

The background of the slide is a collage. On the left, several American flags are shown on tall poles against a clear blue sky. Overlaid on the right side are several rectangular images: a red-tinted image of St. Basil's Cathedral in Moscow, a night-time image of the Tower Bridge in London, a mosque with minarets, and the Leaning Tower of Pisa next to a classical statue. The title text is superimposed over these images.

The Craft of Political Analysis for Diplomats Raymond F. Smith, 2011 Until the recent unauthorized release of thousands of classified State Department cables public attention was rarely drawn to the frequently outstanding political analysis done by American diplomats abroad The existing literature on diplomacy has heretofore been limited to memoirs of former diplomats and analyses of international affairs by diplomats academics and think tanks The Craft of Political Analysis offers a fresh approach one that provides a context for interpreting this embassy reporting and a guide to understanding the work that went on behind the scenes to produce it Author Raymond F Smith combines a practitioner's personal view of what is required to do good diplomatic political analysis with his understanding of the social conflict and change that informed his work for the State Department Smith clearly explains everything the Foreign Service candidate or professional as well as the interested layman needs to know about crafting political analysis including how to write for the analyst's intended audience how to make best use of the intellectual and analytical tools of the trade what happens when the analyst's views differ from government policy and why political analysis risks becoming irrelevant even though it is still urgently needed In addition The Craft of Political Analysis for Diplomats features two case studies using legally declassified cables not included in the Wikileaks release The first is built around four highly restricted Embassy Moscow cables on the collapse of the Soviet Union the second includes two cables on the Arab Israeli conflict that received the State Department's highest award for political analysis Selected for the Diplomats and Diplomacy Series of the Association for Diplomatic Studies and Training ADST and DACOR an organization of foreign affairs professionals diplomatic style and its use as a means to provide analytical insight into a state's foreign policy with a specific focus on South Korea Diplomatic style attracts scant attention from scholars It is dismissed as irrelevant in the context of diplomacy's universalism misconstrued as a component of foreign policy alluded to perfunctorily amidst broader considerations of foreign policy or wholly absented from discussions in which it should comprise an important component In contrast to these views practitioners maintain a faith-like confidence in diplomatic style They assume it plays an important role in providing analytical insight giving them advantage over scholars in the analysis of foreign policy This book explores diplomatic style and its use as a means to provide analytical insight into foreign policy using South Korea as a case study It determines that style remains important to diplomatic practitioners and provides analytical insight into a state's foreign policy by highlighting phenomena of policy relevance which narrows the range of information an analyst must cover The book demonstrates how South Korea's diplomatic style which has a tendency towards emotionalism and is affected by status generational change cosmopolitanism and estrangement from international society can be a guide to understanding South Korea's contemporary foreign policy This book will be of much interest to students of diplomacy studies foreign policy Asian politics and International Relations in general News Letter United States.
