Reimagining The Death Of The Lukan Jesus:

Reimagining the Death of the Lukan Jesus Dennis D. Sylva, 1990      The New Testament in Its First Century Setting Bruce W. Winter, 2004      The Acts of the Apostles David Peterson, 2009-04-15 Peterson focuses on how Luke framed his narrative and speeches as well as his theology demonstrating that Acts was written for Christian edification and to encourage mission      The Atonement in Lukan Theology John Kimbell, 2014-10-02 In the past century of critical scholarship on Luke Acts it has become commonplace to affirm that Luke attaches no direct soteriological value to the death of Jesus More specifically the scholarly consensus affirms that Luke Acts does not present Jesus death as an atonement for sin Rather Luke s soteriology is understood to center upon Jesus resurrection and exaltation as Lord In this careful thematic study of atonement theology in Luke s double work John Kimbell demonstrates that the value Luke attributes to the death of Christ has been underestimated When all the data is considered the death of Christ is given greater direct soteriological significance in the Lukan writings than scholarship has generally acknowledged Specifically the death of Jesus is portrayed by Luke as an atoning death that brings about the forgiveness of sins This book does not deny the presence of other soteriological emphases Nevertheless it convincingly shows that atonement theology plays a fundamental role in Luke s soteriology such that when this aspect is rejected or minimized Luke s presentation of the cross and salvation is significantly distorted Kimbell carefully interacts with the scholarly secondary literature on this subject ensuring that any serious Christian reader will find this work stimulating and useful Detailed exegesis is paired with careful attention to Luke s overall theological purposes The result is that the reader will come away with a clearer understanding of Luke s writings and a deeper appreciation for the meaning of Christ s death      The Lukan Passion Narrative Jay M. Harrington, 2000-01-01 This volume offers a detailed chronological and systematic history of the debate surrounding Luke s use of Mark s Gospel and special sources in a section of the passion narrative concluding with an exegesis of Lk 23 6 16 as a testing ground of material derived from the survey An extensive bibliography and useful appendices round out the volume      The Davidic Messiah in Luke-Acts Mark L. Strauss, 1995-03-01 The nature of Lukan christology has been much debated in recent years with scholars claiming the pre eminence of such categories as Lord Prophet Christ or Isaianic Servant In the present work the author examines one major theme within Luke s christology that of the coming king from the line of David A study of the Lukan birth narrative and the speeches in Acts reveals that Luke shows a strong interest in this royal messianic theme introducing it into passages which are introductory and programmatic for his christology as a sermon portraying Jesus in strongly prophetic terms The author seeks a synthesis of these seemingly conflicting royal and prophetic portraits in Luke s interpretation of the Old Testament book of Isaiah When Isaiah is read as a unity the eschatological deliverer is at the same time Davidic king Isa 9 11 suffering servant of Yahweh Isa 42 53 and prophet herald of salvation Isa 61 leading God s people on an eschatological new exodus On the basis of this synthesis the christology of Luke Acts is seen to be both consistent and unified forming an integral part of Luke's wider purpose in his two volume work The Lukan Passion Narrative. The Markan Material in Luke 22,54 - 23,25 Revd Jay M. Harrington, 2019-07-01 This study traces the debate surrounding Luke's use of the Gospel of Mark and special sources such as Proto Luke in a section of the passion narrative Lk 22 54 23 25 The survey covers roughly the period from the 1880 s to 1997 Part I details the development from P Feine to the 1960 s Part II begins with G Schneider continuing up through 1997 In treating each scholar's position the author reviews their underlying Synoptic theory their source theory in the passion in general then the trial of Pilate and finally the trial before Herod Part III is devoted to an interpretation of Lk 23 6 16 Part IV contains the list of abbreviations the bibliography and three appendices 1 Special LQ vocabulary and constructions according to J Weiss 2 Lukan priority theories and 3 the Gospel of Peter and its relation to the Herod pericope Part IV concludes with the name index The Lukan Passion Narrative will be particularly useful to those concerned with Luke's redactional technique Source theories Minor Agreements and the history of exegesis Through Many Tribulations Scott Cunningham, 1997-11-01 This book the first comprehensive study of persecution in Luke Acts from a literary and theological perspective argues that the author uses the theme of persecution in pursuit of his theological agenda It brings to the surface six theological functions of the persecution theme which has an important paraenetic and especially apologetic role for Luke's persecuted community The persecution Luke's readers suffer is evidence that they are legitimate recipients of God's salvific blessings The Trial of the Gospel Alexandru Neagoe, 2002-05-16 For many years Luke Acts has been studied as a work of history and theology The Trial of the Gospel sets out to examine Luke's writings as an apologetic work by focusing on those parts of Luke's story where the apologetic overtones seem most prominent the trial narratives By analysing the trials of all major Lukan characters Jesus Peter Stephen and Paul Alexandru Neagoe argues that the narratives are best understood when viewed as part of Luke's apologia pro evangelio a purpose which is in keeping with the author's declared aim to give his readers assurance about the matters in which they had been instructed Luke 1 4 Neagoe concludes that the specific role of the trial narratives is to provide the framework within which important tenets of the Christian faith are themselves put on trial before the reader with the intended result of the gospel's confirmation The Gospel and the Gospels Simon J. Gathercole, 2022-08-11 A robust scholarly defense of the distinctiveness of the canonical Gospels Do the four New Testament gospels share some essence that distinguishes them from noncanonical early Gospels The tendency among biblical scholars of late has been to declare the answer to this question no that Matthew Mark Luke and John were grouped together by happenstance and are defended as canonical today despite there being no essential commonalities between them Simon Gathercole challenges this prevailing view and argues that in fact the theological content of the New Testament Gospels distinguishes them substantially from noncanonical Gospels Gathercole shows how the Gospels of Matthew Mark Luke and John each include four key points that also formed the core of early Christian preaching and teaching Jesus's identity as messiah the saving death of Jesus the resurrection of Jesus and Scripture's foretelling of the Christ event In contrast most noncanonical Gospels like the Gospel of Thomas the Gospel of Truth and Marcion's Gospel only selectively appropriated these central concerns of early Christian proclamation

