Mon-Khmer: Peoples of the Mekong Region Ronald D. Renard, Kr. Anchalee Singhanetra Renard, 2015-03-01 The Mon Khmer project took a long journey before it was turned into a final product the first comprehensive collection of articles on Mon Khmer peoples of the Mekong Region The project was started in 2001 by the first editor of the book Dr Ronald D Renard who unfortunately did not see the final product of his valuable work During 1995 1996 Dr Ron Renard as the manager of the UNDP Highland People project and I travelled to Northeast Cambodia Vietnam and Laos to explain to representatives of ethnic communities the aim of the project and how the ethnic minorities many of whom are Mon Khmer could be involved and benefit from it It may well be that this encounter with these ethnic groups made him expand his intellectual interest to study them in addition to the Karen in Thailand whose history of integration into the Siamese state he had studied for his dissertation completed in 1980 According to my last conversation with Ron it was during the time when he worked for the Journal of Siam Society in the late 1990s that he decided to embark upon the Mon Khmer project which preoccupied the last part of his academic life

Doing "Gong Culture" Hoai Tran, 2022 This book shows how the efforts of various actors in doing Gong culture contribute to preserving the intangible heritage of ethnic minorities in the Central Highlands of Vietnam Tran's research challenges the conventional perspective that views heritagization as a process of cultural appropriation in which local heritage practitioners become cultural proprietors who in UNESCO's view differ from culture carriers He shows that local artists actively engage with other actors in the heritage community thus contributing to the performance of a living image of the Space of Gong Culture on the heritage stage In this intangible cultural heritage practically all actors are culture carriers Drawing on long term fieldwork and placing the focus on human interaction Hoai Tran paints a very subtle and sophisticated picture of the heritage community and its actors in Vietnam's central highlands By investigating who is acting in and on the space of gong culture with what motivations interests intents or desires how they are doing so and how effectively this book arrives at new ways of thinking about heritagization in Vietnam G bor Vargyas Research Center for the Humanities Budapest market integration and globalization processes are impacting upon rural Southeast Asia with increasingly complex and diverse consequences. In response, local inhabitants are devising a broad range of resistance measures that they feel will best protect or improve their livelihoods, ensure greater social justice and equity, or allow them to just be left alone. This book develops a multi-scalar approach to examine such resistance occurring in relation to agrarian transformations in the Southeast Asian region. The contributors take a fresh look at the diversity of sites of struggle and the combinations of resistance measures being utilized in contemporary Southeast Asia. They reveal that open public conflicts and debates are taking place between dominators and the oppressed at the same time as covert critiques of power and everyday forms of resistance. The book shows how resistance measures are context-contingent, shaped by different world views and shift according to local circumstances, the opening and closing of political opportunity structures, and the historical peculiarities of resistance dynamics. By providing new conceptual approaches and illustrative case studies that cut across scales and forms, this book will be of interest to academics and students in comparative politics, sociology, human geography, environmental studies, cultural anthropology, and Southeast Asian studies. It will also help to further debate and action among academics, activists, and policymakers.
