The Many Faces of Faith Michael Taylor, 2009-12-02 Faith is one of the most critical aspects of the Christian life because it is the means by which we receive all that God has secured for us yet the nature of faith is one of the most misunderstood concepts of Christianity Some conceptualize faith as some mental state that one must reach before they are able to tap into God s resources Others view faith as some sort of incorporeal substance that is out there for which we must reach All of these concepts of faith are deficient if not heretical and yet all of them are found in the church Others view faith as a mere fantasy or hope with no basis in reality and thus religious claims are excluded from the arena of knowledge For a number of years my heart has been trilled over the doctrine of faith as it is received and taught among evangelical Christians everywhere Great emphasis is laid upon faith in orthodox circles and that is good but still I am troubled Specifically my fear is that the modern conception of faith is not the biblical one that when the teachers of our day use the word they do no mean what Bible meant when they used it I also share the same concerns with A W Tozer when he said the cause of my uneasiness are these 1 The lack of spiritual fruits in the lives of so many who claim to have faith 2 The rarity of a radical change in the conduct and general outlook of persons professing their new faith in Christ as their personal Savior 3 The failure of our teachers to define or even describe the thing to which the word faith is supposed to refer 4 The heartbreaking failure of multitudes of seekers is they are even so earnest to make anything out of the doctrine or to receive any satisfying experience through it 5 The real danger that a doctrine that is parroted so widely and received so uncritically by so many is false as understood by them 6 I have seen faith put forward as an escape from reality a refuge from the necessity of hard thinking a hiding place for weak character natural optimism emotional thrills and nervous tics Therefore in the pages of this book I will endeavor to outline for your benefit the dynamics of faith What is faith How does faith works How to grow in faith The power of faith the Excellency of faith the demand of faith the perseverance of faith the challenges of faith the object of faith the effect of faith the response of faith the discipline of faith the necessity of faith and many more are discussed

The Many Faces of Tolerance Ewa A. Golebiowska, 2014-05-23 This book presents a systematic account on Poles attitudes toward ethnic religious political and sexual minorities It investigates Poland s reputation as an intolerant anti Semitic and homophobic country Counter to a simplistic image of Poland as a hotbed of intolerance the book shows that Polish intolerance has many faces For one thing Poles attitudes toward diversity vary from one group to another For another the extent to which Poles attitudes are more or less negative depends on the right or activity they are asked to support and who the respondents happen to be The book is the most comprehensive and empirically sophisticated synthesis of Poles attitudes toward diversity to date Previous research tends to describe Poles attitudes toward a single minority at a time and only examines subgroup differences in their thinking about diversity The Many Faces of Tolerance is a multi faceted analysis of Poles sentiments toward historically and currently discriminated against groups that assesses Poles acceptance of different minorities and authoritatively analyzes its sources As part of this endeavor the book develops a ranking of influences on Poles tolerance undertakes a forecasting of future changes in tolerance in Poland and proposes practical strategies to ameliorate existing intolerance

The Many Faces of Development Nieuwenhuijze, 2023-07-31 Aging and Time Jan Baars, Henk Visser, 2020-11-25 The aim of this volume is to revitalise the debate about the concepts of time implicit in the study of aging The many problems related to aging and the aged put an enormous pressure on the gerontological community to come up with practical applications and solutions In considering research findings we must keep in mind the basic assumptions that shape and influence even the most obvious statements about aging In this multidisciplinary volume the contributors take on the important task of exploring real issues concerning temporal concepts and approaches to aging and the concepts of time that are used in thinking about aging determine to a large extent the way aging is approached Most studies of aging still use a chronological approach to define populations for research purposes that is to determine which aged should be studied and to establish how people s characteristics social economic health and so forth change as a function of age This approach may lead to an accumulation of data but does not in itself lead to explanatory knowledge The step from chronological time to chronological age should be taken cautiously if we want to consider aging processes seriously especially because chronological age is widely used in contemporary societies as a basis for regulating all kinds of processes with many consequences for individuals The arguments presented here do not deny the finitude of human life nor do they deny that aging can be observed in any individual if we compare the characteristics of that person over a relatively long period The question is how to approach these themes to get a better understanding To achieve this we need to understand the specific significance and relativity of chronological time and uncover unfounded deductions about time in relation to aging This book will be of interested to students and professors of the social sciences humanities and aging including the methodology of aging studies professionals working in the field of aging including sociologists psychologists and biologists