Who Are the Righteous? Denise Powell, 2021-09-28 Who is righteous and how one becomes righteous is a question often debated in Pauline studies but rarely explored in the Gospels In this book Denise Powell investigates Luke's answer to the question by tracing his righteous characters sequentially through the Gospel narrative By portraying Zechariah and Elizabeth Mary Simeon and Anna as righteous at the beginning of the narrative Luke establishes the characteristics of the righteous As a result of the primacy effect these birth narrative characters become the standard against which the righteous nature of subsequent characters is measured This leads to uncertainty over who belongs in the category of the righteous when later stories contrast an ostensibly righteous character with a sinner The increasing uncertainty over who belongs in which category functions as the backdrop for the centurion's declaration that Jesus is righteous By way of the sword discourse of 22:35-38 and the subsequent arrest scene Jesus intentionally places himself in the sinner category in fulfilment of Scripture Since Jesus has placed himself in solidarity with sinners and they with him the centurion's declaration that Jesus is righteous has implications for all the sinners in the Lukan story

Scripture and Theology Tomas Bokedal, Ludger Jansen, Michael Borowski, 2023-08-21 The academic disciplines of Biblical Studies and Systematic Theology were long closely linked to one another However in the modern period they became gradually separated which led to increasing subject specialization but also to a lamentable lacuna within the various branches of Divinity As the lack of dialogue between Biblical Studies and the various theological disciplines increased a minority group of scholars in the past few decades reacted and sought to re-establish the time honoured bonds between the disciplines The present volume is part of this intellectual response with contributions from scholars of various professional and denominational backgrounds Together the book's 25 chapters seek to reinvigorate the crucial cross disciplinary dialogue involving biblical narrative historical systematic theological and philosophic theological perspectives The book opens the horizon to contemporary research and fills a lamentable research gap with a number of fresh contributions from scholars in the respective sub disciplines

