March Wind Explorations Behind The Iron:

East Wind Tom Buchanan, 2012-04-19 East Wind offers the first complete archive based account of the relationship between China and the British Left from the rise of modern Chinese nationalism to the death of Mao Tse tung Beginning with the Hands Off China movement of the mid 1920s Tom Buchanan charts the mobilisation of British opinion in defence of China against Japanese aggression 1931 1945 and the role of the British left in relations with the People s Republic of China after 1949 He shows how this relationship was placed under stress by the growing unpredictability of Communist China above all by the Sino Soviet dispute and the Cultural Revolution which meant that by the 1960s China was actively supported only by a dwindling group of enthusiasts The impact of the suppression of the student protests in Tiananmen Square June 1989 is addressed as an epilogue East Wind argues that the significance of the left s relationship with China has been unjustly overlooked There were many occasions such as the mid 1920s the late 1930s and the early 1950s when China demanded the full attention of the British left It also argues that there is nothing new in the current fascination with China s emergence as an economic power Throughout these decades the British left was aware of the immense unrealised potential of the Chinese economy and of how China s economic growth could transform the world In addition to analysing the role of the political parties and pressure groups of the left Buchanan sheds new light on the activities of many well known figures in support of China including intellectuals such as Bertrand Russell R H Tawney and Joseph Needham Many other interesting stories emerge concerning less well known figures which show the complexity of personal links between Britain and China during the twentieth century

China's Road to Disaster Frederick C. Teiwes, Warren Sun, 1998-12-14 This text analyzes the dramatic shifts in Chinese Communist Party economic policy during the mid to late 1950s which eventually resulted in 30 to 45 million deaths through starvation as a result of the failed policies of the Great Leap Forward Teiwes examines both the substance and the process of economic policy making in that period explaining how the rational policies of opposing rash advance in 1956 57 gave way to the fanciful policies of the Great Leap and assessing responsibility for the failure to adjust adequately those policies even as signs of disaster began to reach higher level decision makers In telling this story Teiwes focuses on key participants in the process throughout both rational and utopian phases Mao other top leaders central economic bureaucracies and local party leaders The analysis rejects both of the existing influential explanations in the field the long dominant power politics approach focusing on alleged clashes within the top leadership and David Bachman s recent institutional interpretation of the origins of the Great Leap Instead this study presents a detailed picture of an exceptionally Mao dominated process where no other actor challenged his position where the boldest step any actor took was to try and influence his preferences and where the system in effect became paralyzed while Mao kept changing signals as disaster unfolded

New Perspectives on State Socialism in China Timothy Cheek, Tony Saich, 2016-12-05 Placing Chinese Community Party history in the realm of social history and comparative politics this text studies the roots of the policy failures of the late Maoist period and the tenacity of the CCP

China's Road to Disaster: Mao, Central Politicians and Provincial Leaders in the Great Leap Forward, 1955-59 Frederick C Teiwes, Warren Sun, 2016-07-01 This text analyzes the dramatic shifts in Chinese Communist Party economic policy during the mid to late 1950s which eventually resulted in 30 to 45 million deaths through starvation as a result of the failed policies of the Great Leap Forward Teiwes examines both the substance and the process of economic policy making in that period explaining how the rational policies of opposing rash advance in 1956 57 gave way to the fanciful policies of the Great Leap and assessing responsibility for the failure to adjust adequately those policies even as signs of disaster began to reach higher level decision makers In telling this story Teiwes focuses on key participants in the process throughout both rational and utopian phases Mao other top leaders central economic bureaucracies and local party leaders The analysis rejects both of the existing influential explanations in the field the long dominant power politics approach focusing on alleged clashes within the top leadership and David Bachman's recent institutional interpretation of the origins of the Great Leap Instead this study presents a detailed picture of an exceptionally Mao dominated process where no other actor challenged his position where the boldest step any actor took was to try and influence his preferences and where the system in effect became paralyzed while Mao kept changing signals as disaster unfolded

Letters of Louis MacNeice Louis MacNeice, 2014-11-20 Louis MacNeice is increasingly recognised as one of the greatest poets of the twentieth century and his work has been a defining influence upon a generation of Irish poets that includes Derek Mahon Michael Longley and Paul Muldoon The Selected Letters is indispensable as a resource for an understanding of the intellectual culture of the mid twentieth century A Classics don poet playwright and globetrotting BBC producer the medley and blend of MacNeice's cultural influences seems exemplary in its modernity He kept up a significant correspondence with E R Dodds Anthony Blunt and T S Eliot to name but three prominent figures of the time During his time at the BBC MacNeice witnessed many key events including the partition of India in 1947 and the independence of the Gold Coast from Britain in 1957 and these are recorded in two long sequences to his wife the singer Hedli Anderson His complex relationship to Ireland and to his Irish heritages speak resonantly to contemporary debates about Irish and Northern Irish cultural identity Finally the Letters will do much to broaden our understanding of a vivid and often enigmatic personality whose varied life and individual charisma have often resisted explanation

Passport to Peking Patrick Wright, 2010-10-28 This delightfully eclectic book part comedy part travelogue and part cultural history uncovers the story of the British delegations that were invited to China in 1954 a full eighteen years before President Nixon's more famous 1972 mission

Exploration of the South Seas in the Eighteenth Century Sandhya Patel, 2021-03-04 The publication of key voyaging manuscripts has contributed to the flourishing of enduring and prolific worldwide scholarship across numerous fields These navigators and their texts were instrumental in spurring on further exploration annexation and ultimately colonisation of the Pacific territories in the space of only a few decades This series will present new sources and primary texts in English paving the way for postcolonial critical approaches in which the reporting writing rewriting and translating of Empire and the Other takes precedence over the safeguarding of master narratives Each of the volumes contains an introduction that sets out the context in which these voyages took place and extensive annotations clarify and explain the original texts The first volume makes available Samuel Wallis logs of the Dolphin s voyage 1766 68 in their original form for the first time Captain Samuel Wallis was the first Englishman to come across the Tuamotus and the Society Isles in the South Pacific specifically Tahiti His writings predate the available textual sources by Louis Antoine de Bougainville the log of the Spanish voyages and James Cook whose text Wallis prefigures The three logs attest to the very first encounter between Europeans and Tahitians but until now comparatively little research has been conducted on the more elaborate second volume and none on the first The Polynesian archipelagos grew into objects of discourse over the years and Wallis logs may very well be located at the heart of these evocative constructs The translated accounts of voyages undertaken by foreign vessels abounded in an era when they encouraged not only competitive geopolitical initiatives but also commercial enterprises throughout Europe resulting in a voluminous textual corpus However French merchant seaman Etienne Marchand s journal of his voyage round the world in 1790 1792 encompassing an important visit to the Marquesas Archipelago during his first crossing of the Pacific remained unpublished until 2005 and has only now been made available in English The second volume of this series comprises an annotated translation in English of this document
