Parliamentary Government in Australia Alan J. Ward,2014-02-15

Alan J Ward combines constitutional history and political science to compare all nine of Australia s political systems federal state and territorial from colonial times to the present Guided by a model of parliamentary government drawn from comparative politics he considers the following key topics the selection of the government the prime minister and cabinet government control of the lower house the primacy of the lower house in bicameral systems the head of state the influence of Australian federalism on parliamentary government and the growth of executive democracy in Australia Ultimately Ward argues that as only one of Australia's nine constitutions accurately describes parliamentary government as practiced in the country it is a democratic imperative that the other eight be rewritten The Australian Study of Politics R.

Rhodes, 2009-11-11 The Australian Study of Politics provides the first comprehensive reference book on the history of the study of politics in Australia whether described as political studies or political science. It focuses on Australia and on developments since WWII, also exploring the historical roots of each major subfield Politics in Australia Martin Drum, John Tate, Victoria Perselli, 2012-06-25 As the second title in Palgrave Macmillan's Assessing the Evidence series, Politics in Australia adopts both a historical and conceptual approach dealing with issues considered fundamental to the Australian political system throughout the twentieth and twenty-first centuries. This text provides a detailed examination of the structural elements as well as the key concepts considered central to an understanding of Australian politics at a Commonwealth level such as federalism, the constitution, parliament, executive government, citizenship, liberalism, conservatism, political parties, democracy Australian Politics in the Twenty-First Century Stewart Jackson, Joff

Lelliott, Shannon Brincat, Josephine Bourne, Nick Economou, 2022-09-02 Australian Politics in the Twenty-First Century is an invaluable introduction to the Australian political system Politics and Resistance of Coal in Australia and India Ruchira Talukdar, 2025-01-31 Since 2009, international climate activism has focused on stopping coalmining in solidarity with local and Indigenous struggles that are resisting coalmining. Based on ethnographic and historic research in Australia and India, this book compares the politics and resistance to coal in the two countries, particularly focusing on the time period between 2009 and 2018 and the case of the Carmichael coalmine in Queensland and the Mahan coalmine in central India. This book shows differences and similarities in the political economy of coal and creates understanding about the significantly different imperatives and narratives of anti-coal environmentalism in Australia and India. Through the Stop Adani movement and its collaboration with the Wangan and Jagalingou Traditional Owners and farmers against coalmining in Queensland and Greenpeace and forest-based communities resisting coalmining in Madhya Pradesh, Ruchira Talukdar not only explores anti-coal movement dynamics but also how these movements grapple with the violation of Indigenous land rights through coal extraction in both places. Drawing on differences and patterns in Australian and Indian anti-coal activism, this book proposes a global outlook, an intersectional framework beyond the singularity of stopping coal that can encapsulate visions for secure futures of communities on the frontlines of fossil fuel struggles for climate activism. The conclusions help to decolonize climate activism as well as make it cognizant of global North-South contextual differences for effective solidarity. The author's unique vantage point through experience in environmental activism over 20 years across Australia and India, combined with research in both countries, makes this book a crucial resource for scholars and practitioners in just transition, climate politics, and environmental activism across the global North and South APAIS 1992: Australian public affairs information
