Lords of Creation Virginia M. Fields, Dorie Reents-Budet, Los Angeles County Museum of Art, 2005 Offers a unique perspective on Mayan culture documenting the Lords of Creation Virginia M. Fields, Dorie Reents-Budet, 2005 Published in conjunction with an exhibition that opened at the Los Angeles County Museum of Art in September 2005 the catalogue uses art works to trace the development of the dominant cosmology of Mesoamerica from the Olmecs through the Maya Early Classic period Most of the 152 figures are color photographs Distributed outside the Museum by Anti Maya Calendar Origins Prudence M. Rice, 2009-02-17 In Maya Political Science Time Astronomy and the Cosmos Prudence M Rice proposed a new model of Maya political organization in which geopolitical seats of power rotated according to a 256 year calendar cycle known as the May This fundamental connection between timekeeping and Maya political organization sparked Rice s interest in the origins of the two major calendars used by the ancient lowland Maya one 260 days long and the other having 365 days In Maya Calendar Origins she presents a provocative new thesis about the origins and development of the calendrical system Integrating data from anthropology archaeology art history astronomy ethnohistory myth and linguistics Rice argues that the Maya calendars developed about a millennium earlier than commonly thought around 1200 BC as an outgrowth of observations of the natural phenomena that scheduled the movements of late Archaic hunter gatherer collectors throughout what became Mesoamerica She asserts that an understanding of the cycles of weather and celestial movements became the basis of power for early rulers who could thereby claim control over supernatural cosmic forces Rice shows how time became materialized transformed into status objects such as monuments that encoded calendrical or temporal concerns as well as politicized becoming the foundation for societal order political legitimization and wealth Rice s research also sheds new light on the origins of the Popol Vuh which Rice believes encodes the history of the development of the Mesoamerican calendars She also explores the connections between the Maya and early Olmec and Izapan cultures in the Isthmian region who shared with the Maya the cosmovision and ideology incorporated into the calendrical systems The Origins of Maya States Loa P. Traxler, Robert J. Sharer, 2016-10-28 The Pre Columbian Maya were organized into a series of independent kingdoms or polities rather than unified into a single state The vast majority of studies of Maya states focus on the apogee of their development in the classic period ca 250 850 C E As a result Maya states are defined according to the specific political structures that characterized classic period lowland Maya society The Origins of Maya States is the first study in over 30 years to examine the origins and development of these states specifically during the preceding preclassic period ca 1000 B C E to 250 C E Attempts to understand the origins of Maya states cannot escape the limitations of archaeological data and this is complicated by both the variability of Maya states in time and space and the interplay between internal development and external impacts To mitigate these factors editors Loa P Traxler and Robert J Sharer assemble a collection of essays that combines an examination of topical issues with regional perspectives from both the Maya area and neighboring

Mesoamerican regions to highlight the role of interregional interaction in the evolution of Maya states Topics covered include material signatures for the development of Maya states evaluations of extant models for the emergence of Maya states and advancement of new models based on recent archaeological data Contributors address the development of complexity during the preclassic era within the Maya regions of the Pacific coast highlands and lowlands and explore preclassic economic social political and ideological systems that provide a developmental context for the origins of Maya states Contributors Marcello A Canuto John E Clark Ann Cyphers Francisco Estrada Belli David C Grove Norman Hammond Richard D Hansen Eleanor King Michael Love Simon Martin Astrid Runggaldier Robert Sharer Loa Traxler Ritual and Power in Stone Julia
