Transforming Socio-Natures in Turkey Onur İnal, Ethemcan Turhan, 2019-07-09 This book is an exploration of the environmental makings and contested historical trajectories of environmental change in Turkey Despite the recent proliferation of studies on the political economy of environmental change and urban transformation until now there has not been a sufficiently complete treatment of Turkey's troubled environments which live on the edge both geographically between Europe and Middle East and politically between democracy and totalitarianism The contributors to Transforming Socio Natures in Turkey use the toolbox of environmental humanities to explore the main political cultural and historical factors relating to the country's socio environmental problems This leads not only to a better grounding of some of the historical and contemporary debates on the environment in Turkey but also a deeper understanding of the multiplicity of framings around more than human interactions in the country in a time of authoritarian populism This book will be of interest not only to students of Turkey from a variety of social science and humanities disciplines but also contribute to the larger debates on environmental change and developmentalism in the context of a global populist turn Nature's End S. Sörlin,P. Warde,2009-07-23

C. H.

Keskitalo,2024-06-12 Combining historical social and regulative analysis this book builds a compelling critique of frontier thinking as it continues to form our assumptions about social and environmental organisation in ways that impact not least the present environmental crisis This book systematically identifies the ways in which images of nature and society are formed by the historically developed frontier oriented narratives which have underpinned much Anglo American and Anglocentric thought The book confronts these conceptions at large showing that they never held empirically and contrasts them with the situation in northern Europe where diverging assumptions are integral to this day Through this juxtaposition this book illustrates not only the pervasiveness of structures of understanding in steering policy but also the varying traditions regarding how understandings of the environment can be formed This study highlights how historical thought patterns formed for very different reasons than exist today continue to shape our assumptions about nature the relation between urban and rural areas and our understanding of ourselves in relation to the environment This book will be of wide interest to a range of academics and students in the fields of geography anthropology environmental studies sociology political science and development studies amongst others The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license Frontier Assemblages Jason Cons,Michael Eilenberg,2019-02-26 Frontier Assemblages offers a new

Zimmerer,Kenneth R. Young,1998 Developing countries in Africa Asia and Latin America are increasingly influenced by human induced environmental changes It is crucial that sustainable development be based on insights into these expanding processes conservation as well as deterioration Nature's Geography offers a new perspective on the geographical nature of these changes The book reveals how human environment relations must be understood at multiple scales and time frames Editors Karl S Zimmerer and Kenneth R Young have forged an exciting group of case studies from distinguished geographers focusing on high mountains tropical forests and lowlands as well as humid and arid semiarid landscapes Each chapter analyzes the implications for meshing environmental protection and sound resource use with development The case studies evaluate three topics spatial habitat fragmentation and forest dynamics disturbances in mountain ecosystems and the major activities of settled areas chiefly farming livestock raising and forestry Included are analyses of interactions involving wildlife such as primates and wild pandas assessment of fire impacts and road building long term forest management as well as recent techniques and the role of environmental variation and ecosystem properties in agriculture and rangeland Nature s Geography demonstrates the vital importance of advancing a new approach to geography This definitive study of landscape change and environmental dynamics will have wide appeal for those interested in geography ecology environmental studies conservation biology and development studies casts doubt upon the conceptual coherence of borders The frontier is the very element of Kant's thought yet the permanent frustration of his conceptuality Bennington brings out the frontier's complex abyssal fractal structure that leaves a residue of violence in every frontier and complicates Kant's most rational arguments in the direction of cosmopolitanism and perpetual peace Neither a critique of Kant nor a return to Kant this book proposes a new reflection on philosophical reading for which thinking the frontier is both essential and a recurrent fruitful interruption

The Recreational Frontier Michael Kleinod, 2017 This study treats ecotourism in National Protected Areas of Lao PDR as a recreational frontier which instrumentalizes the recreation of human natures in capitalism's centers for that of nonhuman natures at capitalism's closing frontiers This world ecological practice of ecorational instrumentality i.e. of nature domination in the name of Nature presents a remedy for capitalism's crisis that is itself crisis-ridden enacting a central tension of ecocapitalism that between conservation and development This epistemic institutional tension is traced through the preconditions, modes and effects of ecotourism in Laos by gradually zooming from the most general scale of societal nature relations into the most detailed intricacies of ecotouristic practice The combination of Bourdieu, Marx and Critical Theory enables a systematic analysis of the recreational frontier as enactment of various contradictions deriving from the false and real Nature Society dualism

The political ecology of colonial capitalism Bikrum Gill, 2024-11-05 This book situates the post-financial crisis phenomenon of the global land grab within the longue durée of the capitalist world system It does so by advancing a theoretical and historical framework called the political ecology of colonial capitalism that clarifies the key role played by the co-production of race and nature in provisioning the ecological surplus that has historically secured the emergence and reproduction of capitalist development The key premise of this book is that the global land grab constitutes another such attempted moment of re-securing the cheap food premise through racialized frontier appropriation The argument advanced here is that within the neoliberal crisis conjuncture the hegemonic resolution of capital's escalating social ecological contradictions necessitates through the practice of global primitive accumulation the racialized construction of frontiers of unused nature in emergent zones of appropriation

Nature Conservation in Southern Africa, 2018-11-26 Nature conservation in southern Africa has always been characterised by an interplay between Capital specific understandings of Morality and forms of Militarism that are all dependent upon the shared subservience and marginalization of animals and certain groups of people in society Although the subjectivity of people has been rendered visible in earlier publications on histories of conservation in southern Africa the subjectivity of animals is hardly ever seriously considered or explicitly dealt with In this edited volume the subjectivity and sentience of animals is explicitly included The contributors argue that the shared human and animal marginalisation and agency in nature conservation in southern Africa and beyond could and should be further explored under the label of sentient conservation Contributors are Malcolm Draper Vupenyu Dzingirai Jan Bart Gewald Michael Glover Paul Hebinck Tariro Kamuti Lindiwe Mangwanya Albert Manhamo Dhoya Snijders Marja Spierenburg Sandra Swart Harry Wels
