Social Anxiety and Social Phobia in Youth

Christopher Kearney, 2006-01-20 A great benefit of being a clinical child psychologist is the opportunity to conduct and review research on fascinating areas of human youthful behavior. And perhaps no behavior is as central to human existence as social behavior and the lack thereof. In writing this book, therefore, I have been doubly blessed with the chance to examine seminal works on behaviors that are so critical to the development and quality of life of children. This book covers the major historical aspects, characteristics, assessment strategies, and psychological treatment techniques for youths with social anxiety and social phobia. Chapter 1 provides an introduction to the related constructs and history of social phobia. Chapters 2 and 3 provide a summary of the characteristics and etiological variables that pertain most to youths with social anxiety and social phobia. Chapters 4 and 5 provide an overview of research and clinically based assessment strategies and recommendations for this population. Chapters 6-9 provide a description of treatment techniques that are most relevant and empirically supported for youths with social anxiety and social phobia. Chapter 10 covers issues regarding general and relapse prevention as well as difficult cases and future directions.

Affect Regulation Training Matthias Berking, Brian Whitley, 2014-08-30. Emotion Regulation is currently one of the most popular topics in clinical psychology. Numerous studies demonstrate that deficits in emotion regulation skills are likely to help maintain various forms of psychological disorders. Thus enhancing emotion regulation has become a major target in psychotherapeutic treatments. For this purpose a number of therapeutic strategies have been developed and shown to be effective. However for practitioners it is often difficult to decide which of these strategies they should use or how they can effectively combine empirically validated strategies. Thus the authors developed the Affect Regulation Training as a transdiagnostic intervention which systematically integrates strategies from cognitive behavior therapy, mindfulness based interventions, emotion focused therapy and dialectical behavioral therapy. The effectiveness of ART has been demonstrated in several high quality studies.
