Politics Within Nations Joseph LaPalombara,1974 Comparing Apples and Mangoes S. N. Sangmpam,2012-02-01

Two competing approaches currently dominate the debate about the state and institutions in developing countries The first projects a picture of transnational vertical uniformity descending from the West to developing countries and views liberal democracy as the only game in town In this view the state and institutions resemble or ought to resemble those in the West The second by contrast explains political outcomes by local idiosyncrasies and regional variations in institutions In his original approach to third world politics S N Sangmpam challenges both views by uncovering important similarities in the political features of developing countries He shows that they share political behaviors and features unaccounted for in either local idiosyncratic or liberal democratic theories These behaviors converge toward a common property overpoliticization that defies political compromise leading to an overpoliticized state Sangmpam provides a wealth of empirical historical and quantitative evidence from Latin America Asia Africa and the West and demonstrates the overpoliticized state constitutes the cornerstone of an integrated theory of politics in developing countries

Stalin's Successors Seweryn Bialer,2001 This book provides a comprehensive overview of the ways in which the structure and process of Soviet politics have been transformed since Stalin s death and particularly during the years of the Brezhnev regime In explaining the Soviet Union s political stability the author analyzes the Soviet combination of harsh authoritarian rule with political flexibility in the treatment of its citizens and he describes the social processes that contribute to this stability He also analyzes the Soviet perception of the current international situation and discusses trends in Soviet foreign policy including the imbalance between military power on the one hand and political economic ideological and cultural resources on the other Professor Bialer explains the Soviet concept of détente and explores the difference between Soviet and American perceptions of this process A major part of the work is devoted to an examination of the imminent succession of the Soviet leadership The book gives a profile of the new generation of potential leaders and identifies the characteristics that make them different from those whom they will replace The Soviet leadership while embroiled in its succession struggle will have to make difficult decisions concerning the allocation of national resources and overall changes in management planning and incentives Professor Bialer concludes by analyzing the kinds of economic reform that could make the problems manageable and the conditions under which the new Soviet leadership will need to institute reforms Background Readings Industrial College of the Armed Forces (U.S.),1972
