A History of Police Reform in England and Wales Timothy Brain, 2023-06-22 This book provides a comprehensive history of police reform charting its history from its origins in the early 18th century to the most recent examples in the 21st century of the Labour Coalition and Conservative governments Each key reform programme is explored in the social political and intellectual context of its time how the necessary legislation was passed how each programme was implemented and what its legacy has been This is the first study that concentrates on the key reforms that shaped the modern police service their enduring legacies and their underlying flaws It is an essential read for police historians criminologists police academics policy makers and everyone interested in police history Entanglements of Life with the Law John R. Campbell, 2020-11-09 This book examines the quality and nature of justice dispensed in London's magistrates courts which are the lowest level of the United Kingdom's Criminal Justice System In 2016 approximately 230 000 individuals were prosecuted for a criminal offence in these courts of whom about seventy percent pleaded guilty and were sentenced Curiously about eighty five percent of those who pleaded not guilty were subsequently tried found guilty and sentenced This book addresses a central paradox of criminal justice how is it that magistrates are able to reach a guilty verdict despite the elusive and complex nature of truth and reality Research together with observations of 238 remand hearings and 23 trials has led the author to arrive at some uncomfortable conclusions about a legal system undermined by government austerity policies and lacking in transparency This book shows that the police fail to investigate most offences that the Crown Prosecution Service is reliant on the cases which the police want prosecuted that the quality of legal representation is poor that magistrates decisions may be unjust and that most defendants are not able to understand or participate in their hearing Strikingly a large percentage of defendants are from London's precariat They are young men who are destitute or who rely on unstable incomes they are semi literate from Black and Ethnic Minority Communities and their basic rights as citizens are being eroded Because many are repeat offenders they are recycled through the Criminal Justice System with limited assistance to address the problems which cause offending Magistrates courts dispense summary justice in very short hearings which means that defendants have a limited opportunity to defend themselves In short summary justice lacks basic due process rights in a legal process which bears a striking resemblance to justice in authoritarian non democratic societies Early Childhood Studies Jenny Willan, 2024-02-08 Fully updated in its 2nd edition this comprehensive and accessible book is a one stop introductory text for those entering the field of early childhood studies and early years Scholarly and engagingly written it covers all the key contemporary debates from child development language acquisition and play to professional practice health and wellbeing and diversity and inclusion The new edition includes two new chapters on fostering creativity and sustainability It covers the urgent post pandemic need for early childhood practitioners to lead the remedial work for the 2020 generation of babies who lost valuable socialisation opportunities and includes discussion of the current schoolification of early childhood and the pursuit of data as a driver of education and care provision It also examines the impact of health and income inequalities Covid 19 global neoliberal policies and Brexit on the early childhood landscape An excellent all rounder it covers everything a student of early childhood will need Each of the eighteen chapters has at least one global case study and includes reflective exercises topics for discussion assignments and further reading lists Throughout the book vital connections are made between theory and practice to help students prepare for a career working with a diverse community of children parents and professionals
