Los tres reinos de la naturaleza o museo pintoresco de historia natural: Botánica Georges-Louis Leclerc Comte de Buffon, 1857 Identity, Nation, Discourse Claire Taylor, 2009-01-14 This volume explores women's literary and cultural production in Latin America and suggests how such works engage with discourses of identity nationhood and gender Including contributions by several prominent Latin American scholars themselves it seeks to provide a vital insight into the analysis and reception of the works in a local context and foster debate between Latin American and metropolitan academics The book is divided into two sections Women and Nationhood and Models and Genres The first section comprises six chapters which examines women's responses to and attempts to carve out space within national discourses in a Latin American context Spanning the nineteenth century to the present day the chapters offer an insight into the ways in which Latin American women have constructed themselves as modern subjects of the nation and made use of the ambiguous spaces created by modernization and national discourses The section starts firstly with a focus on the Southern Cone covering Chile and Argentina and then moves geographically northward to Colombia and Bolivia The second section Models and Genres consists of six chapters that examine how women writers engage with and critically rework existing literary discourses and paradigms Considering phenomena such as detective fiction fairy tales and classical mythological figures the chapters illustrate how these genres and models frequently coded as masculine are given new inflections both as a result of their deployment by women and as a result of their re working in a Latin American context
