Full Spectrum Integrated Chemical Monitoring

The authors of the study, which was published in the Journal of the American Medical Association, found that the use of a computerized decision support system (CDSS) reduced the number of errors made by residents. The CDSS was designed to help residents make decisions about the management of patients with acute coronary syndrome (ACS). The study found that the CDSS reduced the number of errors made by residents by 50%. The authors concluded that the use of a CDSS can improve the quality of care for patients with ACS.
