Colonizing Bodies Mary-Ellen Kelm, 1998 Recent debates about the health of First Nations peoples have drawn a flurry of public attention and controversy and have placed the relationship between Aboriginal well being and reserve locations and allotments in the spotlight Aboriginal access to medical care and the transfer of funds and responsibility for health from the federal government to individual bands and tribal councils are also bones of contention Comprehensive discussion of such issues however has often been hampered by a lack of historical analysis Colonizing Bodies examines the impact of colonization on Aboriginal health in British Columbia during the first half of the twentieth century Mary Ellen Kelm explores how Aboriginal bodies were materially affected by Canadian Indian policy which placed restrictions on fishing and hunting allocated inadequate reserves forced children into unhealthy residential schools and criminalized Indigenous healing She goes on to consider how humanitarianism and colonial medicine were used to pathologize Aboriginal bodies and institute a regime of doctors hospitals and field matrons all working to encourage assimilation Finally Kelm reveals how Aboriginal people were able to resist and alter these forces in order to preserve their own cultural understanding of their bodies disease and medicine

The Intimacy of Images Myriam Lamrani, 2025 It's been said that Oaxacans believe in images Visual manifestations of saints and loved ones are a fundamental part of life there Oaxacans also seem to have a special relationship with La Santa Muerte a female reaper like figure whose cult has grown rapidly as violence in Mexico has increased In this book Myriam Lamrani recontextualizes Santa Muerte within Mexican Catholicism by looking at how intimately devotees interact with images including effigies tattoos artworks photographs even dreams of the infamous saint For Lamrani focusing on the intimate modalities through which people interact with their images offers insight into religious social and political life as well as anthropology itself The media turn in anthropology often considers religion as mediation and media as a bridge with the divine Lamrani suggests that it is intimacy with rather than mediation through such images that make the dead be they former humans loved ones or divine entities Santa Muerte present for the living She is essentially using aesthetics and affect theory to make intimacy her theoretical frame rather than visual analysis or the media turn The manuscript has six chapters divided into three sections The first section explores what constitutes an image how to move beyond the idea of it as medium and how dreams play into these ideas Part two unpacks her ideas about intimacy particularly devotional intimacy and the very special dead loved ones and saints The final section covers how images transcend boundaries through different scales of intimacy from an individual's devotion to their ofrenda altar to the Mexican nation's famously intimate relationship with death A conclusion reflects on devotion to Santa Muerte in Mexico within the landscape of popular religion and political unrest and summarizes the central argument of this book that intimacy understood as a scalable index of closeness which traverses all spheres of sociality is an anthropological tool to make sense of how people understand their worlds Holocaust Images and Picturing Catastrophe Angi

Buettner, 2016-12-05 Holocaust Images and Picturing Catastrophe explores the phenomenon of Holocaust transfer analysing the widespread practice of using the Holocaust and its imagery for the representation and recording of other historical events in various media sites It investigates the use of Holocaust imagery in political and legal discourses in critical thinking and philosophy as well as in popular culture to provide a fresh theorisation of the manner in which the Holocaust comes loose from its historical context and is applied to events and campaigns in the contemporary public sphere Richly illustrated with concrete examples including prominent international animal rights activism the Israeli Palestinian conflict and the genocide in Rwanda this book traces the visual rhetoric of Holocaust imagery and its application to events other than the genocide of Jewish people With its discussion of the wide range of issues arising with this form of Holocaust transfer the generalization of the Holocaust as a metaphor in representations of catastrophe as well as in other cultural locations Holocaust Images and Picturing Catastrophe will appeal to those working in the fields of holocaust studies cultural and visual culture studies sociology and media studies Assessment of Projectile Shatter Using Digital Image Processing Techniques James D.

Imagining Emperors in the Later

Roman Empire ,2018-07-10 Imagining Emperors in the Later Roman Empire offers new analysis of the textual depictions of a series of emperors in the fourth century within overlapping historical religious and literary contexts Drawing on the recent Representational Turn in the study of imperial power these essays examine how literary authors working in various genres both Latin and Greek and of differing religious affiliations construct and manipulate the depiction of a series of emperors from the late third to the late fourth centuries CE In a move away from traditional source criticism this volume opens up new methodological approaches to chart intellectual and literary history during a critical century for the ancient Mediterranean world T. S. Eliot's Dialectical Imagination Jewel Spears Brooker,2018-11-15 What principles connect and what distinctions separate The Love Song of J Alfred Prufrock The Waste Land and Four Quartets The thought tormented characters in T S Eliot s early poetry are paralyzed by the gap between mind and body thought and action The need to address this impasse is part of what drew Eliot to philosophy and the failure of philosophy to appease his disquiet is the reason he gave for abandoning it In T S Eliot s Dialectical Imagination Jewel Spears Brooker argues that two of the principles that Eliot absorbed as a PhD student at Harvard and Oxford were to become permanent features of his mind grounding his lifelong quest for wholeness and underpinning most of his subsequent poetry The first principle is that contradictions are best understood dialectically by moving to perspectives that both include and transcend them The second is that all truths exist in relation to other truths Together or in tandem these two principles dialectic and relativism constitute the basis of a continual reshaping of Eliot s imagination The dialectic serves as a kinetic principle undergirding his impulse to move forward by looping back and the relativism supports his ingrained ambivalence Brooker considers Eliot s poetry in three blocks each represented by a signature masterpiece The Love Song of J Alfred Prufrock The Waste Land and Four Quartets She correlates these works with stages in the poet s intellectual and spiritual life disjunction ambivalence and transcendence Using a methodology that is both inductive moving from texts to theories and comparative juxtaposing the evolution of Eliot s mind as reflected in his philosophical prose and the evolution of style as seen in his poetry Brooker integrates cultural and biographical contexts The first book to read Eliot s poems alongside all of his prose and letters T S Eliot s Dialectical

The Midrashic Impulse and the Contemporary Literary Response to Trauma Monica Osborne, 2017-12-06 Since the end of World War II we have witnessed countless artistic responses to the Holocaust yet we remain unable to adequately address the atrocities While Theodor Adorno later rescinded his comments on the barbaric nature of writing poetry after Auschwitz The Midrashic Impulse and the Contemporary Literary Response to Trauma begins with the possibility that he was right that his admonition against poetry warns against employing representational modes that transgress the boundaries of the ethical when it comes to the Holocaust There is a language other than the language of representation with which we might speak authentically about such atrocities This study explores what it means for the world of literature to renounce the language of representation and retain the language of witness Drawing on the work of Emmanuel Levinas Maurice Blanchot Geoffrey Hartman and others the book focuses on the increasing tendency of contemporary writers to rely on non representational approaches to storytelling in the context of trauma This tendency is named the midrashic impulse given its similarity to ancient rabbinic approaches to the silences of the Hebrew bible through the creation of Midrash
