views cities as local societies and as collective factors and site for modes of governance The three parts of the book examine the economics of cities the social structures and the modes and processes of governance Each chapter comprises a comparison across several countries and examines critically the book's central theoretical perspective This is not a book about the making of a Europe of cities but rather about how some cities can take advantage of their changing global and European environment