Suffering in Ancient Worldview Brian J. Tabb, 2017-04-20 Suffering in Ancient Worldview investigates representative Christian Roman Stoic and Jewish perspectives on the nature problem and purpose of suffering Tabb presents a close reading of Acts Seneca's essays and letters and 4 Maccabees highlighting how each author understands suffering vis vis God humanity the world's problem and its solution and the future Tabb's study offers a pivotal definition for suffering in the 1st century and concludes by creatively situating these ancient authors in dialogue with each other Tabb shows that despite their different religious and cultural positions these ancient authors each expect and accept suffering as a present reality that is governed by divine providence however defined Luke Seneca and the author of 4 Maccabees each affirm that suffering is not humanity's fundamental problem Rather suffering functions as a cipher for other things to be displayed For Seneca suffering provides an opportunity for one to learn and show virtue The author of 4 Maccabees presents the nation's suffering as retribution for sin while the martyrs' virtuous suffering leads to Israel's salvation For Luke the Lord Jesus suffers to accomplish salvation and restoration for the world marred by sin and suffering and the suffering of his followers is instrumental for Christian mission     Luke the Theologian François Bovon, 2006 In this completely revised and updated edition François Bovon provides a critical assessment of the last fifty-five years of scholarship on Luke Acts The study divides thematically with individual chapters covering the subjects of history and eschatology the role of the Old Testament Christology the Holy Spirit conversion and the church Each chapter begins with a consideration of the exegetical and theological problems unique to each theme in Luke Acts before providing a detailed survey and critique of contemporary English German French Spanish and Italian New Testament scholarship     Is Forgiveness Possible? Joan Mueller, 1998 Forgiveness is essential to Christian life and holiness yet in some instances it seems impossible Is Forgiveness Possible a pastoral and theological introduction to forgiveness based on Luke 23 and Acts 7 explores the theological foundations of such dilemmas As forgiveness and reconciliation become common themes in world affairs a detailed theology of forgiveness becomes increasingly important

Interweaving Innocence Heather M. Gorman, 2016-12-29 In this study Heather Gorman analyses Luke's portrayal of Jesus' death in light of the ancient rhetorical tradition particularly the progymnasmata and the rhetorical handbooks In addition to providing a detailed up-to-date exegetical study of Luke 22:66-23:49 she argues three things First through the strategic placement of rhetorical figures and the use of common topics associated with refutation and confirmation Luke structures his passion narrative as a debate about Jesus' innocence which suggests that one of Luke's primary concerns is to portray Jesus as politically innocent Second ancient examples of synkrisis suggest that part of the purpose of Luke's characterisation of Jesus in the passion narrative especially when set in parallel to Paul and Stephen in Acts was to set up Jesus as a model for his followers lest they face similar persecution or death Finally Luke's special material and his variations from Mark are explicable in terms of ancient compositional techniques especially paraphrase and narration and thus recourse to a special Passion Source is unnecessary     The Trial Narratives Matthew L. Skinner, 2010-01-01 In this careful analysis Matthew Skinner explores the trial narratives of Jesus Paul Stephen and others in the Gospels and Acts who found themselves brought before powerful individuals and groups often with deadly consequences His close study of these texts is essential for those interested in the early church's relationship to the sociopolitical structures in which Christian belief emerged He shows how the narratives helped shape early Christian identity as these communities sought to understand both the political implications of the emerging Christian gospel as well as the dangers and opportunities their sociopolitical context presented He also reflects on the theological resources and paradigms these texts offer to Christians today     Echoes of Scripture in Luke-Acts Kenneth D. Litwak, 2005-03-07 Litwak challenges previous studies of the use of the Old Testament in Luke Acts as inadequate In contrast to previous studies that consider only quotations or obvious allusions he examines intertextual echoes of the Old Testament at strategic points in Luke Acts as well as quotations and allusions and echoed traditions Thus this study s database is larger Previous studies generally argue that Luke s use of the Scriptures is in the service of christology This leads to the exclusion of scriptural citations such as those of the temptation Luke 4 1 13 which have different emphases Litwak views ecclesiology as the overall purpose behind Luke s use of the Old Testament but he does not skip or avoid intertextual references that may lie outside an ecclesiological function Whilst other studies contend that Luke uses the Old Testament according to a promise fulfillment proof form prophecy hermeneutic Litwak argues that this fails to account for many of the intertextual references Other studies often subsume all of Luke s use of the Scriptures of Israel under one theme such as the New Exodus but this study does not require that every intertextual echo maps to a specific theme Rather the many intertextual references in strategic texts at the beginning middle and end of Luke Acts and Luke s use of the texts are allowed to dictate the themes to which they relate JSNTS 282      David in Luke-Acts Yuzuru Miura,2007 Revision of the author s thesis doctoral University of Aberdeen 2005      The Gospel of Luke Joel B. Green,1997-10-02 This highly original commentary part of the New International Commentary is unique for the way it combines concerns with first century culture in the Roman world with understanding the text of Luke as a wholistic historical narrative
