Remapping Reality John Aloysius McCarthy,2006 This book is about intersections among science philosophy and literature It bridges the gap between the traditional cultures of science and the humanities by constituting an area of interaction that some have called a third culture By asking questions about three disciplines rather than about just two as is customary in research this inquiry breaks new ground and resists easy categorization It seeks to answer the following questions What impact has the remapping of reality in scientific terms since the Copernican Revolution through thermodynamics relativity theory and quantum mechanics had on the way writers and thinkers conceptualized the place of human culture within the total economy of existence What influence on the other hand have writers and philosophers had on the doing of science and on scientific paradigms of the world Thirdly where does humankind fit into the total picture with its uniquely moral nature In other words rather than privileging one discipline over another this study seeks to uncover a common ground for science ethics and literary creativity Throughout this inquiry certain nodal points emerge to bond the argument cogently together and create new meaning These anchor points are the notion of movement inherent in all forms of existence the changing concepts of evil in the altered spaces of reality and the creative impulse critical to the literary work of art as well as to the expanding universe This ambitious undertaking is unified through its use of phenomena typical of chaos and complexity theory as so many leitmotifs While they first emerged to explain natural phenomena at the quantum and cosmic levels chaos and complexity are equally apt for explaining moral and aesthetic events Hence the title Remapping Reality extends to the reconfigurations of the three main spheres of human interaction the physical the ethical and the aesthetic or creative

Is there an Object Oriented Architecture? Joseph Bedford, 2020-02-20 Bringing Graham Harman's philosophy into direct confrontation with contemporary architectural theory in new and creative ways Is There an Object Oriented Architecture provides a dialogue between Harman and six of the world's leading architectural thinkers Adam Sharr Lorens Holm Jonathan Hale Peg Rawes Patrick Lynch and Peter Carl Harman's object oriented philosophy is one that sees the universe as a carnival of equal objects with no hierarchy between humans and nonhumans In his model unicorns triangles bicycles neutrons and humans are all things with enduring essences that outlast their partial transformations It is a strikingly democratic vision of the universe that knocks humans off their ontological pedestal as arbiters of what is real It also radically challenges the very precepts of architectural theory the structure of which remains stubbornly human centric as it seeks to give form to the human being's place at the centre of the cosmos In this new book each thinker develops the implications of Harman's philosophy for the future of architecture by entering into a direct exchange with the philosopher and his thinking both questioning him and questioning with him
