Religion And Peacebuilding:

The Role of Religion in Peacebuilding Pauline Kollontai, Sue Yore, Sebastian Kim, 2017-12-14 The question who is my neighbour challenges the way we see ourselves as well as the way we see others Especially in situations where we feel conflicted between our own self identity and common identity within a wider society Historically religion has contributed to this inner conflict by creating us versus them mentalities Challenging this traditional view this volume examines how religions and religious communities can use their resources methodology and praxis to encourage peace making The book is divided into two parts the first includes sources theories and methodologies of crossing boundaries of prejudice and distrust from the perspectives of theology and religious studies The second includes case studies of theory and practice to challenge prejudice and distrust in a conflict or post conflict situation The chapters are written by scholars religious leaders and faith motivated peace practitioners from various global contexts to create a diverse academic study of religious peace building

Making Peace with Faith Michelle Garred, Mohammed Abu-Nimer, 2018 Although religion is almost never a root cause it often gets pulled into conflict as a powerful element especially where conflicting parties have different religious identities Every faith tradition offers resources for peace and secular policy makers are more and more acknowledging the influence of faith based actors even though there remains a tendency to associate religion more with conflict than peace In this text practitioners from different faiths relate and explore the many challenges they face in their peacebuilding work which their secular partners may be unaware of The contributors are all practitioners whose faith or religious experience motivates their work for peace and justice in such a way that it influences their actions Their roles are diverse as some work for faith based institutions while others engage in secular contexts The multiple perspectives featured represent multiple faiths Muslim Christian Hindu Buddhist Jewish diverse scopes of practice different geographic regions Each chapter follows a similar template to address specific challenges such as dealing with extremist views addressing negative stereotypes about one's faith endorsing violence developing relations with other faith based or secular groups confronting gender based violence and working with people who hold different beliefs In this text practitioners from different faiths relate and explore the many challenges they face in their peacebuilding work which their secular partners may be unaware of They provide a comprehensive view of the practice of peacebuilding in its many challenging aspects for both professionals and those studying religion and peacebuilding alike Each chapter follows a similar template to address specific challenges such as dealing with extremist views addressing negative stereotypes about one's faith endorsing violence developing relations with other faith based or secular groups confronting gender based violence and working with people who hold different beliefs In this text practitioners from different faiths relate and explore the many challenges they face in their peacebuilding work which their secular partners may be unaware of They provide a comprehensive view of the practice of peacebuilding in its many challenging aspects for both professionals and those studying religion and peacebuilding alike Each chapter follows a similar template to address specific challenges such as dealing with extremist views addressing negative stereotypes about one's faith endorsing violence developing relations with other faith based or secular groups confronting gender based violence and working with people who hold different beliefs In this text practitioners from different faiths relate and explore the many challenges they face in their peacebuilding work which their secular partners may be unaware of They provide a comprehensive view of the practice of peacebuilding in its many challenging aspects for both professionals and those studying religion and peacebuilding alike

Decolonizing Religion and Peacebuilding Atalia Omer, 2020-08-18 An investigation of what consolidating religion as a technology of peacebuilding and development does to people's accounts of their religious and cultural traditions and why interreligious peacebuilding entrenches colonial legacies in the present Throughout the global south local and international organizations are frequent participants in peacebuilding projects that focus on interreligious dialogue Yet as Atalia Omer argues in Decolonizing Religion and Peacebuilding the effects of their efforts are often perverse reinforcing neocolonial practices and disempowering local religious actors Based on empirical research of inter and intra religious peacebuilding practices in Kenya and the Philippines Omer identifies two paradoxical findings first religious peacebuilding practices are both empowering and depoliticizing and second more doing of religion does not necessarily denote deeper or more critical religious literacy Further she shows that these religious actors generate decolonial openings regardless of how closed or open their religious communities are Hence religion s occasional usefulness in peacebuilding does not necessarily mean justice oriented outcomes The book not only uses decolonial and intersectional prisms to expose the entrenched and ongoing colonial dynamics operative in religion and the practices of peacebuilding and development in the global South but it also speaks to decolonial theory through stories of transformation and survival

Evaluating Interreligious Peacebuilding and Dialogue Mohammed Abu-Nimer, Renáta Katalin Nelson, 2021-09-20 In the emerging fields of religious and interreligious peacebuilding the question of monitoring and evaluation is a challenging yet necessary process The need to develop comprehensive yet fitting evaluation models for religious and interreligious peacebuilding is not only important for donor interests but also critical as a means of documenting and learning for peacebuilders themselves Theories and best practices in monitoring and evaluation have become prevalent in many fields yet the amount of literature on evaluating intercultural and especially religious and interreligious projects remains scant in comparison This volume offers a unique contribution that not only looks at several of the challenges and implications faced by religious and interreligious peacebuilders but also provides concrete examples of new models and tools for monitoring and evaluating religious and interreligious peacebuilding projects In doing so this volume serves as a tool and point of reference for individuals and organizations developing and implementing interreligious dialogue and peacebuilding projects

Peacemaking in International Conflict I. William Zartman, 2007 This updated and expanded edition of the highly popular volume originally published in 1997 describes the tools and skills of peacemaking that are currently available and critically assesses their usefulness and limitations

