Mapping Rivers:

Mapping Rivers Sunita Apte, 2011 Earth is one small speck among billions of stars planets and moons So how can we figure out where it is in the universe The answer is sky maps and charts Maps can tell us where Earth is located in the huge star system we call the Milky Way galaxy Charts can help us explore other planets and the Moon They can even help us study the stars Begin your adventure as an astronomer by using maps and star charts to learn about what you can see in the night sky and what you can't see Book jacket

Mapping Rivers Louise Spilsbury, 2005 Mapping Towns and Cities Rob Walker, 2011-01-15 Introduces maps and teaches essential mapping skills including how to create use and interpret maps of towns and cities

Mapping Mountains Rob Walker, 2011-01-15 Introduces maps and teaches essential mapping skills including how to create use and interpret maps of mountains

The Imperial Map James R. Akerman, 2009-03 Maps from virtually every culture and period convey our tendency to see our communities as the centre of the world if not the universe and by implication as superior to anything beyond our boundaries This study examines how cartography has been used to prop up a variety of imperialist enterprises

Mapping Coasts Lynnette Brent Sandvold, 2011 Among the greatest intellectual heroes of modern times Raphael Lemkin lived an extraordinary life of struggle and hardship yet altered international law and redefined the world's understanding of group rights He invented the concept and word genocide and propelled the idea into international legal status An uncommonly creative pioneer in ethical thought he twice was nominated for the Nobel Peace Prize Although Lemkin died alone and in poverty he left behind a model for a life of activism a legacy of major contributions to international law and not least an unpublished autobiography Presented here for the first time is his own account of his life from his boyhood on a small farm in Poland with his Jewish parents to his perilous escape from Nazi Europe through his arrival in the United States and rise to influence as an academic thinker and revered lawyer of international criminal law

Digital Mapping and Indigenous America Janet Berry Hess, 2021-03-31 Employing anthropology field research and humanities methodologies as well as digital cartography and foregrounding the voices of Indigenous scholars this text examines digital projects currently underway and includes alternative modes of mapping Native American Alaskan Native Indigenous Hawaiian and First Nations land The work of both established and emerging scholars addressing a range of geographic regions and cultural issues is also represented Issues addressed include the history of maps made by Native Americans healing and reconciliation projects related to boarding schools language and land reclamation Western cartographic maps created in collaboration with Indigenous nations and digital resources that combine maps with narrative art and film along with chapters on archaeology place naming and the digital presence of elders This text is of interest to scholars working in history cultural studies anthropology Native American studies and digital cartography

Fluvial Remote Sensing for Science and Management Patrice Carbonneau, Hervé Piégay, 2012-08-15 This book offers a comprehensive overview of progress in the general area of fluvial remote sensing with a specific focus on its potential contribution to river management The book highlights a range of challenging issues by considering a range of spatial and temporal scales with perspectives from a variety of disciplines The book starts with an overview of the technical progress leading to new management applications for a range of field contexts and spatial scales Topics include colour imagery multi spectral and hyper spectral imagery video photogrammetry and LiDAR The book then discusses management applications such as targeted network scale planning land use change modelling at catchment scales characterisation of channel reaches riparian vegetation geomorphic features in both spatial and temporal dimensions fish habitat assessment flow measurement monitoring river restoration and maintenance and the appraisal of human perceptions of riverscapes Key Features A specific focus on management applications in a period of increasing demands on managers to characterize river features and their evolution at different spatial scales An integration across all scales of imagery with a clear discussion of both ground based and airborne images Includes a wide range of environmental problems Coverage of cutting edge technology Contributions from leading researchers in the field

Reading and Mapping Fiction Sally Bushell, 2020-07-02 Do we map as we read How central to our experience of literature is the way in which we spatialise and visualise a fictional world Reading and Mapping Fiction offers a fresh approach to the interpretation of literary space and place centred upon the emergence of a fictional map alongside the text in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries Bringing together a range of new and emerging theories including cognitive mapping and critical cartography Bushell compellingly argues that this activity whatever it is called mapping diagramming visualising spatialising is a vital and intrinsic part of how we experience literature and of what makes it so powerful Drawing on both the theory and history of literature and cartography this richly illustrated study opens up understanding of spatial meaning and interpretation in new ways that are relevant to both more traditional academic scholarship and to newly emerging digital practices

A Country So Interesting Richard I. Ruggles, 1991-02-01 A vital part of A Country So Interesting are the annotated catalogues of all the maps known to have been produced by the Hudson s Bay Company 838 maps and 557 sketches While most are in the Company s archives in Manitoba Ruggles has tracked down maps in other collections particularly in various libraries in London England Also included are sixty six reproductions of the most important maps and map details
