The biography of one of Minnesota s most beloved nature writers from her career in the city to her rustic cabin on Gunflint Lake During the late 1950s through the early 1970s Helen Hoover s stories and essays of life in the wilderness on northern Minnesota s Gunflint Lake published in popular magazines and several bestselling books including The Gift of the Deer in 1966 and A Place in the Woods in 1969 found millions of fans and earned her accolades alongside nature writers like Sigurd Olson Rachel Carson Sally Carrighar and Calvin Rutstrum Hoover s own unlikely history of leaving a corporate career in Chicago for a small cabin without electricity or running water with no interest in hunting or fishing is just one chapter of the remarkable life that David Hakensen describes in Her Place in the Woods This first complete biography illuminates how Helen Hoover 1910 1984 made a place for herself and for countless readers in as she put it the world of her time Hoover defied convention Self trained and without an academic degree she worked in the male dominated metallurgical field as a researcher at International Harvester where she solved a long standing problem with the manufacture of discs for farm implements and earned a patent She and her husband Adrian a commercial artist had long dreamed of moving to a remote cabin in the woods As they started the long return drive to Chicago after a summer spent on Gunflint Lake they finally made the leap quitting their jobs with a long distance phone call from Grand Marais and figuring out the rest as they went The Hoovers were woefully unprepared for life off the grid and slowly learned how to convert sheds into chicken coops and fend off bears Social encounters presented their own challenges with Helen s fiery personality leading to clashes with hunters and other Gunflint neighbors Gradually the Hoovers settled into the rhythms of their remote homestead and Helen would craft a prolific literary livelihood from her keen observations of nature and encounters with animals in the surrounding woods Her Place in the Woods captures both an awakening to the power and fragility of the natural world and the efforts and talents of an extraordinary woman defining herself as a writer Though Helen Hoover would move on from the secluded North Woods as she wrote in her final book The Years of the Forest From this time on it would be both here and with me wherever I might be as long as I should live YEARS OF THE FOREST Helen Hoover,2013-08-28 This is a book that takes us inside the Hoovers wilderness home during those sixteen Years of the Forest and lets us experience not only the joys and the techniques but also the challenges and travails of going it alone in the beautiful but not always accommodating wilderness far from the technology and services that city people take for granted It is a book of wilderness adventure it is an education in the ingenuities of wilderness housekeeping filled with practical details about making do building and rebuilding gardening for fun and for food even advice about getting away from getting away from it all Good times and Hard times good neighbors and bad neighbors the strains engendered by conflicting views and passions about the use of the environment Mrs Hoover shares her experience without stint But above all over under and all around her straightforward and practical approach to life in the wilderness there is as always the sensitive and moving awareness of nature especially of the animals with whom she and her husband shared the forest often helping them through starving winters that is the special quality of her writing and her life

Through the Woods Gary Ferguson, 2015-02-10 A conversational journey through America's forests introducing readers to people whose lives are intertwined with the soul of the woods

Walking Seasonal Roads Mary A. Hood, 2012-05-18 Seasonal roads are defined as one lane dirt roads not maintained during the winter They function as connectors linking farmers to their fields neighbors to neighbors or two more well traveled roads to each other Some access hunting lands and recreational areas Some pass by cemeteries allowing people to visit and honor their dead They can be abandoned as people move and towns fade In every incarnation the seasonal road touches the land in a gentler way than do other roads Having traveled nearly every seasonal road in Steuben County New York Hood finds they provide the ideal vantage to contemplate the meaning of place offering intimate contact with plant and wildlife and the beauty of a rural landscape Each road reveals how our land is used how our land is protected and how environmental factors have impacted the land As a literary naturalist Hood reflects on endangered species and invasive species as well as on issues of conservation and sustainability From state forests to potato fields from development along Keuka Lake to vineyards from old family cemeteries to logging sites Walking Seasonal Roads is a celebration and an honoring of the rural and the regionalism of place illustrating the ways we connect to our home and to each other

GIFT OF DEER Helen Hoover, 2013-08-28 In the farthest wilds of northeastern Minnesota back in the Gunflint Range the author of this book and her artist husband have a two room cabin home in the bush country Beginning one Christmas Day when they first watched the starving deer they later named Peter the Hoovers had many opportunities a passionate inclination and the nature skills to observe this whitetail buck joined later by his mate and finally by several of their offspring through the changing seasons of four years Close as their relationship was to the generations of beautiful animals the Hoovers did not consider them pets but fellow inhabitants of that wild country Their observations reveal the rewards of living close to wild creatures but more than that they add valuable information to our knowledge of the cycle of life of the deer and other creatures native to the same world For although the deer are the chief characters of this book they are by no means the only wild creatures Mrs Hoover writes of Her naturalist s eye is just as sharp and her affection just as great for the antics of a curious chickadee or a flying squirrel Mrs Hoover s identification with nature knows no favoritism The Hoovers world the bush country of the United States Canadian border is farther removed from civilization than Mr Emerson s woodlot but the close relationship of The Gift of the Deer to Walden is evident for all to enjoy Adrian Hoover s drawings are from life and they add another level of understanding to his wife s vivid prose Nina's North Shore Guide Nina A.
