William James Booth,2018-07-05 Memory has fueled merciless violent strife and it has been at the core of reconciliation and reconstruction It has been used to justify great crimes and yet it is central to the pursuit of justice In these and more everyday ways we live surrounded by memory individual and social in our habits our names the places where we live street names libraries archives and our citizenship institutions and laws Still we wonder what to make of memory and its gifts though sometimes we are hardly even certain that they are gifts Of the many chambers in this vast palace I mean to ask particularly after the place of memory in politics in the identity of political communities and in their practices of doing justice from the Preface W James Booth seeks to understand the place of memory in the identity ethics and practices of justice of political communities Identity is he believes a particular kind of continuity across time one central to the possibility of agency and responsibility and memory plays a central role in grounding that continuity Memory identity takes two forms a habitlike form the deep presence of the past that is part of a life led in common and a more fragile vulnerable form in which memory struggles to preserve identity through time notably in bearing witness a form of memory work deeply bound up with the identity of political communities Booth argues that memory holds a defining place in determining how justice is administered Memory is tied to the very possibility of an ethical community one responsible for its own past able to make commitments for the future and driven to seek justice Underneath and motivating the politics of memory understood as contests over the writing of history over memorials museums and canons he writes there lies an intertwining of memory identity and justice Communities of Memory both argues for and maps out that intertwining Sexuality and Gender at Home Brent

The Bushman Winter has Come Paul John Myburgh, 2013-03-01 This is a true story of exodus the inevitable journey of the last of the First People as they leave the Great Sand Face and head for the modern world and cultural oblivion Paul John Myburgh spent seven years with the People of the Great Sand Face a group of Gwíkwé Bushmen in the Kalahari Desert They were years of physical and spiritual immersion into a way of life of which only an echo remains in living memory But all does not end there In The Bushman Winter Has Come the author imagines a continuing journey towards a place where we may once again know who we are in the context of our life on this earth towards a time when we may answer the Gwíkwé's morning greeting Tsamkwa tge Are your eyes nicely open with a confident Yes Reconciliation and Pedagogy Pal Ahluwalia, Stephen Atkinson, Peter Bishop, Pam Christie, Robert Hattam, Julie Matthews, 2012-05-16 Reconciliation is one of the most significant contemporary challenges in the world today In this innovative new volume educational academics and practitioners across a range of cultural and political contexts examine the links between reconciliation and critical pedagogy putting forward the notion that reconciliation projects should be regarded as public pedagogical interventions with much to offer to wider theories of learning While ideas about reconciliation are proliferating few scholarly accounts have focused on its pedagogies This book seeks to develop a generative theory that properly maps reconciliation processes and works out the pedagogical dimensions of new modes of narrating and listening and effecting social change The contributors build conceptual bridges between the scholarship of reconciliation studies and existing education and pedagogical literature bringing together the concepts of reconciliation and pedagogy into a dialogical encounter and evaluating how each might be of mutual benefit to the other theoretically and practically This study covers a broad range of territory including ethnographic accounts of reconciliation efforts practical implications of reconciliation matters for curricula and pedagogy in schools and universities and theoretical and philosophical considerations of reconciliation pedagogy It will be of great interest to students and scholars of peace and reconciliation studies educational studies and international relations 9/11 and the Visual Culture of Disaster Thomas Stubblefield, 2014-12-17 An insightful view on how 9/11 is perceived in American society the day that refuses to enter history the tragedy that has in effect not yet passed Journal of Popular Culture The day the towers fell indelible images of plummeting rubble fire and falling bodies were imprinted in the memories of people around the world Images that were caught in the media loop after the disaster and coverage of the attack its aftermath and the wars that followed reflected a pervasive tendency to treat these tragic events as spectacle Though the collapse of the World Trade Center was the most photographed disaster in history it failed to yield a single noteworthy image of carnage Thomas Stubblefield argues that the absence within these spectacular images is the paradox of 9 11 visual culture which foregrounds the visual experience as it obscures the event in absence erasure and invisibility From the spectral presence of the Tribute in Light to Art Spiegelman s nearly blank New Yorker cover from the elimination of the Twin Towers from TV shows and films to the monumental cavities of Michael Arad s 9 11 memorial the void became the visual shorthand for the incident By examining configurations of invisibility and erasure across the media of photography film monuments graphic novels and digital representation Stubblefield interprets the post 9 11 presence of absence as the reaffirmation of national identity that implicitly laid the groundwork for the impending invasions of Iraq and Afghanistan A concise engaging and thought provoking work that asks the reader to reassess their knowledge and relationship to that moment and the resulting milieu of post 9 11 life in America ARLIS NA Reviews Extraordinarily brilliant will change how we think about disasters and tragedies The book is a must read for both students and practitioners of media studies Repository