Women, Religion, and Peacebuilding Katherine Marshall, Susan Hayward, 2015 Women Religion and Peacebuilding Illuminating the Unseen examines the obstacles and opportunities that women religious peace builders face as they navigate both the complex conflicts they are seeking to resolve and the power dynamics in the institutions they must deal with in order to accomplish their goals

The Palgrave Handbook of Religion, Peacebuilding, and Development in Africa Susan M. Kilonzo, Ezra Chitando, Joram Tarusarira, 2023-10-17 This Handbook explores the ways in which religion among the African people has been applied in situations of conflict and violence to contribute to sustainable peace and development It analyzes how peacebuilding inspired and enabled by religion serves as the foundation for sustainable development in Africa while also acknowledging that religion can also be a tool of destruction and can be used to fuel violence and underdevelopment Contributors to this volume offer theoretical discussions from existing literature as well as experiences of practitioners to deepen the readers understanding on the role of religion and religious institutions in peacebuilding and development in Africa The Handbook provides reflections on possible future developments as well thereby aligning with the goals of SDG 16

Religious Contributions to Peacemaking David R. Smock,2006

The Complex Reality of Religious Peacebuilding Katrien Hertog,2010-08-20 This insightful book focuses on the multifaceted subject of sustainable religious peacebuilding Katrien Hertog discusses the ways in which religious actors can utilize resources to prevent violent conflict from occurring reduce conflict when it does happen and rebuild bridges between sides in after conflict has ceased She examines the emergence of the field of religious peacebuilding developing a conceptual framework that outlines how aspects of religious organizations can contribute to effectual peacebuilding and creating a screening model that allows readers to analyze the resources and obstacles to peacebuilding in depth Using the Russia and the Orthodox Church as a major case study Hertog clearly shows what the concrete resources for peace are how they are applied what obstacles are hindering their realization and how these resources can be better utilized and supported This book tackles the controversial issue of the place of religion and religious organizations in the peace process While recognizing that no simple answer exists in solving ethnic religious and tribal conflict Hertog presents the ways religion can be used to create lasting sustainable peace Peace on Earth Thomas Matyók, Maureen Flaherty, Hamdesa Tusso, Jessica Senehi, Sean Byrne, 2013-12-16 Peace on Earth The Role of Religion in Peace and Conflict Studies provides a critical analysis of faith and religious institutions in peacebuilding practice and pedagogy The work captures the synergistic relationships among faith traditions and how multiple approaches to conflict transformation and peacebuilding result in a creative process that has the potential to achieve a more detailed view of peace on earth containing breadth as well as depth Library and bookstore shelves are filled with critiques of the negative impacts of religion in conflict scenarios Peace on Earth The Role of Religion in Peace and Conflict Studies offers an alternate view that suggests religious organizations play a more complex role in conflict than a simply negative one Faith based organizations and their workers are often found on the frontlines of conflict throughout the world conducting conflict management and resolution activities as well as advancing peacebuilding initiatives

Schwarz, 2018-03-23 How do faith based organizations influence the work of transnational peacebuilding development and human rights advocacy How is the political role of such organizations informed by their religious ideas and practices This book investigates this set of questions by examining how three transnational faith based organizations Religions for Peace the Taiz Community and International Justice Mission conceptualize their own religious practices values and identities and how those acts and ideas inform their political goals and strategies The book demonstrates the political importance of prayer in the work of transnational faith based organizations specifically in areas of conflict resolution post conflict integration agenda setting and in constituting narratives about justice and reconciliation It also evaluates the distinctive strategies that faith based organizations employ to navigate religious difference A central goal of the book is to propose a new way to study religion in international politics by actively questioning and reflecting on what it means for an act idea or community to be religious Peace, Politics, and Religion Jeffrey Haynes, 2020 Relationships between peace politics and religion are often controversial and sometimes problematic Religion is a core source of identity for billions of people around the world and it is hardly surprising that sometimes it becomes involved in conflicts At the same time we can see religion involved not only in conflict It is also central to conflict resolution peace making and peacebuilding Religious involvement is often necessary to try to end hatred and differences frequently central to political conflicts especially but not only in the Global South Evidence shows that religious leaders and faith based organisations can play constructive roles in helping to end violence and in some cases build peace via early warnings of conflict good offices once conflict has erupted as well as advocacy mediation and reconciliation The chapters of this book highlight that religion can encourage both conflict and peace through the activities of people individually and collectively imbued with religious ideas and ideals

The Role of Religion in Peacebuilding and Conflict Transformation Annemarie Schlack, 2009 Until recently religion tended to be either neglected in research in international affairs or perceived as cause or pretext for conflict This monograph discusses the beneficial potential of the factor religion that should be considered in international relations as well as at the local level An analysis of literature and interviews with individuals engaged in interfaith activities in the UK have produced first hand insight into the agendas of the different players in interfaith activities and into the functions of interfaith organisations These organisations contribute in several ways to the common goal of a more tolerant and less violent society and add value to community regeneration and the neighbourhood renewal programs The analysis should be especially useful to professionals in the field of peacebuilding and conflict prevention
