Religion, Identity and Human Security Giorgio Shani,2014-04-03 Religion Identity and Human Security seeks to demonstrate that a major source of human insecurity comes from the failure of states around the world to recognize the increasing cultural diversity of their populations which has resulted from globalization Shani begins by setting out the theoretical foundations dealing with the transformative effects of globalization on identity violence and security The second part of the volume then draws on different cases of sites of human insecurity around the globe to develop these ideas examining themes such as securitization of religious symbols retreat from multiculturalism rise of exclusivist ethno religious identities post 9 11 state religion colonization and the racialization of migration Highlighting that religion can be a source of both human security and insecurity in a globalizing world Shani offers a critical human security paradigm that seeks to de secularize the individual by recognizing the culturally contested and embedded nature of human identities The work argues that religion serves an important role in re embedding individuals deracinated from their communities by neo liberal globalization and will be of interest to students of International Relations Security Studies and Religion and Politics

Ginkel, Hendrika Lena Murre-van den Berg, Theo Maarten van Lint, 2005 Cultural interaction in the Middle East since the Rise of Islam such was the title of a combined research project of the Universities of Leiden and Groningen aimed at describing the various ways in which the Christian communities of the Middle East expressed their distinct cultural identity in Muslim societies As part of the project the symposium Redefining Christian Identity Christian cultural strategies since the rise of Islam took place at Groningen University on April 7 10 1999 This book contains the proceedings of this conference From the articles it becomes clear that a number of distinct cultural strategies can be identified some of which were used very frequently others only in certain groups or at particular periods of time The three main strategies that are represented in the papers of this volume are i reinterpretation of the pre Islamic Christian heritage ii inculturation of elements from the new Islamic context iii isolation from the Islamic context Viewed in time it is clear that the reinterpretation of older Christian heritage was particularly important in the first two centuries after the rise of Islam the seventh and eighth centuries that inculturation was the dominant theme of the Abbasid period in the ninth to twelfth centuries whereas from the Mongol period onwards from the Davies, Michael J.
