Shared Reflections Of My Impressions:

Norms, Realities and Lies Juan Antonio Rodriguez, 2005 Norms Realities and Lies is a poetry collection that explores some current social religious and personal issues in verse It is a call for the recognition of the oppression of social norms and religious dogmas on the individual The author stresses emphasis on individualism and spiritualism as factors that can truly free humanity to live a happier life Furthermore it confronts stereotypes that are based on weight height physical attraction language and culture just to name a few Norms Realities and Lies overtly points out how most of us have preconceived notions of others based on some imaginary measure of human worth that uses physical appearance as its foundation without actually getting to personally know an individual The importance of the recognition of each matchless individual as a cure for prejudice is also evident Dr Rodriguez maintains the same precision and beauty in Norms Realities and Lies as he does in all of his previous seven poetry collections Juan Antonio Rodriguez BA MA Ph D was born in the Dominican Republic and was raised in New York City He has written six academic books on English instruction and seven collections of poetry five in Spanish and two in English One of his books won an international sonnet prize El Premio Internacional El Eria de Sonetos 2003 in Spain Shared Reflections of My Impressions Juan Antonio Rodriguez, 2004-06-01 The book s title embraces this writer s concept of poetry writing Juan Rodriguez shares his reactions to critical issues and experiences lived in New York Texas California and the Dominican Republic and his cruises to other countries These poems present many facets of life through the impressions within the soul of this bilingual bicultural poet whose horizon transcends cultural boundaries with passion and eloquence This work covers human aspects of life in a manner that only a sensitive and experienced poet can reflect Different phases of life in America are presented through the reflections of a young man a mature man and a middle aged man whose soul and passion extend throughout the book The collection is varied in topics and style and it demonstrates as similar a command of language as his five Spanish poetry books do Dr Rodriguez writes to communicate feelings and concepts with precision not to confuse or to impress The Handbook for Aspiring Higher Education Leaders Antione D. The Course Reflection Project Nicole Schonemann,Emily Metzgar,Andrew Libby,2015-05-01 Service learning is entering a post initiatory phase At tertiary institutions of all types and sizes service learning programs are common and service learning requirements for graduation are growing in popularity Taken together alongside continued faculty interest in effective teaching these factors have raised the visibility and popularity of service learning Now the greater need in service learning is not to prove the need for or efficacy of service learning but to turn the focus squarely back on practice Following established best practice is not enough instructors also need to reflect on how this fits within the specific context and application of each unique course and service learning partnership While there are many excellent resources that detail best practice and showcase exemplary service learning courses faculty reflection and course revision often goes unmentioned In response to the lack of attention on the role of reflection and course revision we convened groups of faculty from a variety of disciplines to reflect deeply on their courses paying specific attention to obstacles and challenges These conversations were converted to articles for this edited collection each chapter representing the process of reflection and revision and serving as a guide to develop effective practice in varied curricular contexts This text contributes to the body of literature on service learning in a unique and practical manner Faculty teaching or interested in teaching service learning classes would benefit from this text as well as university administrators and community service directors involved in service learning at a programmatic and institutional level This book should be marketed to faculty teaching disciplinary service learning classes and service learning pedagogy classes and administrative offices involved in service learning This could be a supplementary text for graduate level pedagogy courses Higher education institutional libraries would benefit from this text as well as the national and state campus compact offices

Reflections with Lessons Ric Grubaugh, 2025-05-05 This book Reflections with Lessons A Journey through Grief could be described as two books in one One part depicts how a person moves through his life and either grows or regresses in his attempt to find his way forward The author reflects on many events that occur in his life as he moved from a child to a teenager to an adult and now to a senior citizen In his reflections of these events he tries to draw a lesson what did he learn how did it shape his future and was it correct or should he have used the reflection to draw a completely different lesson that would have served him better It is hoped that these reflections and lessons are meaningful and are written concisely and occasionally with a bit of humor sometimes third grade humor The other half of the book does not reflect on a child playing baseball or a teenager trying to date the cheerleader or a young child lying to his mom No these tell of finding and losing the one The one person who made sense of the time between the finding and the losing This book will not find world peace or cure cancer or help you decide between Diet Pepsi or Diet Coke but it is hoped that upon completion the reader chooses to attack the grief and not let grief or the other bears and wolves of life win Bang on The Japan Financial and Economic Monthly ,1920 Essays on the Real Church Dirk J. Smit,2024-08-15 The spirit of the Reformation is often expressed in the well known slogan that Reformed churches are always being reformed according to God s Word ecclesia reformata semper reformanda secundum verbum Dei Over the last century the spirit of this slogan motivated someone like Dietrich Bonhoeffer to argue that the visible form and life of the church should reflect the truth and message of the church Already in his doctoral dissertation called Sanctorum Communio the communion of the saints the young Bonhoeffer combined theological claims and traditions with social theory and analysis in this spirit in an innovative way to study the nature and integrity and witness of the church At the time this was a radical claim with major consequences and challenges for Protestant churches Their life which meant their order structure actions statements convictions public presence and role was to be measured by their gospel which meant their message proclamation convictions claims They could no longer proclaim one truth yet live a different life It was this spirit which led to the well known Theological Declaration of Barmen in 1934 and to the formation of the Confessing Church in Nazi Germany Many called this a moment of truth a status confessionis It was this same spirit which later inspired the struggle in South Africa for the integrity and faithfulness of the church and for the credibility of its message proclamation and witness The contributions in this volume 52 papers essays sermons studies were all produced in this spirit Most of them have not been published before They were all occasional pieces written over several decades in different contexts and for different purposes and audiences yet they all breathe this self critical spirit of the Reformation considering whether the real church the concrete every day actual living church that people know and experience and perhaps belong to truly strives to embody the gospel itself the message which it claims and proclaims They all inquire under different circumstances and in diverse ways about different social forms of the real church from worship to congregation from denomination to ecumenical church from individual believers to movements and organisations whether and how they embody the truth of the church or not Together these contributions tell a story the story of this spirit in South African circles over several decades but also in the ecumenical church in our globalizing world They offer one small glimpse into different concrete moments in the story of this spirit in the life of this tradition and community of faith Hopefully some of these accounts may resonate with others who also shared the same spirit and still share it today in new and ongoing ways
