A Field Guide to Venomous Animals and Poisonous Plants, North America, North of Mexico Steven Foster, Roger A. Caras, 1994 Describes dangerous mammals reptiles spiders insects flowers shrubs trees and mushrooms

Human Toxicology J. Descotes, 1996-09-02 This excellent volume was designed and edited with two major ideas in mind firstly the field of clinical toxicology is changing and an acknowledgement of these changes is warranted secondly no comprehensive compilation of recently published case reports of and clinical studies on human poisonings is available which is in sharp contrast to the closely related field of drug induced side effects The book focusses on issues of recent concern or issues poorly documented in the past It is important that clinical toxicologists gain a better knowledge of all the available techniques of toxicological analysis A better understanding of the way a sound interpretation of results should be conducted for the benefit of the patient s management and a comprehensive set of data on the kinetics of the most common pharmaceutical drugs and many chemicals is required Human Toxicology is a timely reference work which will be welcomed by a broad audience of toxicology professionals
