Religion Agency Restitution:

Possession Craig E. Stephenson, 2012-12-06 This illuminating study addressed both to readers new to Jung and to those already familiar with his work offers fresh insights into a fundamental concept of analytical psychology Anatomizing Jung's concept of possession reinvests Jungian psychotherapy with its positive potential for practice Analogizing the concept lining it up comparatively beside the history of religion anthropology psychiatry and even drama and film criticism offers not a naive syncretism but enlightening possibilities along the borders of these diverse disciplines An original wide ranging exploration of phenomena both ancient and modern this book offers a conceptual bridge between psychology and anthropology it challenges psychiatry to culturally contextualize its diagnostic manual and it posits a much more fluid pluralistic and embodied notion of selfhood

Cosmologies of Suffering Agita Lūse, 2009-01-14 The edited volume elaborates on a range of themes that emerged during a workshop of the 8th biennial of the European Association of Social Anthropologists in Vienna in 2004 Among these themes are the paradoxical permanence of transition in post communist countries the accompanying persistence of social suffering and the structural conditions that give rise to it A final theme focuses on the resources that people mobilize to cope with suffering and trauma Ways of coping manifest a stance towards agency shared by sufferers from diverse post communist regions such as ethnically divided Croatia politically and economically unstable Zimbabwe relatively more peaceful countries such as Hungary Poland and Slovenia and finally two religiously unique areas in Siberia Russia Ethnographic accounts from these diverse settings testify that agency has often involved relinquishing reliance on one's self and turning towards a power higher than the self whether this is conceptualized through the lens of transcendence religion or cosmology

Religion and Law in Serbia Marko Nikolić, Vladimir Davidović†, Darko Tanasković, Mileta Radojević†, 2024-04-17 Derived from the renowned multi volume International Encyclopaedia of Laws this convenient resource provides systematic information on how Serbia deals with the role religion plays or can play in society the legal status of religious communities and institutions and the legal interaction among religion culture education and media After a general introduction describing the social and historical background the book goes on to explain the legal framework in which religion is approached Coverage proceeds from the principle of religious freedom through the rights and contractual obligations of religious communities international transnational and regional law effects and the legal parameters affecting the influence of religion in politics and public life Also covered are legal positions on religion in such specific fields as church financing labour and employment and matrimonial and family law A clear and comprehensive overview of relevant legislation and legal doctrine make the book an invaluable reference source and very useful guide Succinct and practical this book will prove to be of great value to practitioners in the myriad instances where a law related religious interest arises in Serbia Academics and researchers will appreciate its value as a thorough but concise treatment of the legal aspects of diversity and multiculturalism in which religion plays such an important part

Text.

Context and Performance James A. Kapalo, 2011-09-23 This ethnographic study of Gagauz religion offers an original perspective on folk religion as discourse and object of study It is also the first monograph published in a Western language on this little known European people's history and culture

Ancestor Worship and the Elite in Late Iron Age Scandinavia Triin Laidoner, 2020-01-14 Ancestor worship is often assumed by contemporary European audiences to be an outdated and primitive tradition with little relevance to our societies past and present This book questions that assumption and seeks to determine whether ancestor ideology was an integral part of religion in Viking Age and early medieval Scandinavia The concept is examined from a broad socio anthropological perspective which is used to structure a set of case studies which analyse the cults of specific individuals in Old Norse literature The situation of gods in Old Norse religion has been almost exclusively addressed in isolation from these socio anthropological perspectives The public gravemound cults of deceased rulers are discussed conventionally as cases of sacral kingship and more recently religious ruler ideology both are seen as having divine associations in Old Norse scholarship Building on the anthropological framework this study introduces the concept of superior ancestors employed in social anthropology to denote a form of political ancestor worship used to regulate social structure deliberately It suggests that Old Norse ruler ideology was based on conventional and widely recognised religious practices revolving around kinship and ancestors and that the gods were perceived as human ancestors belonging to elite families

Recognition of Religion or Belief (RoRB) Cometan, 2022-06-29 Recognition of Religion or Belief presents a global overview of the systems laws and mechanisms states have established to recognise religions and beliefs and to legally register their affiliated organisations Recognition of Religion or Belief is the first book of its kind to dedicate its contents to the recognition and registration issues especially how they intersect with religious freedom conditions around the world The book provides an analysis of the most up to date data on the recognition systems and registration procedures of every country and territory on the planet using terminology derived from Cometan's doctoral research forming his upcoming thesis titled Religious Freedom State Recognition of Belief to which Recognition of Religion or Belief acts as both a compliment and precursor

