Policy Simulations With An Econometric Model:

Policy Simulations with an Econometric Model Gary Fromm, Paul Taubman, 1968 Economic theory comprising presentation of econometrics research methodology for use in economic research in evaluating economic policy issues refers in particular to the economy of the USA and covers structure of the model solutions and simulations etc Economic Models for Policy Making Solomon Cohen, 2013-05-02 Over the past decades many different kinds of models have been developed that have been of use to policy makers but until now the different approaches have not been brought together with a view to enhancing the systematic unification and evaluation of these models This new volume aims to fill this gap by bringing together four decades worth of work by S I Cohen on economic modelling for policy making Work on older models has been rewritten and brought fully up to date and these older models have therefore been brought back to the fore both to assess how they influenced more recent models and to see how they could be used today The focus of the book is on models for development policies in developing economies but there are some chapters that relate to economic policies in transition and developed economies The policy areas covered are of typical interest in developing and transition economies They include those relating to trade liberalization reforms sustainable development industrial development agrarian reform growth and distribution human resource development and education public goods and income transfers Each chapter contains a brief assessment of the empirical literature on the economic effects of the policy measures discussed in the chapter The book presents a platform of economic modelling that can serve as a refresher for practising professionals as well as a reference companion for graduates engaging in economic modelling and policy preparations A Comparison of Econometric Models United States. Congress. Joint Economic Committee, 1978 Economic Models for Dairy Policy Analysis, 1994 Policy Simulations with an Econometric Model [by] Gary Fromm [and] Paul Taubman Gary Fromm, 1968 Econometric Models of Asian Link Shinichi Ichimura, Mitsuo Ezaki, 2012-12-06 This is the first outcome of our effort in ASIAN LINK PROJECT to construct the econometric models of Asian developing countries and analyze their inter dependence with major trading partners the United States and Japan The model we present here is called Asian Link System The countries in this system include Korea Taiwan Hong Kong China the Philippines Thailand Malaysia Singapore Indonesia Japan and the United States They are covered by national models The rest of the world is divided into several regions and treated by simple proto type models The main characteristics of Asian Link System are to deal with the inter dependent relations between Asian developing countries on the one hand and Japan and United States on the other hand Here are presented these national models and the Asian Link System with the underlying statistical data so that any econometrician can re estimate our models and check the results of our research work Nowadays most articles and books in econometrics report only the final results or conclusions of research so that no other econometrician can re calculate or re examine the findings This is very serious in the empirical research because as theorists may make mistakes positive economists do commit errors or miss some possible considerations Unless statistical data are offered other econometricians cannot make suggestions or improve the models This is the main reason why empirical research in econometrics or applied econometrics are not making substantial progress in recent years

Economic Modeling of Water Glyn Wittwer, 2012-03-06 The book details the innovative TERM The Enormous Regional Model approach to regional and national economic modeling and explains the conversion from a comparative static to a dynamic model It moves on to an adaptation of TERM to water policy including the additional theoretical and database requirements of the dynamic TERM H2O model In particular it examines the contrasting economic impacts of water buyback policy and recurring droughts in the Murray Darling Basin South east Queensland where climate uncertainty has been borne out by record breaking drought and the worst floods in living memory provides a chapter length case study The exploration of the policy background and implications of TERM s dynamic modeling will provide food for thought in policy making circles worldwide where there is a pressing need for solutions to similarly intractable problems in water management

Econometric Model Performance Lawrence R. Klein, Edwin Burmeister, 2016-11-11 Models of the American economy exist in government research institutes universities and private corporations Given the proliferation it is wise to take stock because these models come from diverse sources and describe different conditions from alternative points of view They could be saying different things about the economy The high level comparative studies in this volume gathered from several issues of the International Economic Review with a substantive introduction and the addition of more comparative material evaluate the performance of eleven models of the American economy the Wharton Mark III Model Brookings Model Hickman Coen Annual Model Liu Hwa Monthly Model Data Resources Inc DRI Model Federal Reserve Bank of St Louis Model Michigan Quarterly Econometric MOEM Model Wharton Annual and Industry Model Anticipation Version of the Wharton Mark III Model Fair Model U S Department of Commerce BEA Model Each of the proprietors or builders of these models describes his own system in his own words These studies come closer than ever before to standardizing model operations for testing purposes Some of the models are monthly while others are annual but the quarterly unit of time is the most frequent Some are demand oriented others are supply oriented and focus on the input output sectors of the economy Some use only observed objective data others use subjective anticipatory data Both large and small models are included In spite of the diversity the contributors have cooperated to trace the differences between their models to root causes and to report jointly the results of their research There are also some general papers that look at model performance from outside the CEME group

Comparative Performance of U.S. Econometric Models Lawrence Robert Klein, 1991 Each year a number of different economic groups in the USA use their own econometric models to forecast what will happen to the economy in the coming year This volume consists of chapters by distinguished economists comparing the different models now being used

