Manual Of Herbarium Taxonomy Theory And Practice:

Manual of Herbarium Taxonomy E. F. de Vogel, 1987 The Herbarium Handbook Diane M. Bridson, Leonard Forman, Royal Botanic Gardens, Kew, 1992 A Guide to Families of Common Flowering Plants in the Philippines Irma Remo Castro, 2006 This book is an introduction to the science of plant classification and identification or plant taxonomy It defines terms used in describing a flowering plant and its parts and presents the characteristics of families of common flowering plants in the Philippines For a clearer understanding descriptions are supplemented by drawings and photographs Plants commonly found in gardens parks and vacant lots are used as examples and are therefore readily available for study A section is also devoted to the establishment and maintenance of a herbarium Writing African History John Edward Philips, 2006 A comprehensive evaluation of how to read African history Writing African History is an essential work for anyone who wants to write or even seriously read African history It will replace Daniel McCall s classic Africa in Time Perspective as the introduction to African history for the next generation and as a reference for professional historians interested readers and anyone who wants to understand how African history is written Africa in Time Perspective was written in the 1960s when African history was a new field of research This new book reflects the development of African history since then It opens with a comprehensive introduction by Daniel McCall followed by a chapter by the editor explaining what African history is and is not in the context of historical theory and the development of historical narrative the humanities and social sciences The first half of the book focuses on sources of historical data while the second half examines different perspectives on history The editor s final chapter explains how to combine various sorts of evidence into a coherent account of African history Writing African History will become the most important guide to African history for the 21st century Contributors Bala Achi Isaac Olawale Albert Diedre L Badjo Dorothea Bedigian Barbara M Cooper Henry John Drewal Christopher Ehret Toyin Falola David Henige Joseph E Holloway John Hunwick S O Y Keita William G Martin Daniel McCall Susan Keech McIntosh Donatien Dibwe Dia Mwembu Kathleen Sheldon John Thornton and Masao Yoshida John Edwards Philips is professor of international society Hirosaki University and author of Spurious Arabic Hausa and Colonial Nigeria Madison University of Wisconsin African Studies Center 2000 The Herbarium Handbook Leonard Forman, Diane Bridson, 1989 Describing Species Judith E. Winston, 1999-11-04 New species are discovered every day and cataloguing all of them has grown into a nearly insurmountable task worldwide Now this definitive reference manual acts as a style guide for writing and filing species descriptions New collecting techniques and new technology have led to a dramatic increase in the number of species that are discovered Explorations of unstudied regions and new habitats for almost any group of organisms can result in a large number of new species discoveries and hence the need to be described Yet there is no one source a student or researcher can readily consult to learn the basic practical aspects of taxonomic procedures Species description can present a variety of difficulties Problems arise when new species are not given names because their discoverers do not know how to write a formal species description or when these species are poorly described Biologists may also have to deal with nomenclatural problems created by previous workers or resulting from new information generated by their own research This practical resource for scientists and students contains instructions and examples showing how to describe newly discovered species in both the animal and plant kingdoms With special chapters on publishing taxonomic papers and on ecology in species description as well as sections covering subspecies genus level and higher taxa descriptions Describing Species enhances any writer s taxonomic projects reports checklists floras faunal surveys revisions monographs or guides The volume is based on current versions of the International Codes of Zoological and Botanical Nomenclature and recognizes that systematics is a global and multicultural exercise Though Describing Species has been written for an English speaking audience it is useful anywhere Taxonomy is spoken and will be a valuable tool for professionals and students in zoology botany ecology paleontology and other fields of biology

The Plant Diversity of Malesia P. Baas,K. Kalkman,R. Geesink,2012-12-06 Although the only publication with a realistic claim to the title The plant diver sity of Malesia is Flora Malesiana itself we have hesitatingly chosen this title for the present proceedings volume Past present and future work on the Flora Malesiana project was the subject of a successful symposium held in August 1989 This book contains only a selection of the papers presented at that meet ing yet it covers a much greater diversity of themes than just the inventory of botanical diversity It even goes beyond the boundaries of the vast Flora Malesi ana region in several of its chapters The role of the founder of the Flora Malesiana Project Professor C G G J van Steenis repeatedly recurs in several chapters not only as director of and contributor to the project but also as a pioneer in the fields of Malesian vege tation conservation and biogeography and as an enlightened systematist whose ideas and practical recommendations for taxonomic delimitation still largely apply Botanical information made available in regional and local floras is of vital im portance for applications such as the exploitation of natural forests on a sus tainable yield basis for establishing gene banks for the benefit of agriculture forestry and horticulture and not in the least for nature conservation Several chapters are devoted to these themes Floristic studies are also at the basis of the biogeographical essays and vegetation studies included in this book

Ecology of Kalimantan Kathy MacKinnon,Gusti Hatta,2013-02-05 The Ecology of Kalimantan is a comprehensive ecological survey of one of Indonesia s largest and most diverse islands This book presents a complete summary of our current scientific knowledge about Borneo including the rainforest and riverine habitats that are endangered by logging and industrial development along with a discussion of land use patterns and current problems Kalimantan is the Indonesian portion of the huge island of Borneo Kalimantan has played a key role in Indonesia s economic development and is a major earner of foreign revenue due to the island s rich natural resources forests oil gas coal and other minerals In this book the authors argue that Kalimantan can be developed but within tight ecological constraints and with great care This book remains a standard reference for scientists anthropologists writers and anyone interested in the region
