A crucial figure in the creation of our national parks system and a far-seeing prophet of environmental awareness who founded the Sierra Club in 1892, he was also a master of natural description who evoked with unique power and intimacy the untrammelled landscapes of the American West. Nature Writings collects Muir's most significant and best-loved works in a single volume, including The Story of My Boyhood and Youth (1913), My First Summer in the Sierra (1911), The Mountains of California (1894), and Stickeen (1909). Rounding out the volume is a rich selection of essays including Yosemite Glaciers, God's First Temples, Snow Storm on Mount Shasta, The American Forests, and Save the Redwoods, that highlight various aspects of his career, his exploration of the Grand Canyon and of what became Yosemite and Yellowstone national parks, his successful crusades to preserve the wilderness, his early walking tour to Florida and the Alaska journey of 1879. Marxism and Human Nature Sean Sayers, Nature Writing Don Scheese, 2002 First published in 2003, Routledge is an imprint of Taylor & Francis, an informa company. Women Writing Nature Barbara

Cook,2007-12-14 Since Silent Spring was published in 1962 the number of texts about the natural world written by women has grown exponentially The essays in Women Writing Nature A Feminist View argue that women writing in the 20th century are utilizing the historical connection of women and the natural world in diverse ways For centuries women have been associated with nature but many feminists have sought to distance themselves from the natural world because of dominant cultural representations which reflect women as controlled by powerful natural forces and confined to domestic spaces However in the spirit of Rachel Carson some writers have begun to invoke nature for feminist purposes or have used nature as an agent of resistance This collection considers women's writings about the natural world in light of recent and current feminist and ecofeminist theory and finds a variety of approaches and perspectives both by the scholars and by the authors discussed culminating with the voices of two women activist and scientist Joan Maloof and Irish poet Rosemarie Rowley who both write about the natural world from a feminist perspective
