Repositioning North American Migration History Marc S. Rodriguez, 2004 An in depth look at trends in North American internal migration This volume gathers established and new scholars working on North American immigration transmigration internal migration and citizenship whose work analyzes the development of migrant and state level institutions as well as migrant networks With contemporary migration research most often focused on the development of transnational communities and the ways international migrants maintain relationships with their sending region that sustain the circular flow of people ideas and traditions across national boundaries it is useful to compare these to similar patterns evident within the terrain of internal migration To date however international and internal migration studies have unfolded in relative isolation from one another with each operating within these distinct fields of expertise rather than across them Although there has been some important linking there has not been a recent major consideration of human migration that works across and within the various borders of the North American continent Thus the volume presents a variety of chapters that seek to consider human migration in comparative perspective across the internal international divide Marc S Rodriguez is Assistant Professor of History at Princeton University Donna R Gabbaccia is the Mellon Professor of History at the University of Pittsburgh James R Grossman is the Vice President of Research and Education at the Newberry Library Chicago Contributors Josef Barton Wallace Best Donna Gabbaccia James Gregory Tobias Higbie Mae Ngai Walter Nugent Annelise Orleck Kunal Parker Kimberly Phillips Bruno Ramirez Marc Rodriguez Repositioning North American Migration History is a volume in Studies in Comparative History sponsored by Princeton University's Shelby Cullom Davis Center for Historical Studies

The Scramble for the Amazon and the Lost Paradise of Euclides da Cunha Susanna B. Hecht, 2022-12-22 A compelling and elegantly written history of the fight for the Amazon basin and the work of a brilliant but overlooked Brazilian intellectual Times Literary Supplement UK The fortunes of the late nineteenth century's imperial powers depended on a single raw material rubber with only one source the Amazon basin This scenario ignited a decades long conflict that found Britain France Belgium and the United States fighting with and against the new nations of Peru Bolivia and Brazil for the forest's riches In the midst of this struggle the Brazilian author and geographer Euclides da Cunha led a survey expedition to the farthest reaches of the river The Scramble for the Amazon tells the story of da Cunha's terrifying journey the unfinished novel born from it and the global strife that formed the backdrop for both Haunted by his broken marriage da Cunha trekked through a beautiful region thrown into chaos by guerrilla warfare starving migrants and native slavery All the while he worked on his masterpiece a nationalist synthesis of geography philosophy biology and journalism entitled Lost Paradise Hoping to unveil the Amazon's explorers spies natives and brutal geopolitics Da Cunha was killed by his wife's lover before he could complete his epic work once the biography of Da Cunha a translation of his unfinished work and a chronicle of the social political and environmental history of the Amazon The Scramble for the Amazon is a work of thrilling intellectual ambition      Food Sovereignty, Agroecology and Biocultural Diversity Michel. P. Pimbert, 2017-11-01 Contestations over knowledge and who controls its production are a key focus of social movements and other actors that promote food sovereignty agroecology and biocultural diversity This book critically examines the kinds of knowledge and ways of knowing needed for food sovereignty agroecology and biocultural diversity Food sovereignty is understood here as a transformative process that seeks to recreate the democratic realm and regenerate a diversity of autonomous food systems based on agroecology biocultural diversity equity social justice and ecological sustainability It is shown that alternatives to the current model of development require radically different knowledges and epistemologies from those on offer today in mainstream institutions including universities policy think tanks and donor organizations To achieve food sovereignty agroecology and biocultural diversity there is a need to re imagine and construct knowledge for diversity decentralisation dynamic adaptation and democracy The authors critically explore the changes in organizations research paradigms and professional practice that could help transform and co create knowledge for a new modernity based on plural definitions of wellbeing Particular attention is given to institutional pedagogical and methodological innovations that can enhance cognitive justice by giving hitherto excluded citizens more power and agency in the construction of knowledge The book thus contributes to the democratization of knowledge and power in the domain of food environment and society Chapters 1 and 8 of this book are freely available as downloadable Open Access PDFs at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license      The Environment in Anthropology Nora Haenn, Richard Wilk, 2006 Presenting ecology and current environmental studies from an anthropological point of view this book gives readers a strong intellectual foundation as well as offering practical tools for solving environmental problems      Cooperatives, Grassroots Development, and Social Change Marcela Vásquez-Léon, Brian J. Burke, Timothy J. Finan, 2017-03-14 Cooperatives Grassroots Development and Social Change presents examples from Paraguay Brazil and Colombia examining what is necessary for smallholder agricultural cooperatives to support holistic community based development in peasant communities Reporting on successes and failures of these cooperative efforts the contributors offer analyses and strategies for supporting collective grassroots interests Illustrating how poverty and inequality affect rural people they reveal how cooperative organizations can support grassroots development strategies while negotiating local contexts of inequality amid the broader context of international markets and global competition The contributors explain the key desirable goals from cooperative efforts among smallholder producers They are to provide access to more secure livelihoods expand control over basic resources and commodity chains improve quality of life in rural areas support community infrastructure and offer social spaces wherein small farmers can engage politically in transforming their own communities The stories in Cooperatives Grassroots Development and Social Change reveal immense opportunities and challenges Although cooperatives have often been framed as alternatives to the global capitalist system they are neither a panacea nor the hegemonic extension of neoliberal capitalism Through one of the most thorough cross country comparisons of cooperatives to date this volume shows the unfiltered reality of cooperative development in highly stratified societies with case studies selected specifically because they offer important lessons regarding struggles and strategies for adapting to a changing social economic and natural environment Contributors Luis Barros Brian J Burke Charles Cox Luis Alberto Cu llar G mez Miguel Ricardo D vila Ladr n de Guevara Elisa Echag e Timothy J Finan Andr s Gonz lez Aguilera Sonia Carolina L pez Cer n Joana Laura Marinho Nogueira Jo o Nic dio Alves Nogueira Jessica Piekielek Mar a Isabel Ram rez Anaya Rodrigo F Renter a Valencia Lilliana Andrea Ruiz Mar n Marcela V squez Le n Tahitian Transformation Victoria S.