The Different Faces of Motherhood Beverly Birns,Dale Hay,2013-06-29 The Different Faces of Motherhood began during a conversation between the two editors developmental psychologists who have spent our professional careers working with infants and very young children We are well aware of the importance of infants to their mothers and of mothers to their infants However we were particularly aware of the fact that whereas our knowledge about infants increases exponentially each decade our assumptions about mothers change relatively little We were concerned about the theories that underlie the advice given to mothers and also about the assumption that mothers appear to be generic More and more we have learned about individual differences in babies but not more and more about individual differences in mothers Our second concern has been to expand our knowledge about mothers Our assumptions were few and our questions were many We believed that the experience of women would vary greatly both in outlook and in behavior depending on each woman s age marital status financial status ethnicity health education and work experience as well as a woman s own experience in her family origin and her relationship to her husband If we are to understand child development and believe that the early years are important in a child s life then it seems critical to examine our beliefs about mothers If we are to understand human development then being a mother is surely an important area of inquiry

Were a generous retainer and the possibility of a half million dollar reward enticing enough for Duncan Luce to commit himself to the case? Yes, he decided. International Investigators Inc. was the granddaddy of all investigation agencies that existed outside of the government society. This would open the final door of his profession. For them to seek out his services was a star in his crown. Already the juices were flowing. Brace yourself Mr. McGhee, this is going to be interesting. Duncan Luce has taken up the hunt.

Many Faces, One Church Peter C. Phan, Diana L. Hayes, 2005. Many Faces, One Church Cultural Diversity and the American Catholic Experience both captures and facilitates a seismic shift in the who, what, where, when, why, and how of Catholic theology today. Along with a diverse group of theologians who represent the many faces of the church, editors Peter C. Phan and Diana Hayes recast the story of the church in America by including immigrant groups either forgotten or ignored and in light of these new and not so new voices, retooling the theological framework of Catholicism itself. That the American Catholic Church is an immigrant church is not news. What is news, however, is how diverse the immigrant church really is and how much work there is to be done to include their voices in theological discourse and training. Beyond the German and Irish immigrants, what of other European immigrant groups such as the Italians, Poles, Lithuanians, Czechs, Slovaks, and Eastern rite Catholics? Where are the stories of the older presence of native Mexican, Native American, and African American Catholics in this country? And more recently of Asian American Catholics, especially the Chinese, the Japanese, and the Filipinos of the nineteenth and early twentieth century? And more recently still, Catholic immigrants have come from El Salvador, Guatemala, Vietnam, Cambodia, Korea, India, and the Pacific Islands. What impact are these immigrants having on American society and religious groups? Many Faces, One Church is a profound attempt to address these key questions and their implications for the Catholic way of being, church worshipping, and practicing theology. The result of three years of conferences sponsored by Elms College exploring the new faces of the American Catholic Church, this thoughtful collection highlights opportunities and challenges lying ahead as the American Church tries to respond to the continuing presence of new immigrants in its midst. Many Faces, One Church is a beginning of a long but exciting journey in which the strangers welcome.

The Many Faces of Subud Riantee Lydia Rand, 2005-04-18. Subud is a direct and spontaneous spiritual experience that allows people to receive a contact with the Great Life Force. It reawakens their inner feeling and puts them in touch with their own guidance, eventually bringing to the surface their true nature which was before obstructed and cluttered with erroneous beliefs, ancestral patterns of behavior, culture, education, and their family malfunctions. Many have found a deeper understanding of their own religious beliefs from the evidence they receive for themselves. Others have come to actualize their true talent and work. There are Subud groups in eighty countries bringing together harmoniously people of many different religious and ethnic backgrounds. The spiritual practice or latihan arises from within. It is a natural process that occurs without effort or study. This book is the result of the collaborative effort of three women who have practiced the latihan of Subud for decades. It compiles testimonies of Subud members from all over the world on different topics. Each chapter begins with a short account of observations experiences receivings and dreams on the subject People interviewed were of different age groups social and ethnic backgrounds some newly opened in Subud some older members some second and third generation Subud The opening latihan when one first receives this contact is a ceremony of introduction into the spiritual exercise after a three month period of inquiry referred to as the probation or investigation period Through the latihan people renew their contact with the power of God and become aware of the latent powers that reside in all of humankind The central feature of Subud is the latihankejiwaan or inner training which takes place for half an hour up to an hour two or three times a week and is practiced by men and women separately Subud has little doctrinal teaching except for the belief in divine power and higher centers of consciousness The implication is that people practicing the latihan align themselves with those higher centers It is available to any person seventeen and older who has a sincere wish to worship God and wants to receive this contact The action of the latihan within each person allows the power of God to express itself spontaneously through singing chanting shouting moving dancing crying laughing etc Subud s founder Bapak Muhammad Subuh explains that in this way when in the latihan we make a complete surrender to the Power of God or the Great Life Force we can receive the education of our inner selves free from interference by our minds and hearts and according to our own individual needs Participants have often reported strong feelings of rapture and release psychological and physical healing During latihan one lets go of thoughts and emotions in order to follow what surfaces those movements and sounds that spontaneously arise from deep within It is a form of cleansing which allows the worship of God to become stronger and less obstructed a training that lets individuals get in touch develop and trust their inner guidance enabling the complete self to emerge through an action that comes from beyond the thinking and the will
