Amateurs, Photography, and the Mid-Victorian Imagination

Grace Seiberling, 1986-05 This book results from research which was begun with all the casualness but inherent seriousness of the nineteenth century amateur I had the privilege of frequent access to the archives of the International Museum of Photography at George Eastman House and began to go through the nineteenth century photographs in a systematic way I wanted to go beyond the clichés of the history of photography as a series of often reproduced masterworks and to find out something about the history of seeing or at least of thinking about images in the nineteenth century

Pr face The Photobook Patrizia Di Bello, Colette Wilson, Shamooin Zamir, 2020-08-07 The photograph found a home in the book before it won for itself a place on the gallery wall Only a few years after the birth of photography the publication of Henry Fox Talbot's The Pencil of Nature heralded a new genre in the history of the book one in which the photograph was the primary vehicle of expression and communication or stood in equal if sometimes conflicted partnership with the written word In this book practicing photographers and writers across several fields of scholarship share a range of fresh approaches to reading the photobook developing new ways of understanding how meaning is shaped by an image's interaction with its text and context and engaging with the visual tactile and interactive experience of the photobook in all its dimensions Through close studies of individual works the photobook from fetishised objet d'art to cheaply printed booklet is explored and its unique creative and cultural contributions celebrated

Photography Liz Wells, 2000 This textbook examines key debates in photographic theory and place them in their social and political context This second edition includes key concepts biographies of major thinkers and seminal references and provides a coherent introduction to the nature of photographic viewing

George Rodger Carole Naggar, 2003-10-01 He was a trailblazing twentieth century British photojournalist but George Rodger lived in the adventurous tradition of nineteenth century explorers Cofounding Magnum Photos in 1947 with Henri Cartier Bresson and Robert Capa the modest Rodger was eclipsed by his partners until now Rodger's Indiana Jones style escapades are legendary and worth the telling He once covered over 75 000 miles of old Africa in a Land Rover He even survived a white rhino charge He went on to become a key photographer of African tribal life During World War II he covered sixty one countries for Life magazine He was chased through three hundred miles of Burmese jungles by both the Japanese army and a tribe of headhunters And he was the first to record the liberation of the Bergen

Belsen concentration camp He quit photography when he realized he was arranging thousands of Jewish corpses in nice photographic compositions In fascinating detail Carol Naggar not only recalls Roger's singular life and artistic contribution but she also provides an in depth look at the complex dynamics of ethics violence and photojournalism As such it places the legacy of George Rodger within a broader sociohistorical context Photography: A Critical Introduction Liz Wells, 2015-01-30

Photography A Critical Introduction was the first introductory textbook to examine key debates in photographic theory and place them in their social and political contexts and is now established as one of the leading textbooks in its field Written especially for students in higher education and for introductory college courses this fully revised edition provides a coherent introduction to the nature of photographic seeing Individual chapters cover Key debates in photographic theory and history Documentary photography and photojournalism Personal and popular photography Photography and the human body Photography and commodity culture Photography as art This revised and updated fifth edition includes New case studies on topics such as materialism and embodiment the commodification of human experience and an extended discussion of landscape as genre 98 photographs and images featuring work from Bill Brandt Susan Derges Rineke Dijkstra Fran Herbello Hannah Hoch Karen Knorr Dorothea Lange Chrystel Lebas Susan Meiselas Lee Miller Martin Parr Ingrid Pollard Jacob Riis Alexander Rodchenko Andres Serrano Cindy Sherman and Jeff Wall Fully updated resource information including guides to public archives and useful websites A full glossary of terms and a comprehensive bibliography Contributors Michelle Henning Patricia Holland Derrick Price Anandi Ramamurthy and Liz Wells

Burning with Desire Geoffrey Batchen, 1999-03-15 In an 1828 letter to his partner Nicéphore Niépce Louis Daguerre wrote I am burning with desire to see your experiments from nature In this book Geoffrey Batchen analyzes the desire to photograph as it emerged within the philosophical and scientific milieus that preceded the actual invention of photography Recent accounts of photography's identity tend to divide between the postmodern view that all identity is determined by context and a formalist effort to define the fundamental characteristics of photography as a medium Batchen critiques both approaches by way of a detailed discussion of photography's conception in the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries He examines the output of the various nominees for first photographer then incorporates this information into a mode of historical criticism informed by the work of Michel Foucault and Jacques Derrida The result is a way of thinking about photography that persuasively accords with the medium's undeniable conceptual political and historical complexity

 Fabric in Landscape Architecture Catherine Dee, 2004-03-01 Form and Fabric in Landscape Architecture provides an original visual approach to the study of landscape architecture by creating a spatial morphology based on use and experience of landscapes It explores aesthetic spatial and experiential concepts by providing a structure through which landscapes can be understood and conceived in design Fabric is the integrated structure of whole landscapes while form refers to the components that make up this fabric Together form and fabric create a morphology of landscape useful for the development of visual spatial design thinking and awareness This book is intended as both an introduction to the discipline for students of landscape architecture architecture and planning and a source of continuing interest for more experienced environmental designers The Oxford History of Western Art Martin Kemp, 2000 The Oxford History of Western Art is the new authority on the development of visual culture in the West over the last 2700 years from the classical period to the end of the twentieth century OHWA is an innovative and challenging reappraisal of how the history of art can be presented and understood None of the currently available general histories of art offers the wealth of perspectives and cross media references of this book Through a carefully devised modular structure readers are given insights not only into how and why works of art were created but also how works in different media relate to each other across time Here uniquely is not the simple linear story of art but a rich series of stories told from varying viewpoints The founding principle of the book has been to use carefully selected groupings of pictures to give readers a sense of the visual texture of the various periods and episodes covered The 167 illustration groups supported by explanatory text and picture captions create a sequence of visual tours not merely a procession of individually great works viewed in isolation but juxtapositions of significant images that powerfully convey a sense of the visual environments in which works of art need to be viewed in order to be understood and appreciated The aim throughout has been to make the shape and nature of these visual presentations a stimulating and rewarding experience allowing readers to become active participants in the process of interpretation and synthesis Another key feature of the narrative is the re definition of traditional period boundaries Rather than relying on conventional labels such as Medieval Renaissance Baroque etc five major phases of significant historical change are established that unlock longer and more meaningful continuities The art of classical antiquity from c 600 BC to the fall of Rome in AD 410 The establishment of visual culture in Europe from 410 to 1527 the sack of papal Rome European visual regimes from 1527 to 1770 The era of revolutions 1770 to 1914 Modernism and after 1914 to 2000 This new framework shows how the major religious and secular functions of art have been forged sustained transformed revived and revolutionized over the ages how the institutions of Church and State have consistently aspired to make art in their own image and how the rise of art history itself has come to provide the dominant conceptual framework within which artists create patrons patronize collectors collect galleries exhibit dealers deal and art historians write The text has been written by a team of 50 specialist authors working under the direction of Professor Martin Kemp one of the UK's most distinguished art historians Whilst bringing their own expertise and vision to their sections each author was also asked to relate their text to a number of unifying themes and issues including written evidence physical contexts patronage viewing and reception techniques gender and racial issues centres and peripheries media and condition the notion of art and current presentations Though the coverage of topics focuses on European notions of art and their transplantation and transformation in North America space is also given to cross fertilizations with other traditions including the art of Latin America the Soviet Union India Africa and Afro Caribbean Australia and Canada Professor Kemp and his team similarly deal generously with the applied arts and reproductive media such as photography and prints The result is a vibrant vigorous and revolutionary account of Western art serving both as an inspirational introduction for the general reader and an authoritative source of reference and guidance for students
