The Oxford Handbook of Jewish Ethics and Morality Elliot N. Dorff, Jonathan K. Crane, 2016-01-23 For thousands of years the Jewish tradition has been a source of moral guidance for Jews and non Jews alike As the essays in this volume show the theologians and practitioners of Judaism have a long history of wrestling with moral questions responding to them in an open argumentative mode that reveals the strengths and weaknesses of all sides of a question The Jewish tradition also offers guidance for moral conduct by individuals communities and countries and shows how to motivate people to do the good and right thing The Oxford Handbook of Jewish

Suffering Religion Robert Gibbs, Elliot R. Wolfson, 2003-09-02 In a diverse and innovative selection of new essays by cutting edge theologians and philosophers Suffering Religion examines one of the most primitive but challenging questions to define human experience why do we suffer As a theme uniting very different religious and cultural traditions the problem of suffering addresses issues of passivity the vulnerability of embodiment the generosity of love and the complexity of gendered desire Interdisciplinary studies bring different kinds of interpretations to meet and enrich each other Can the notion of goodness retain meaning in the face of real affliction or is pain itself in conflict with meaning Themes covered include philosophy s own failure to treat suffering seriously with special reference to the Jewish tradition Martin Buber s celebrated interpretations of scriptural suffering suffering in Kristevan psychoanalysis focusing on the Christian theology of the cross the pain of childbirth in a home setting as a religiously significant choice Gods primal suffering in the kabbalistic tradition Incarnation as a gracious willingness to suffer

Challenges in Jewish-Christian Relations James Keltie Aitken, Edward Kessler, 2006 James K Aitken and Edward D Kessler have assembled here a widely diverse collection of essays on Jewish Christian relations a discipline that compared with other subjects studied in university and religious circles is relatively young Jewish Christian relations is a complex enterprise that cannot be reduced to simple theological or historical narratives it must take into account politics sociology education language history biblical studies hermeneutics and theology The contributors view their particular subject through the lens of all of these disciplines while ably meeting the challenge of looking toward the future

Beyond Theodicy Sarah K. Pinnock, 2012-02-01 Beyond Theodicy analyzes the rising tide of objections to explanations and justifications for why God permits evil and suffering in the world In response to the Holocaust striking parallels have emerged between major Jewish and Christian thinkers centering on practical faith approaches that offer meaning within suffering Author Sarah K Pinnock focuses on Jewish thinkers Martin Buber and Ernst Bloch and Christian thinkers Gabriel Marcel and Johann Baptist Metz to present two diverse rejections of theodicy one existential represented by Buber and Marcel and one political represented by Bloch and Metz Pinnock interweaves the disciplines of philosophy of religion post Holocaust thought and liberation theology to formulate a dynamic vision of religious hope and resistance

Learned Ignorance James L. Heft, Reuven Firestone, Omid Safi, 2011-08 Constructive interreligious dialogue is only a recent phenomenon Until the nineteenth century most dialogue among believers was carried on as a debate aimed either to disprove the claims of the other or to convert the other to one's own tradition At the end of the nineteenth century Protestant Christian missionaries of different denominations had created such a cacophony amongst themselves in the mission fields that they decided that it would be best if they could begin to overcome their own differences instead of confusing and even scandalizing the people whom they were trying to convert By the middle of the twentieth century the horrors of the Holocaust compelled Christians especially mainline Protestants and Catholics to enter into a serious dialogue with Jews one of the consequences of which was the removal of claims by Christians to have replaced Judaism and revising text books that communicated that message to Christian believers Now at the beginning of the twenty first century many branches of Christianity not least the Catholic Church are engaged in a world wide constructive dialogue with Muslims made all the more necessary by the terrorist attacks of September 11 In these new conversations Muslim religious leaders took an important initiative when they sent their document A Common Word Between Us to all Christians in the West It is an extraordinary document for it makes a theological argument various Christians in the West including officials at the Vatican have claimed that a theological conversation with Muslims is not possible based on texts drawn from the Hebrew Bible the New Testament and the Qur'an that Jewish Christian and Muslim believers share the God given obligation to love God and each other in peace and justice The Institute for Advanced Catholic Studies brought together an international group of sixteen Jewish

Catholic and Muslim scholars to carry on an important theological exploration of the theme of learned ignorance
