Who Do You Think You Are? Stephen M. Smith, Shaun Fanning, 2017-10-18 Give your kids their greatest chance at success Who Do You Think You Are helps parents school counselors and administrators get teens thinking about and interested in their future careers Success in college and beyond relies on thorough prior preparation by identifying interests and passions early on young people are better able to plan for the career they want by mapping out the academic path to support it This book shows you how to guide teens along on this journey and how to stick with them until they reach the goals they've set. From helping them discover just what it is they're interested in to finding the institution that will help them flourish and setting out a clear plan of attack, this book provides invaluable insight from an expert in student success. No one expects every student to have a definitive life plan by high school graduation, but having some idea of direction is critical. Nearly 3.3 million students will graduate high school this year, and most will head straight to college, but just 20 percent of those who pursue an associate's degree complete within four years, and only 60 percent of those who pursue a bachelor's degree complete within six years. Even those who earn a degree may struggle to move from school to work. Those who do succeed have done so because they've planned their work and worked their plans. This book shows you how to help your child to be one of the success stories. Map out an academic plan to support each kid's field of interest. Identify the best fit institution to get them where they want to be. Balance support and independence throughout your teen's journey. Help your child be prepared for college so they can succeed far beyond. Adults know that success in life comes from plenty of hard work and thorough preparation, but for kids in middle and high school, that lesson is just now beginning to hit home. Who Do You Think You Are helps you guide them through the transition successfully so they can come out the other side exactly where they want to be.

Supervision
In The Helping Professions Hawkins, Peter, Shohet, Robin, 2012-07-01 Supervision in the Helping Professions remains a core text in our trainings, and we welcome the updates including the increased focus on ethics and diversity, the discussion of enabled modes of supervision, and the review of research. What is so encouraging to students, trainers, and practitioners is the beginner's mind with which the authors continue to approach the subject, their tireless enthusiasm for enquiry, and their commitment to the learning edge. The launch of this edition coincides with the launch of the first UKCP Professional Register for Supervisors. The authors have done much to promote the development of supervision, and all future professional trainings in supervision will rely on their wisdom and experience. Key words for this edition are sustainability, resourcing, and deeper levels of self-reflection, mirroring the movement of our profession which increasingly turns outwards, asking how we can effect societal as well as individual change. Tree Staunton, Director of Studies, Bath Centre for Psychotherapy and Counselling, and Chair of the Humanistic and Integrative College of UKCP. This book remains a seminal text in supervision. In the fourth edition, the authors bring a contemporary perspective to bear on supervision, with an emphasis on the wider contextual and cultural contexts of our work as supervisors. I appreciate above all the fearless compassion with which the authors have addressed the challenges that face us as supervisors in a global culture and at the same time their ongoing stress on integrating the emotional and the rational the personal and the organizational in a very accessible model of supervision Professor Maria Gilbert Metanoia Institute West London This bestselling book provides a comprehensive guide to supervision for professionals across the social care and helping professions as well as those working in education coaching and human resources Thoroughly updated the book has a new introduction showing how the world context in which helping professions operate has fundamentally changed in the last 25 years and the implications of this for supervision The seven eyed supervision model at the core of the book has been expanded and developed to reflect its use in many professions and different parts of the world The authors also incorporate viewpoints from other academics and practitioners who have commented on the model New to this edition A new chapter on ethics and handling difficult situations in supervision A new chapter and new models of reflective practice New material on training supervisors including the important area of supervision of supervision Revised chapters on group and team supervision with new material on supervising team development and team coaching More case studies of supervision in a wide range of different professions Further practical advice for supervisees on how to recognize contribute to and ask for good supervision With contributions from Judy Ryde and Joan Wilmot
