A Natural History of Seeing Simon Ings, 2008 Ings work delves into both the evolution of sight and the evolution of the human understanding of sight The book presents the natural science while also addressing the history philosophy and mythology of how and why people see the way they do Illustrations throughout The Eye Simon Ings, 2007 We spend about one tenth of our waking hours completely blind Only one percent of what we see is in focus at any one time We exist in a world we see that's always about half a second behind the real one In fact you don't need eyes to see blind volunteers have been taught to see through their chests Wasps can't see but map their surroundings instead If we are stared at our heartbeat rises and our galvanic skin response alters How many generations did it take for the first fish to acquire eyes Answer is 400 000 Why do humans have whites to their eyes when other species don't Could it be that thinking arose as an evolutionary response to seeing Without eyes would minds exist at all Be prepared to have your eyes opened Using a spellbinding mix of scientific research mathematics philosophy history neuroscience anecdote and language theory in The Eye Simon Ings unravels brilliantly the never ending puzzle of how and why we see in the way that we do From looking at the work of a huge range of theorists and scientists to myths and personal experiences and with the help of a beguiling mix of illustrated visual conundrums and enigmas Ings triumphs with a compelling dissection of the age old mysteries of the eye that's both seriously interesting and interestingly fun He tells the eye's whole story for the very first time fusing eye and sight into a single story this is popular science of the highest order the art world In establishing the Museum of Primitive Art MPA in 1956 the precursor to what is today the Department of the Arts of Africa Oceania and the Americas AAOA at the Metropolitan Museum Nelson Rockefeller was a true pioneer assembling what remains the greatest collection of fine art from these disparate fields Perhaps even more important than this singular achievement however was Rockefeller s long campaign to place his collection at the Metropolitan Museum as a gift to the city and to the world which he finally achieved in 1969 after nearly forty years of effort Rockefeller s gift carried the unequivocal message that artists from Africa Oceania and the Americas are equal in every respect to those of their peers across the globe and throughout history Yet until that time there was famously skepticism in the Western art world on this point as well as resistance from earlier generations of Metropolitan directors in viewing non Western art as part of the institution s mission Relying on his formidable powers of persuasion Rockefeller eventually brokered an agreement to transfer the collections staff and library of the of the MPA to the Metropolitan an astounding triumph that fundamentally changed the character of the museum making the collections truly encyclopedic
