Machines Ray Kurzweil,2000-01-01 NATIONAL BESTSELLER Bold futurist Ray Kurzweil author of The Singularity Is Near offers a framework for envisioning the future of machine intelligence a book for anyone who wonders where human technology is going next The New York Times Book Review Kurzweil offers a thought provoking analysis of human and artificial intelligence and a unique look at a future in which the capabilities of the computer and the species that invented it grow ever closer BILL GATES Imagine a world where the difference between man and machine blurs where the line between humanity and technology fades and where the soul and the silicon chip unite This is not science fiction This is the twenty first century according to Ray Kurzweil the restless genius The Wall Street Journal ultimate thinking machine Forbes and inventor of the most innovative and compelling technology of our era In his inspired hands life in the new millennium no longer seems daunting Instead it promises to be an age in which the marriage of human sensitivity and artificial intelligence fundamentally alters and improves the way we live More than just a list of predictions Kurzweil s prophetic blueprint for the future guides us through the inexorable advances that will result in Computers exceeding the memory capacity and computational ability of the human brain with human level capabilities not far behind Relationships with automated personalities who will be our teachers companions and lovers Information fed straight into our brains along direct neural pathways Eventually the distinction between humans and computers will have become sufficiently blurred that when the machines claim to be conscious we will believe them   Reading Writing Interfaces Lori Emerson,2014-06-01 Lori Emerson examines how interfaces from today s multitouch devices to yesterday s desktops from typewriters to Emily Dickinson s self bound fascicle volumes mediate between writer and text as well as between writer and reader Following the threads of experimental writing from the present into the past she shows how writers have long tested and transgressed technological boundaries Reading the means of production as well as the creative works they produce Emerson demonstrates that technologies are more than mere tools and that the interface is not a neutral border between writer and machine but is in fact a collaborative creative space Reading Writing Interfaces begins with digital literature s defiance of the alleged invisibility of ubiquitous computing and multitouch in the early twenty first century and then looks back at the ideology of the user friendly graphical user interface that emerged along with the Apple Macintosh computer of the 1980s She considers poetic experiments with and against the strictures of the typewriter in the 1960s and 1970s and takes a fresh look at Emily Dickinson s self printing projects as a challenge to the coherence of the book Through archival research Emerson offers examples of how literary engagements with screen based and print based technologies have transformed reading and writing She reveals the ways in which writers from Emily Dickinson to Jason Nelson and Judd Morrissey work with and against media interfaces to undermine the assumed transparency of conventional literary practice   Imagining Language Jed Rasula,Steve McCaffery,2001 When works such as Joyce s Finnegans Wake and Stein s Tender Buttons were first introduced they went so far beyond prevailing linguistic standards that they were widely considered unreadable if not scandalous Jed Rasula and

Steve McCaffery take these and other examples of twentieth century avant garde writing as the starting point for a collection of writings that demonstrates a continuum of creative conjecture on language from antiquity to the present The anthology which spans three millennia generally bypasses chronology in order to illuminate unexpected congruities between seemingly discordant materials Together the writings celebrate the scope and prodigality of linguistic speculation in the West going back to the pre Socratics   Teaching Literature at a Distance Takis Kayalis,Anastasia Natsina,2010-03-04 Featuring essays by an international array of literature scholars this volume examines the challenges and opportunities of teaching literature at Open and Virtual Universities in a wide range of national cultural and linguistic contexts It presents cutting edge explorations of seminal issues including literature pedagogy and curriculum building canon and theory debates the uses of hypertext and other digital tools for literary instruction the writing and evaluation of educational material and the teaching of digital literature These issues are addressed from various critical and theoretical viewpoints which reflect the contributors long educational and administrative involvement with open and distance learning ODL in a rich diversity of cultural and academic frameworks As the first scholarly attempt to bring together questions of literature pedagogy and issues in open and distance online and blended learning this book is an essential resource for literature instructors and administrators in ODL e learning and b learning programs It offers techniques enabling scholars in more traditional academic settings to make literature courses more effective and stimulating by using tools developed for distance learning   The Creative Mind Margaret A. Boden,2004 This second edition of The Creative Mind has been updated to include recent developments in artificial intelligence with a new preface introduction and conclusion by the author   From Literature to Biterature Peter Swirski,2013-10-01 From Literature to Biterature is based on the premise that in the foreseeable future computers will become capable of creating works of literature Among hundreds of other questions it considers Under which conditions would machines become capable of creative writing Given that computer evolution will exceed the pace of natural evolution a million fold what will such a state of affairs entail in terms of art culture social life and even nonhuman rights Drawing a map of impending literary cultural social and technological revolutions Peter Swirski boldly assumes that computers will leap from mere syntax driven processing to semantically rich understanding He argues that acknowledging biterature as a species of literature will involve adopting the same range of attitudes to computer authors computhors as to human ones and that it will be necessary to approach them as agents with internal states and creative intentions Ranging from the metafiction of Stanislaw Lem to the Turing test familiar to scientists working in Artificial Intelligence and the philosophers of mind to the evolutionary trends of culture and machines Swirski s scenarios lay the groundwork for a new area of study on the cusp of literary futurology evolutionary cognition and philosophy of the future   Built by Animals Mike Hansell,2007-10-18 From termite mounds that in relative terms are three times as tall as a skyscraper to the elaborate nests of social birds and the deadly traps of spiders the constructions of the animal world can amaze and at times humble our own engineering and technology But how do creatures with such small brains build these complex structures What drives them to do it Which skills are innate and which learned Here Mike Hansell looks at the extraordinary structures that animals build whether homes traps or courtship displays and reveals the biology behind their behaviour He shows how small brained animals achieve complex feats in a small brained way by repeating many simple actions and using highly evolved self secreted materials On the other hand the building feats or tool use of large brained animals such as humans or chimps require significantly more complex and costly behaviour We look at wasp s nests leaf cutting ants caddisflies and amoebae and even the extraordinary bower bird who seduces his mate with a decorated pile of twigs baubles feathers and berries Hansell explores how animal structures evolved over time how insect societies emerge how animals can alter their wider habitat and even whether some animals have an aesthetic sense First You Write a Sentence Joe Moran,2019-08-13 Do you want to write clearer livelier prose This witty primer will help The New York Times Book Review An exploration of how the most ordinary words can be turned into verbal constellations of extraordinary grace through the art of building sentences The sentence is the common ground where every writer walks A good sentence can be written and read by anyone if we simply give it the gift of our time and it is as close as most of us will get to making something truly beautiful Using minimal technical terms and sources ranging from the Bible and Shakespeare to George Orwell and Maggie Nelson as well as scientific studies of what can best fire the reader s mind author Joe Moran shows how we can all write in a way that is clear compelling and alive Whether dealing with finding the ideal word building a sentence or constructing a paragraph First You Write a Sentence informs by light example much richer than a style guide it can be read not only for instruction but for pleasure and delight And along the way it shows how good writing can help us notice the world make ourselves known to others and live more meaningful lives It s an elegant gem in praise of the English sentence Mechanical Bodies, Computational Minds Stefano Franchi,Güven Güzeldere,2005 Researchers in artificial intelligence and scholars in the humanities consider the past present and future of artificial intelligence from a multidisciplinary perspective The Routledge Handbook of Ethics in Technical and Professional Communication Derek G.
