Wasieleski, Erica L. Steckler, 2021-12-28 The Theory of the Firm is commonly viewed as axiomatic by business school academicians Considerations in spanning organizational structures their boundaries and roles as well as business strategies all relate to the Theory of the Firm The dominant Theory of the Firm poses that markets act perfectly to maximize the well being of society when people act to maximize the personal utility of their individual purchases and firms act to maximize financial returns to their owners However burgeoning evidence and discourse across the scientific and policy communities suggests that the economic social and environmental consequences of accepting and applying this theory in the organization of business and society threaten the survival of the human species among countless others This book provides the latest thinking on alternatives to the Theory of the Firm as cornerstone of managerial decision making Authors explore and elucidate theories that help us understand a firm differently and suggest alternatives to the Theory of the Firm This book will be of value to researchers academics practitioners and students interested in leadership strategic management and the intersection of corporate interests and the well being of the society Property Rights and Managerial Decisions in For-profit, Non-profit and Public

William Easter, 2012-12-06

This book contains a selection of the papers presented at the Joint Conference on Food Agriculture and the Environment which was held in Bologna Italy on June 12-14 2001 This was the seventh gathering of a biennial meeting born from a cooperation agreement between US and Italian academic and research institutions This round of the Conference was organized in the Faculty of Agriculture in Bologna by the Dept of Agricultural Economics and Engineering DEIAgra and the CNR Land and Agri System Management Research Centre GeST A CNR of Bologna There were two main reasons for the choice of this location first the Conference was dedicated to Maurizio Grillenzoni and Franco Alvisi two colleagues and friends who passed away in recent years and who committed themselves and played an important role in developing the collaboration agreement and promoting the past Conferences second in the year 2000 the Faculty of Agriculture in Bologna celebrated its first centennial and this Conference was part of a wide set of events organized to highlight the relevant role of the Faculty in the research activity both at an Italian and international level The Conference papers were articulated both in plenary and concurrent sessions dealing with key topics for agricultural economists A structure similar to the Conference was adopted for grouping the papers into the four sections contained in this book food nutrition and quality focusing i e Research Companion to Construction Economics Ofori, George, 2022-03-15 This innovative Research Companion considers the history nature and status of construction economics and its need for development as a field in order to be recognised as a distinct discipline It presents a state of the art review of construction economics identifying areas for further research From Marx to Markets Geoffrey M. Hodgson, 2025-03-12 In this revealing and eminently readable book Geoffrey M Hodgson takes readers on an intellectual odyssey through his distinguished career and his work as one of the leading institutional and evolutionary economists Depicting his life throughout the Cold War grappling with the military and economic rivalry of two different systems to becoming an economist in the 1970s and his later venture into institutional and evolutionary economics

Industrial Organization in Context Stephen Martin, 2010-04-22 Industrial Organization in Context examines the economics of markets industries and their participants and public policy towards these entities It takes an international approach and incorporates discussion of experimental tests of economic models New Institutional Economics as Situational Logic Piet de Vries, 2023-08-04 Drawing on phenomenological and realist approaches this book surveys the theoretical evolution of new institutional economics For all its popularity and explanatory power new institutional economics is not a homogenous field but encompasses a range of different theoretical approaches starting from Coase and the introduction of transaction costs In particular the concept of rationality is a rich source of dispute leading to a bifurcation between insider and outsider perspectives The insider view refers to studying conscious human beings the economic actor who seek their self interest and find themselves in their mundane situation The self interest of the economic actor bestows him with logic It makes the logic of the situation the method of economics as Karl Popper establishes Thus the book argues for the positioning of new institutional economics as situational logic that is an economic theory that formulates and studies single exit situations that face the economic actor Ultimately this book presents a critical appraisal of new institutional economics theories based on a substantiated methodological perspective that effectively navigates the theorist between realism and rigor This book will be of interest to readers of new institutional economics economic theory and the philosophy of economics and social sciences The Changing Boundaries of the Firm Massimo G Colombo, 1998-09-03 This book offers a distinctive analysis of the relations and interplay between the internal activities of firms their changing boundaries and increasing reliance on networks and alliances with other firms The contributors offer a blend of theoretical and empirical studies they are based on a set of related perspectives in modern economics including transaction cost economics competence and resource based theories of the firm evolutionary economics and the theories of foreign direct investments and the multinational enterprise The unifying concern shared by the different studies is the need to model firm behaviour and inter firm cooperative activities in terms of knowledge growth and competence building rather than merely in terms of cost reduction they emphasize learning processes and dynamic efficiency rather than efficient allocation of given resources

Large Firms and Institutional Change Bob Hancké, 2002 Between 1980 and 1985 the French economy and industry faced a dramatic crisis in the ten years that followed it witnessed a remarkable revival How did the French economy make this transition While the state is still an important economic agent in France and the market certainly has become more central in the organization of the French economy both state and market centered perspectives fail to understand critical elements of this adjustment Building on the new Varieties of Capitalism approach in political economy which puts firms at the center of the analysis this book argues that the post war state led system changed into a system organized by and around the large firms Large firms have always been central in the French post war economic development model In the past however they adapted to patterns set by the central state By exploiting the possibilities in government policies in different areas such as finance labour relations and regional policies the large firms were able to induce their main interlocutors the state banks labour unions workers and small firms to adjust in a way which was congruent with their own interests From subservient economic agents they became the drivers of economic adjustment Through this case study of readjustment in France this book offers a subtle critique of neo institutionalist perspectives on firms Institutional frameworks do not simply offer scenarios for adjustment but are themselves constructions of economic and political actors and therefore subject to change and reorganization By analysing how large firms in France arguably one of the least likely places to harbour such endogenous capacities changed their institutional environment to fit their own needs this book offers an important new perspective on the political economy of industrial and economic change
