Political Development in Singapore, 1945-1955 Kim Wah Yeo, 1973      The Transformation of Southeast Asia Ronald W. Pruessen, Marc Frey, Tan-Tai Yong, 2015-05-22 Providing the basis for a reconceptualization of key features in Southeast Asia's history this book examines evolutionary patterns of Europe's and Japan's Southeast Asian empires from the late 19th century through to the 1960s      Imperial Policy and Southeast Asian Nationalism Hans Antlov, Stein Tonnesson, 2013-10-08 Traditionally the tumultuous period 1930-50 in South East Asia has been viewed as a dichotomy of European vs Asian or imperialist vs nationalist This highly acclaimed volume presents another triangular perspective and challenges established wisdom about the period      The Far East and Australasia 2003 Europa Publications, 2002 A unique survey of each country in the region It includes an extensive collection of facts statistics analysis and directory information in one accessible volume      The Hadhrami Diaspora in Southeast Asia Hassan Ibrahim, Abu Shouk, 2009-02-15 This volume originates from the proceedings of an international conference convened by the Department of History and Civilization International Islamic University Malaysia in collaboration with the Embassy of the Republic of Yemen in Kuala Lumpur from 26 to 28 August 2005 Twelve out of thirty five papers presented at the conference have been reviewed thoroughly revised and published in this volume The introduction and the twelve chapters address the question of Hadhrami identity in Southeast Asia from various perspectives and investigate the patterns of Hadhrami interaction with diverse cultures values and beliefs in the region Special attention is paid to Hadhrami local and transnational politics social stratification and integration religious social reform and journalism as well as to economic dynamism and the cosmopolitan character of the Hadhrami societies in Southeast Asia      Southeast Asian Affairs 2011 Daljit Singh, 2003-08-01 Founded in 1974 Southeast Asian Affairs provides without fear or favour informed and in depth annual analyses of this vibrant region and its component countries It is the only publication which does this and is in its own class without peers It is a mandatory reference and read for those seriously interested in knowing Southeast Asia Professor A B Shamsul Founding Director Institute of Ethnic Studies Universiti Kebangsaan Malaysia e Now in its 38th edition Southeast Asian Affairs offers an indispensable guide to this fascinating region Lively analytical authoritative and accessible there is nothing comparable in quality or range to this series It is a must read for academics government officials the business community the media and anybody with an interest in contemporary Southeast Asia Drawing on its unparalleled network of researchers and commentators ISEAS is to be congratulated for producing this major contribution to our understanding of this diverse and fast changing region to a consistently high standard and in a timely manner e Hal Hill H W Arndt Professor of Southeast Asian Economies Australian National University      The Constitution of Singapore Kevin YL Tan, 2015-04-30 Singapore's Constitution was hastily cobbled together after her secession from the Federation of Malaysia in 1965 In the subsequent 50 years the Constitution has been amended many times to evolve a Constitution like no other in the world Outwardly Singapore has a Westminster type constitutional democracy with an elected legislature fundamental liberties and safeguards to ensure the independence of the judiciary On closer inspection the Constitution displays many innovative and unusual characteristics Most notable among them are the various types of Members of Parliament that have been introduced since the mid 1980s the office of the Elected President and the fact that there is no constitutional right to property This volume seeks to explain the nature and context of these constitutional innovations in the context of a pluralistic multi ethnic state obsessed with public order and security The volatile racial mix of Singapore with its majority Chinese population nestled in a largely Malay Islamic world compels the state to search for ethnic management solutions through the Constitution to guarantee to the Malays and other ethnic minorities their status in the polity In addition it examines how the concept of the rule of law is perceived by the strong centrist state governed by a political party that has been in power since 1959 and continues to hold almost hegemonic power

Southeast Asia and the Cold War Albert Lau, 2012-07-26 The origins and the key defining moments of the Cold War in Southeast Asia have been widely debated This book focuses on an area that has received less attention the impact and legacy of the Cold War on the various countries in the region as well as on the region itself The book contributes to the historiography of the Cold War in Southeast Asia by examining not only how the conflict shaped the milieu in which national and regional change unfolded but also how the context influenced the course and tenor of the Cold War in the region It goes on to look at the usefulness or limitations of using the Cold War as an interpretative framework for understanding change in Southeast Asia Chapters discuss how the Cold War had a varied but notable impact on the countries in Southeast Asia not only on the mainland countries belonging to what the British Foreign Office called the upper arc but also on those situated on its maritime lower arc The book is an important contribution to the fields of Asian Studies and International Relations