Theory and Implementation of Economic Models for Sustainable Development J.C. van den

Bergh, M.W. Hofkes, 2013-03-09 There is widespread concern for long term environmental issues in relation to economic processes and developments Among the concerned scientists are economists who have taken up the challenge to apply economic insights and tools for the study of long term environment economy interactions and to give the concept of sustainable development economic hands and feet This book presents a pluralistic perspective on efforts problems and successes in this area This collection of papers was originally prepared for an international symposium titled Economic Modelling of Sustainable Development Between Theory and Practice which was hosted by the Vrije Universiteit in Amsterdam on December 20th 1996 The main motivation for this symposium was that the usefulness of the concept of sustainable development for theoretical and applied modelling is still being debated growth theorists resource economists ecological economists policy makers and many others are trying to deal with the concept in various and sometimes conflicting ways The aim of the symposium was to bring together different theoretical and implementational perspectives on modelling for sustainable development We hope that this volume will inform a wide audience about the perspectives and progress in this important area of research as well as stimulate further research notably on applied modelling and practical methods for the analysis of sustainable development at various spatial scales The papers have in due course been revised several times based on comments made by discussants referees and the editors Systems Analysis and Simulation 1988, II

A. Sydow, S. G. Tzafestas, R. Vichnevetsky, 2022-01-19 No detailed description available for Systems Analysis and Simulation 1988 II Global International Economic Models B.G. Hickman, 2014-06-28 This volume surveys the state of the art of global international modeling All 15 models included in the survey feature national or regional disaggregation of the world economy and interdependencies among the various nations and regions A few are constructed for short term forecasting but the primary focus is on long run models and applications Macroeconomic input output general equilibrium trade and exchange rate and several hybrid models are included A cross sectional analysis by the editor compares the structures linkage mechanisms methodologies and applications of the various models and concludes with some observations on prospective research trends Econometric Decision Models J. Gruber, 2012-12-06 Australia's Economy in Its International Context, Volume 2: 1956-2012 Kym Anderson, 2012 This two volume collection brings together the first 56 Joseph Fisher Lectures in economics and commerce presented at the Adelaide University every other year since 1904 Funds for the Lectures together with a medal for the top accounting student each year were kindly provided by a 1 000 endowment to the University by the prominent Adelaide businessman Joseph Fisher in 1903 The Lectures address a wide range of Australian economic issues in addition to some international economic issues of national significance They have stood the test of time extremely well while also providing a reminder of the events and concerns that were prominent at different times during the past century An Econometric Model of the Urban Opportunity Structure George C. Galster, 1998 Using an extensive database for the nation's 100 largest cities this report examines the relationships among the housing mortgage and labor markets the local public sector household location patterns and crime dropping out of school and out of wedlock childbearing In addition to its comprehensiveness this is also the first work to examine how underserved areas as defined by HUD interact with the various components of the opportunity structure Includes 3 appendices a glossary of variables estimation of housing price indexes and reduced form estimates standardized coefficients R & D Monograph , Selected Papers Of Lawrence R Klein: Theoretical Reflections And Econometric Applications Kanta Marwah,1997-06-01 This volume contains selected papers of Lawrence R Klein in economics econometric theory and applications in modeling forecasting macroeconomic analysis international economics and public policy Nobel Laureate Lawrence Klein s bibliography spans a half century including books articles and chapters in conference proceedings festschriften and thematic books One such volume of solely scientific collections mainly from his relatively early articles has already been published The present volume is different it includes some articles but largely chapters or book excerpts that were mostly written since 1980 the approximate cut off date of the prior volume and the year of his Nobel Prize Also it includes things that were published in very limited or obscure editions Thus it provides a more complete picture of his scholarly career and his current reflections on the state of economic science All these writings are in the vanguard of thinking about economics in a global domain The thirty five plus selections are organized in five parts by major themes An editorial commentary introduces each part The introductory chapters include Klein s autobiographical research commentary and his professional life philosophy Occupational Employment Projections for Labor Market Areas Harvey A. Goldstein,1981 Handbook of International Economics R.W. Jones,P.B. Kenen,1988-05-01 This Handbook adopts a traditional definition of the subject and focuses primarily on the explanation of international transactions in goods services and assets and on the main domestic effects of those transactions The first volume deals with the real side of international economics It is concerned with the explanation of trade and factor flows with their main effects on goods and factor prices on the allocation of resources and income distribution and on economic welfare and also with the effects on national policies designed explicitly to influence trade and factor flows In other words it deals chiefly with microeconomic issues and methods The second volume deals with the monetary side of the subject It is concerned with the balance of payments adjustment process under fixed exchange rates with exchange rate determination under flexible exchange rates and with the domestic ramifications of these phenomena Accordingly it deals mainly with economic issues although microeconomic methods are frequently utilized especially in work on expectations asset markets and exchange rate behavior For more information on the Handbooks in Economics series please see our home page on <http://www.elsevier.nl/locate/hes>
