Levy, 2019-08-28 In his book philosopher and law professor Ken Levy explains why he agrees with most people but not with most other philosophers about free will and responsibility Most people believe that we have both that is that our choices decisions and actions are neither determined nor undetermined but rather fully self determined By contrast most philosophers understand just how difficult it is to defend this metaphysical libertarian position So they tend to opt for two other theories responsibility skepticism which denies the very possibility of free will and responsibility and compatibilism which reduces free will and responsibility to properties that are compatible with determinism In opposition to both of these theories Levy explains how free will and responsibility are indeed metaphysically possible But he also cautions against the dogma that metaphysical libertarianism is actually true a widespread belief that continues to cause serious social political and legal harms Levy s book presents a crisp tight historically informed discussion with fresh clarity insight and originality It will become one of the definitive resources for students academics and general readers in this critical intersection among metaphysics ethics and criminal law Key features Presents a unique qualified defense of metaphysical libertarianism the idea that our choices decisions and actions can be fully self determined Written clearly accessibly and with minimal jargon rare for a book on the very difficult issues of free will and responsibility Seamlessly connects philosophical legal psychological and political issues Will be provocative and insightful for professional philosophers students and non philosophers Urbanised Society in the Age of Cities Cumhur Olcar, 2025-04-29 This book details the transformation processes that impinge on constitutionally ordained governance by

Societal Dynamics Frederick Betz, 2011-11-25 At both a micro information level and a macro societal level the concepts of knowledge and wisdom are complementary in both decisions and in social structures and institutions At the decision level knowledge is concerned with how to make a proper choice of means where best is measured as the efficiency toward achieving an end Wisdom is concerned with how to make a proper choice of ends that attain best values At a societal level knowledge is managed through science technology and innovation And while science technology is society's way to create new means with high efficiencies they reveal nothing about values Technology can be used for good or for evil to make the world into a garden or to destroy all life It is societal wisdom which should influence the choice of proper ends ends to make the world a garden How can society make progress in wisdom as well as knowledge Historically the disciplines of the physical sciences and biology have provided scientific foundations for societal knowledge But the social science disciplines of sociology economics political science have not provided a similar scientific foundation for societal wisdom To redress this gap Frederick Betz examines several cases in recent history that display a fundamental paradox between scientific technological achievement with devastating social effects i.e. historical events of ideological dictatorships in Russia Germany China and Yugoslavia He builds a new framework for applying social science perspectives to explain societal histories and social theory Emerging from this methodological and empirical investigation is a general topological theory of societal dynamics This theory and methodology can be used to integrate history and social science toward establishing grounded principles of societal wisdom

Engineering Society of Detroit v. City of Detroit, 308 MICH 539 (1944), 1944 63 A Primer on the Sapientific Method Jerome Jacob Rappoport, 2022-10-07 The author is in his eighth decade of life and claims to have found the key to the issues that have occupied him since childhood As a regular ordinary individual he has concluded that his observations can apply to all others regardless of circumstance or environment in which they might find themselves His inquiries and experiences have suggested that most are hollow and void inside but don't recognize it because they are filled with stories and concepts that came from outside their selves These foreign social notions when compared with what he or she feels inside lead to angst and frustration when confronting life The Sapientific Method gives the individual tools to clear things up and basically start life anew by filling the self with his or her own storyline that enables a new reinterpreted view of the world This is what being born again means
