Marx, Marxism and the Spiritual Anjan Chakrabarti, Anup Dhar, Serap A. Kayatekin, 2020-09-10 While Marxian theory has produced a sound and rigorous critique of capitalism has it faltered in its own practice of social transformation Has it faltered because of the Marxian insistence on the hyper secularization of political cultures The history of religions with the exception of some spiritual traditions has not been any less heartless and soulless This book sets up a much needed dialogue between a rethought Marxian praxis of the political and a rethought experience of spirituality Such rethinking within Marxism and spirituality and a resetting of their lost relationship is perhaps the only hope for a non violent future of both the Marxian reconstruction of the self and the social as also faith based life practices Building on past work in critical theory this book offers a new take on the relationship between a rethought Marxism and a rethought spirituality rethought in the life philosophy and works of Christian thinkers anti Christian thinkers Marxian thinkers those critical of Marxist Statecraft Dalit neo Buddhist thinkers thinkers drawing from Judaism as well as thinkers drawing critically from Christianity Contrary to popular belief this book does not see spirituality as a derivative of only religion This book also sees spirituality as what Marx designated the sigh of the oppressed against both social and religious orthodoxy In that sense spirituality is not just a displaced form of religion it is a displaced form of the political too This book therefore sets up the much needed dialogue between the Marxian political and the spiritual traditions The chapters in this book were originally published in Rethinking Marxism A Journal of Economics Culture and Society     Aesthetics and Marxism Kang Liu,2000-03-10 Liu s study examines writers philosophers and political leaders in China and the West and reveals the extent to which they incorporate ideas about culture and aesthetics in their theories and practices     Metromarxism Andrew Merrifield,2013-04-15 Metromarxism discusses Marxism s relationship with the city from the 1850s to the present by way of biographical chapters on figures from the Marxist tradition including Marx Walter Benjamin Guy Debord and David Harvey Each chapter combines interesting biographical anecdotes with an accessible analysis of each individual s contribution to an always transforming Marxist theory of the city He suggests that the interplay between the city as center of economic and social life and its potential for progressive change generated a major corpus of work That work has been key in advancing progressive political and social transformations     The Coloniality of the Secular Yountae An,2023-12-15 In The Coloniality of the Secular An Yountae investigates the collusive ties between the modern concepts of the secular religion race and coloniality in the Americas Drawing on the work of douard Glissant Frantz Fanon Aim C saire Sylvia Wynter and Enrique Dussel An maps the intersections of revolutionary non Western thought with religious ideas to show how decoloniality redefines the sacred as an integral part of its liberation vision He examines these thinkers rejection of colonial religions and interrogates the narrow conception of religion that confines it within colonial power structures An explores decoloniality s conception of the sacred in relation to revolutionary violence gender creolization and racial phenomenology demonstrating its potential for reshaping religious paradigms Pointing out that the secular has been pivotal to regulating racial hierarchies under colonialism he advocates for a broader understanding of religion that captures the fundamental ideas that drive decolonial thinking By examining how decolonial theory incorporates the sacred into its vision of liberation An invites readers to rethink the transformative power of decoloniality and religion to build a hopeful future     Labour Managed Firms and

Post-Capitalism Bruno Jossa,2016-11-25 This book illustrates and discusses the major points of the economic theory of producer cooperatives its evolution since the 1950s and links with Marxian theory Most importantly this book demonstrates that a system of producer cooperatives offers a wealth of advantages compared to capitalism There is general agreement that the main benefit of this form of economic democracy is that people allowed to freely pursue their interests are happier than those acting on somebody else s instruction The author argues that a system of democratic firms would eradicate classical high wage unemployment and scale down both Keynesian and structural unemployment levels

Reimagining Class in Australia Henry Paternoster,2017-09-21 This book re evaluates New Left and Marxist texts from the 1980s in order to explore problems facing the study of class which have emerged within Australian and international theories The author contrasts the popular ideas of Connell Bourdieu and the Death of Class thesis with those of lesser known texts concluding that no single definition can account for the various historical meanings of class Instead loosely following Castoriadis the concept of class can best be understood as creatively imagined and institutionalised Paternoster proposes that class is best studied through historical phenomenology which can be used to link political economy cultural sociology and anthropological ethnographies This approach allows the contributions of Marxist and New Left authors to be reintegrated with contemporary theories Doing so highlights the significance of labour populism while cautioning against the ahistorical applications of texts such as Bourdieu s Distinction Reimagining Class in Australia

A New Model of Socialism Bruno Jossa, 2018-04-27 Economic democracy is essential for creating a truly democratic political sphere This engaging book uses Marxist theory to hypothesise that capitalism is not a democratic system and that a modern socialist system of producer cooperatives and democratically managed enterprises is urgently needed A New Model of Socialism focuses on the current crisis of the political Left a result of the collapse of the Soviet model of society and the decline of statism and kingship Bruno Jossa expands on existing theories to explore Marx's notions on economic democracy in a modern setting He advocates a move away from the centralised planning form of economic socialism towards a self management system for firms that does not prioritise the interests of one class over another in order to achieve greater economic democracy It is argued that the establishment of such a system of democratic firms is the precondition for reducing intervention in the economy thus enabling the State to perform its ultimate function of serving the public interest This timely book is ideal for advanced scholars of Marxist radical and heterodox economic theory as well as academics with an interest in the rise of socialism in our modern world Indeed it will also be of value to all those seeking a viable and practical alternative to existing capitalist and socialist thinking

Producer Cooperatives as a New Mode of Production Bruno Jossa, 2014-02-05 The notion that there is no alternative to capitalism emerged after the fall of the Berlin Wall and made rapid headway due to increasing economic globalisation More recently this belief that there is no viable alternative has held firm despite the financial crisis high unemployment levels and an ever increasing gap between rich and poor However since the appearance of Benjamin Ward s seminal 1958 article economic theorists have been developing a workable alternative a system of self managed firms The core argument outlined in this book is that a well organised system of producer cooperatives would give rise to a new mode of production and ultimately a genuinely socialist society This argument is developed through three key steps First following on from Jaroslav Vanek s definition it is argued that a Labour Managed Firm a firm which strictly segregates capital incomes from labour incomes would implement a new production mode because it would reverse the pre existing relation between capital and labour Second given that a system of these Labour Managed Firm cooperatives would reverse the capital labour relationship it is suggested that this would constitute a form of market socialism Third it is argued that compared to capitalism a system of producer cooperatives offers a wealth of advantages including the potential for efficiency gains the eradication of unemployment and the end of exploitation Ultimately this book concludes that self management could take the place of central planning in Marxist visions for the future
