Cosmos Alexander von Humboldt, 1871 Design in the Borderlands Eleni Kalantidou, Tony Fry, 2014-05-09 This book makes a significant contribution to advancing post geographic understandings of physical and virtual boundaries It brings together the emergent theory of border thinking with innovative thinking on design and explores the recent discourse on decoloniality and globalism From a variety of viewpoints the topics engaged show how design was historically embedded in the structures of colonial imposition and how it is implicated in more contemporary settings in the extension of epistemological colonialism The essays draw on perspectives from diverse geo cultural and theoretical positions including architecture design theory and history sociology critical theory and cultural studies The authors are leading and emergent figures in their fields of study and practice and the geographic scope of the chapters ranges across Europe the Middle East Africa South America Asia and the Pacific In recognition of the complexity of challenges that are now determining the future security of humanity Design in the Borderlands aims to contribute to thinking futures by adding to the increasingly significant debate between design in the context of the history of Western modernity and decolonial thought Thematic Mapping From Satellite Imagery: A Guidebook J. Denègre, 2013-10-22 Thematic Mapping from Satellite Imagery A Guidebook discusses methods in producing maps using satellite images The book is comprised of five chapters each chapter covers one stage of the process Chapter 1 tackles the satellite remote sensing imaging and its cartographic significance Chapter 2 discusses the production processes for extracting information from satellite data The next chapter covers the methods for combining satellite derived information with that obtained from conventional sources Chapter 4 deals with design and semiology for cartographic representation and Chapter 5 presents examples of applications The book will be of great use to cartographers who want to utilize satellite imaging in generating a map Bulletin of the Public Library of the City of Boston Boston Public Library, 1914 The Athenaeum , 1858 Torch and Colonial Book Circular , 1888 A History of the World in 12 Maps Jerry Brotton, 2013-11-14 A New York Times Bestseller Maps allow the armchair traveler to roam the world the diplomat to argue his points the ruler to administer his country the warrior to plan his campaigns and the propagandist to boost his cause rich and beautiful Wall Street Journal Throughout history maps have been fundamental in shaping our view of the world and our place in it But far from being purely scientific objects maps of the world are unavoidably ideological and subjective intimately bound up with the systems of power and authority of particular times and places Mapmakers do not simply represent the world they construct it out of the ideas of their age In this scintillating book Jerry Brotton examines the significance of 12 maps from the almost mystical representations of ancient history to the satellite derived imagery of today He vividly recreates the environments and circumstances in which each of the maps was made showing how each conveys a highly individual view of the world Brotton shows how each of his maps both influenced and reflected contemporary events and how by considering it in all its nuances and omissions we can better understand the world that produced it Although the way we map our surroundings is more precise than ever before Brotton argues that maps today are no more definitive or objective than they have ever been Readers of this beautifully illustrated and masterfully argued book will never look at a map in quite the same way again A fascinating and panoramic new history of the cartographer s art The Guardian The intellectual background to these images is conveyed with beguiling erudition There is nothing more subversive than a map The Spectator A mesmerizing and beautifully illustrated book The Telegraph
