Self Love and Christian Ethics Darlene Fozard Weaver, 2002-10-17 Self love is an inescapable problem for ethics yet much of contemporary ethics is reluctant to offer any normative moral anthropologies Instead secular ethics and contemporary culture promote a norm of self realization which is subjective and uncritical Christian ethics also fails to address this problem directly because it tends to investigate self love within the context of conflicts between the self's interests and those of her neighbors Self Love and Christian Ethics argues for right self love as the solution of proper self relation that intersects with love for God and love for neighbor Darlene Fozard Weaver explains that right self love entails a true self understanding that is embodied in the person's concrete acts and relations In making this argument she calls upon ethicists to revisit ontological accounts of the self and to devote more attention to particular moral acts The New Liberalism Avital Simhony, David Weinstein, 2001-08-23 Essays on new liberalism demonstrate that liberalism can accommodate community rights and liberty Concise Routledge Encyclopedia of Philosophy Professor Edward Craig, Edward Craig, 2013-01-11 The most complete and up to date philosophy reference for a new generation with entries ranging from Abstract Objects to Wisdom Socrates to Jean Paul Sartre Ancient Egyptian Philosophy to Yoruba Epistemology The Concise Routledge Encyclopedia of Philosophy includes More than 2000 alphabetically arranged accessible entries Contributors from more than 1200 of the world's leading thinkers Comprehensive coverage of the classic philosophical

Thomas Hill Green and the Development of Liberal-Democratic Thought

I. M. Greengarten, 1981-12-15 Thomas Hill Green 1836 1882 was a leading British philosopher and political figure and founder of the school of British Idealism which displaced the philosophy of Bentham and John Stuart Mill as the dominant tradition in British universities from 1880 into the twentieth century Greengarten presents a detailed analysis of Green s thought including his theories of political obligation property self realization and human nature and developed the necessary tools for an analysis of Green s work and the tradition of liberal democratic thought He finds in Green a view of human nature and human potentialities which is in striking contract to the views of earlier liberal thinkers and remarkably similar to that of Marx despite Green s clear and often passionate defence of capitalism and market freedom His concept of human nature is of a divided self contradictory nature his theory of the true good is of a good that is to be shared a common good that is not attainable through the selfish pursuit of private goods his vision of the good society foresees the elimination of poverty and the establishment of a classless society wherein all members would have equal opportunity to develop and realize their potential This book offers a fresh perspective on Green and raises issues of importance in the field of social and political theory