Cosmos, Gods and Madmen Roland Littlewood, Rebecca Lynch, 2016-06-01 The social anthropology of sickness and health has always been concerned with religious cosmologies how societies make sense of such issues as prediction and control of misfortune and fate the malevolence of others the benevolence or otherwise of the mystical world local understanding and explanations of the natural and ultra human worlds This volume presents differing categorizations and conflicts that occur as people seek to make sense of suffering and their experiences Cosmologies whether incorporating the divine or as purely secular lead us to interpret human action and the human constitution its ills and its healing and in particular ways which determine and limit our very possibilities

Challenge and Conformity Lindsey Taylor-Guthartz, 2021-03-01 Orthodox Jewish women are increasingly seeking new ways to express themselves religiously and important changes have occurred in consequence in their self definition and the part they play in the religious life of their communities Drawing on surveys and interviews across different Orthodox groups in London as well as on the author's own experience of active participation over many years this is a thoroughly researched study that analyses its findings in the context of related developments in Israel and the USA Sympathetic attention is given to women's creativity and sophistication as they struggle to develop new modes of expression that will let their voices be heard at the same time the inevitable points of conflict with the male dominated religious establishment are examined and explained There is a focus too on the impact of innovations in ritual these include not only the creation of women only spaces and women's participation in public practices traditionally reserved for men but also new personal practices often acquired on study visits to Israel which are replacing traditions learned from family members This is a much needed study of how new norms of lived religion have emerged in London influenced by both the rise of feminism and the backlash against it and also by women's new understanding of their religious roles

Pathologies of the West Roland Littlewood, 2002 Psychiatry conventionally regards spirit possession and dramatic healing rituals in non European societies as forms of abnormality if not mental illness Roland Littlewood a psychiatrist and social anthropologist argues that it is necessary to take into account both social process and personal cultural meaning when explaining psychiatric illness and deviant behavior Littlewood brings anthropological and psychiatric literature to bear on case studies of self poisoning agoraphobia hysteria chronic fatigue syndrome post traumatic stress male sexual violence and eating disorders He contends that Western psychiatric illnesses are themselves possession states patterns by which individual agency is displaced through an idiom of alien intrusion whether of a spirit or a disease Pathologies of the West is simultaneously an original approach to psychiatric illness in its international perspective and an introduction to recent developments in the social anthropology of medicine It examines critically the relevance of phenomenological structural and ethological approaches to understanding extreme personal experience Littlewood argues that anthropology must not simply provide a cultural alternative to sociological critiques of medicine psychiatry itself should take into account the ways in which cultural values are acted out by individuals Annual Report on International Religious Freedom 2004, November 2004, 108-2 Joint Committee Print, S. Prt. 108-59, *, 2005

Bibliographie Internationale D'anthropologie, 2002-12 IBSS is the essential tool for librarians university departments research institutions and any public or private institution whose work requires access to up to date and comprehensive knowledge of the social sciences

The Varieties of Religious Repression Ani Sarkissian, 2015 The Varieties of Religious Repression argues that seemingly benign regulations and restrictions on religion are tools that non democratic leaders use to repress independent civic activity effectively maintaining their hold on power Ani Sarkissian examines the interaction of political competition and the structure of religious divisions in society presenting a theory of the variances of religious repression across non democratic regimes

Changing Sex and Bending Gender Alison Shaw, Shirley Ardener, 2005 Anthropologists and historians have shown us that male and female are variously defined historically and cross culturally The contributions to this volume focus on the voluntary and involuntary temporary or permanent transformation of gender identity Overall this volume provides powerful and compelling illustrations of how across a wide range of cultures processes of gender transformation are shaped within and ultimately constrained by social and political context From medical responses to biological ambiguity legal responses to cases brought by transsexuals the historical role of the eunuch in Byzantium the social transformation of gender in Northern Albania and in the Southern Philippines to North American drag shows English pantomime and Japanese kabuki theatre this volume offers revealing insights into the ambiguities and limitations of gender transformation