Comet in Our Sky Poh Soo Kai, Singapore's political firmament is crowded with stars who could have lit up to the island state's history but were snuffed out by detention and harassment before they could do so One of the brightest was probably Lim Chin Siong who with Lee Kuan Yew was one of the founders of the People's Action Party but he spent more time in detention than representing his constituents Lim Chin Siong was the most prominent left wing leader in Singapore for a decade until he was eliminated from the political scene by the infamous Operation Coldstore on February 2 1963 This book is an account of Lim's significance in Singapore's political developments in the decade preceding It also contains tributes by his friends and colleagues in Singapore and Malaysia an assessment of his life by many who were inspired by him This new edition features an essay by Dr Poh Soo Kai and an extract from Lim's posthumous manuscripts The Ruling Elite of Singapore Michael D. Barr, 2014-01-17 Michael Barr explores the complex and covert networks of power at work in one of the world's most prosperous countries the city state of Singapore He argues that the contemporary networks of power are a deliberate project initiated and managed by Lee Kuan Yew former prime minister and Singapore's founding father designed to empower himself and his family Barr identifies the crucial institutions of power including the country's sovereign wealth funds and the government linked companies together with five critical features that form the key to understanding the nature of the networks He provides an assessment of possible shifts of power within the elite in the wake of Lee Kuan Yew's son Lee Hsien Loong assuming power and considers the possibility of a more fundamental democratic shift in Singapore's political system

Southeast Asian Personalities of Chinese Descent Leo Suryadinata, 2012 This is a bold project recording the lives of a particular group of Southeast Asians Most of the people whose biographies are included here have settled down in the ten countries that constitute the region Each of them has either self identified as Chinese or is comfortable to be known as someone of Chinese ancestry There are also those who were born in China or elsewhere who came here to work and do business including seeking help from others who have ethnic Chinese connections With the political and economic conditions of the region in a great state of flux for the past two centuries it is impossible to find consistency in the naming process Confucius had stressed that correct names make for the best relationships In this case Professor Leo Suryadinata has been pursuing for decades the elusive goal of finding the right name to give to the large numbers of people who have in one way or another made their homes in or made some difference to Southeast Asia I believe that when he and his colleagues selected the biographies to be included here they have taken a big step towards the rectification of identities for many leading personalities In so doing he has done us all a great service Professor Wang Gungwu National University of Singapore

Contesting Chineseness Chang-Yau Hoon, Ying-kit Chan, 2021-03-15 Combining a historical approach of Chineseness and a contemporary perspective on the social construction of Chineseness this book provides comparative insights to understand the contingent complexities of ethnic and social formations in both China and among the Chinese diaspora in Southeast Asia This book focuses on the experiences and practices of these people who as mobile agents are free to embrace or reject being defined as Chinese by moving across borders and reinterpreting their own histories By historicizing the notion of Chineseness at local regional and global levels the book examines intersections of authenticity authority culture identity media power and international relations that support or undermine different instances of Chineseness and its representations It seeks to rescue the present from the past by presenting case studies of contingent encounters that produce the ideas practices and identities that become the categories nations need to justify their existence The dynamic fluid representations of Chineseness illustrate that it has never been an undifferentiated whole in both space and time Through physical movements and inherited knowledge agents of Chineseness have deployed various interpretive strategies to define and represent themselves vis vis the local regional and global in their respective temporal experiences This book will be relevant to students and scholars in Chinese studies and Asian studies more broadly with a focus on identity politics migration popular culture and international relations The Chinese overseas often saw themselves as caught between a rock and a hard place The collection of essays here highlights the variety of experiences in Southeast Asia and China that suggest that the rock can become a huge boulder with sharp edges and the hard places can have deadly spikes A must read for those who wonder whether Chineseness has ever been what it seems Wang Gungwu University Professor National University of Singapore By including reflections on constructions of Chineseness in both China itself and in various Southeast Asian sites the book shows that being Chinese is by no means necessarily intertwined with China as a geopolitical concept while at the same time highlighting the incongruities and tensions in the escapable relationship with China that diasporic Chinese subjects variously embody expressed in a wide range of social phenomena such as language use popular culture architecture and family relations The book is a very welcome addition to the necessary ongoing conversation on Chineseness in the 21st century Ien Ang Distinguished Professor of Cultural Studies Western Sydney University Westminster Legacies Haig Patapan, John Wana, Patrick Moray Weller, 2005 Examines the ways in which the Westminster system has influenced the shaping of responsible government and democracy across Asia Australasia and the Pacific It also examines the ways the Westminster system has been adapted in these different countries in the light of local practices and traditions Changing Identities of the Southeast Asian Chinese Since World War II Jennifer Cushman, Gungwu Wang, 1988-11-01 In June 1985 a symposium Changing Identities of the Southeast Asian Chinese since World War II was held at the Australian National University in Canberra This volume includes many of the papers from that symposium presented by ANU scholars and those from universities elsewhere in Australia North America and Southeast Asia Participants looked at the current thinking about the parameters of identity and shared their own research into the complex issues that overlapping categories of identity raise Identity was chosen as the focus of the symposium because perceptions of self whether by others or by the individual Chinese concerned appear to lie at the heart of the present day Chinese experience in Southeast Asia It is also evident that identity wears many guises and that we cannot talk about a single Chinese identity when identity can be determined by the different political social economic or religious circumstances an individual faces at any given time One of the distinctive characteristics of all the essays in this volume is that they are written from an historical perspective While the papers focus on how recent developments in Southeast Asian society have shaped Chinese identity they also discuss those changes in terms of the historical matrix from which they developed Because many of the essays in this volume combine an historical overview with more recent statistical data it should serve as a useful companion to the increasingly popular case studies in which much of the writing about the Chinese in Southeast Asia is now cast Constitutional Foundings in Southeast Asia Kevin YL Tan, Ngoc Son Bui, 2019-05-30 This volume focuses on the making nature and role of the first modern constitutions at the founding of the modern nation states in Southeast Asia These historical essays add richly to our understanding and appreciation of the founding moments and to the theory and practice of constitutionalism in these states This volume makes three significant contributions First it helps plug the wide knowledge gap in comparative constitutional history in Southeast Asia Second it furthers our understanding of contemporary constitutional practice and also anticipates possible developmental trajectories in light of the foundational values embedded in and manifested through these constitutions Third through the comparative historical study of these early constitutions plausible theoretical insights may be gained to further our understanding of Southeast Asia's constitutional history The book is essential reading for those wishing to obtain a deeper understanding of the constitutional foundations of Southeast Asia The Statesman's Year-Book 1984-85 J.

