

MORAL RELATIVISM

Moral relativism is a view that rejects the existence of any objective, absolute or universal moral truths that govern our morality.

EXAMPLE: TAX AVOIDANCE

Tax avoidance isn't technically illegal. So here, we have a moral relativist debate:

- Some people believe that we all need to pay taxes in good faith for the good of society.
- Other people look at the government as the people who are engaging in morally outrageous behavior. How dare they take 40% of my income every week!

EXAMPLE: WEALTH

During the reformation, the Catholics and Protestants had competing views on whether it's moral to pursue personal wealth:

- The Catholics believed that the pursuit of wealth was a sign of worshiping money over God.
- The protestants believed working hard was good and becoming wealthy was a sign of blessings from God for your hard work.

which the moral properties of the object of moral judgement do in some way determine or cause that judgment This view is not to be confused with any realist ontological commitment She asserts that universalizability is the necessary condition of all rational judgments including the moral ones The author also discusses the relationship between self and others and in this context she draws upon the insights of ancient Indian thinkers She proposes that minimum moral principles and maxims can be agreed upon through reasoning and intercultural discourse
