Shared Margins Samuli Schielke, Mukhtar Saad Shehata, 2021-07-05 Shared Margins tells of writers writing and literary milieus in Alexandria Egypt's second city It de-centres cosmopolitan avant-gardes and secular revolutionary aesthetics that have been intensively documented and studied since 2011 Instead it offers a fieldwork-based account of various milieus and styles and their common grounds and lines of division Structured in two parts Shared Margins gives an account of literature as a social practice embedded in milieus that at once enable and limit literary imagination and of a life-worldly experience of plurality in absence of pluralism that marks literary engagements with the intimate and social realities of Alexandria after 2011 Literary writing this book argues has marginality as an at once enabling and limiting condition It provides shared spaces of imaginary excess that may go beyond the taken-for-granted of a societal milieu and yet are never unlimited Literary imagination is part and parcel of such social conflicts and transformations its role being neither one of resistance against power nor of guidance towards norms but rather one of open-ended complicity community volunteers or family members Also explored is how people can come together in supportive communities that enrich and extend their experiences of life The building of alliances and the creation of partnership working across different organisations are essential to this The emphasis is on the role of the paid supporter which is still critical in the lives of many people but smaller community based networks of support with a shared vision of inclusive societies are seen to be the hallmark of modern service systems This book is refreshingly different and has a remarkable feel good quality It is essential reading for those striving to build person centred services      Written and Spoken English Erle Elsworth Clippinger,1917