Paxton, 2016-12-15 The classic reference work that provides annually updated information on the countries of the world

Hard Choices Donald Low, 2014-04-22 Singapore is changing The consensus that the PAP government has constructed and maintained over five decades is fraying The assumptions that underpin Singaporean exceptionalism are no longer accepted as easily and readily as before Among these are the ideas that the country is uniquely vulnerable that this vulnerability limits its policy and political options that good governance demands a degree of political consensus that ordinary democratic arrangements cannot produce and that the country's success requires a competitive meritocracy accompanied by relatively little income or wealth redistribution But the policy and political conundrums that Singapore faces today are complex and defy easy answers Confronted with a political landscape that is likely to become more contested how should the government respond What reforms should it pursue This collection of essays suggests that a far reaching and radical rethinking of the country's policies and institutions is necessary even if it weakens the very consensus that enabled Singapore to succeed in its first fifty years Covert colonialism Florence Mok, 2023-07-11 This book fills the long standing void in the existing scholarship by constructing an empirical study of colonial governance and political culture in Hong Kong from 1966 to 1997 Using underexploited archival and unofficial data in London and Hong Kong it overcomes the limitations in the existing literature which has been written mainly by political scientists and sociologists and has been primarily theoretically driven It addresses a highly contested and timely agenda one in which colonial historians have made major interventions the nature of colonial governance and autonomy of the colonial polity This book focusing on colonialism and the Chinese society in Hong Kong in a pivotal period will generate meaningful discussions and heated debates on comparisons between colonialism in different space and time between Hong Kong and other former British colonies and between colonial and post colonial Hong Kong The University Socialist Club and the Contest for Malaya Edgar

Liao, Cheng Tju Lim, Guo Quan Seng, 2012 The book using a small group of left wing student activists as a prism explores the complex politics that underpinned the making of nation states in Singapore and Malaysia after World War Two While most works have viewed the period in terms of political contestation groups the book demonstrates how it is better understood as involving a shared modernist project framed by British planned decolonization This pursuit of nationalist modernity was characterized by an optimism to replace the colonial system with a new state and mobilize the people into a new relationship with the state according them new responsibilities as well as new rights This book based on student writings official documents and oral history interviews brings to life various modernist strands liberal democratic ethnic communal and Fabian and Marxist socialist seeking to determine the form of post colonial Malaya It uncovers a hitherto little seen world where the meanings of loud slogans were fluid vague and deeply contested This world also comprised as much convergence between the groups as conflict including collaboration between the Socialist Club and other political and student groups which were once its rivals while its main ally eventually became its nemesis Publisher s description      Political Development in Singapore, 1945-55 Kim Wah Yeo,1973
