Marsh, 1999 This edition of The Canadian Encyclopedia is the largest most comprehensive book ever published in Canada for the general reader It is COMPLETE every aspect of Canada from its rock formations to its rock bands is represented here It is UNABRIDGED all of the information in the four red volumes of the famous 1988 edition is contained here in this single volume It has been EXPANDED since 1988 teams of researchers have been diligently fleshing out old entries and recording new ones as a result the text from 1988 has grown by 50% to over 4 000 000 words It has been UPDATED the researchers and contributors worked hard to make the information as current as possible Other words apply to this extraordinary work of scholarship AUTHORITATIVE RELIABLE and READABLE Every entry is compiled by an expert Equally important every entry is written for a Canadian reader from the Canadian point of view The finished work many years in the making and the equivalent of forty average sized books is an extraordinary storehouse of information about our country This book deserves pride of place on the bookshelf in every Canadian Home It is no accident that the cover of this book is based on the Canadian flag For the proud truth is that this volume represents a great national achievement From its formal inception in 1979 this encyclopedia has always represented a vote of faith in Canada in Canada as a separate place whose natural worlds and whose peoples and their achievements deserve to be recorded and celebrated At the start of a new century and a new millennium in an increasingly borderless corporate world that seems ever more hostile to national distinctions and aspirations this Canadian Encyclopedia is offered in a spirit of defiance and of faith in our future The statistics behind this volume are staggering The opening sixty pages list the 250 Consultants the roughly 4 000 Contributors all experts in the field they describe and the scores of researchers editors typesetters proofreaders and others who contributed their skills to this massive project The 2 640 pages incorporate over 10 000 articles and over 4 000 000 words making it the largest some might say the greatest Canadian book ever published There are of course many special features These include a map of Canada a special page comparing the key statistics of the 23 major Canadian cities maps of our cities a variety of tables and photographs and finely detailed illustrations of our wildlife not to mention the colourful informative endpapers But above all the book is encyclopedic which the Canadian Oxford Dictionary describes as embracing all branches of learning This means that with rare exceptions there is satisfaction for the reader who seeks information on any Canadian subject From the first entry A mari usque ad mare from sea to sea which is Canada s motto and a good description of this volume s range to the Zouaves who mustered in Quebec to fight for the beleaguered Papacy there is the required summary of information clearly and accurately presented For the browser the constant variety of entries and the lure of regular cross references will provide hours of fascination The word encyclopedia derives from Greek expressions alluding to a grand circle of knowledge Our knowledge has expanded immeasurably since the time that one mind could encompass all that was known Yet now Canada s finest scientists academics and specialists have distilled their knowledge of our country between the covers of one volume The result is a book for every Canadian who values learning and values Canada

Coping with Postmodernity Martin Villwock, 2011-06-08 Examination Thesis from the year 2008 in the subject Didactics for the subject English Pedagogy Literature Studies grade 1 3 University of Cologne Englisches Seminar language English abstract In the following chapter of this paper an outline of the present ontological crisis in terms of Lyotard s postmodern condition will be given Throughout the discussion of Coupland s fiction this concept will be relevant for its influence on the characters thoughts and emotions Furthermore the chapter will analyze the importance and self referentiality of narrative structures in Coupland s work The characters in Coupland s novels often come up with a plentitude of more or less successful strategies in order to deal with the semantic void they experience For this chapter material will be presented predominantly from the novels All Families are Psychotic Generation X and Microserfs The third chapter will focus on the presentation of working life in Coupland s prose

His novels reveal that work today has lost its former function as a source of orientation In this analysis the concept of alienation as introduced by Karl Marx will be used in order to grasp the nature of the conflict that the characters experience in their working lives in Coupland s novels The chapter will focus on the presentation of working life in Generation X Microserfs and Shampoo Planet A fourth chapter will introduce yet a further source of disorientation the hyperreality constituted by the media Here Baudrillard s observations 1983 and 1994 will serve as a starting point in a discussion of the experience of the hyperreal and the possibility of contact with the real in Coupland s work Again material will be presented from the novels Generation X Microserfs and Shampoo Planet The subsequent chapter will consider the important role that irony plays in several of the analyzed novels Douglas Coupland particularly in his first novels impresses his readers with a smart and thoroughly ironic tone In his later novels however he is deliberately trying to establish a more sincere language mirrored by his characters desire to embark on a sincere quest for meaning The functions of the presentation of the different forms of disorientation and re orientation will be at the center of my discussion of Coupland s fiction Likenesses

Matthew Reynolds,2017-07-05 Translation illustration and interpretation have at least two things in common They all begin when sense is made in the act of reading that is where illustrative images and explanatory words begin to form And they all ask to be understood in relation to the works from which they have arisen reading them is a matter of reading readings Likenesses explores this palimpsestic realm with examples from Dante to the contemporary sculptor Rachel Whiteread The complexities that emerge are different from Empsonian ambiguity or de Man s unknowable infinity of signification here meaning dawns and fades as the hologrammic text is filled out and flattened by successive encounters Since all literature and art is palimpsestic to some degree Reynolds proposes this style of interpretation can become a tactic for criticism in general Critics need both to indulge and to distrust the metamorphic power of their interpreting imaginations Likenesses follows on from the argument of Reynolds s The Poetry of Translation 2011 extending it through other translations and beyond them into a wide range of layered texts Browning emerges as a key figure because his poems laminate languages places times and modes of utterance with such compelling energy There are also substantial innovative accounts of Dryden Stubbs Goya

Hybrid Fictions Daniel Grassian, 2015-09-11 Since the 1960s academics have theorized that literature is on its way to becoming obsolete or at the very least has lost part of its power as an influential medium of social and cultural critique This work argues against that misconception and maintains that contemporary American literature is not only alive and well but has grown in significant ways that reflect changes in American culture during the last twenty years In addition this work argues that beginning in the 1980s a new allied generation of American writers born from the late 1950s to the early 1970s has emerged whose hybrid fiction blend distinct elements of previous American literary movements and contain divided social cultural and ethnic allegiances The author explores psychological philosophical ethnic and technological hybridity The author also argues for the importance of and need for literature in contemporary America and considers its future possibilities in the realms of the Internet and hypertext David Foster Wallace Neal Stephenson Douglas Coupland Sherman Alexie William Vollmann Michele Serros and Dave Eggers are among the writers whose hybrid fictions are discussed
