Shattering The Myths Women In Academe:

Shattering the Myths Judith Glazer-Raymo, 2002-10-14 Winner of the Outstanding Publication Award of the Post secondary Education Division of the American Educational Research Association In Shattering the Myths Judith Glazer Raymo uses a critical feminist perspective to examine women's progress in higher education since 1970 She contrasts the activism of the 1970s the passivity of the 1980s and the ambivalence and antipathy demonstrated toward feminism in the 1990s These waves of change she explains were brought about by external forces by generational differences among women and by intellectual and ideological struggles within the women's movement and the larger academic culture In tracing three decades of women's progress in the academy the author provides data from a variety of sources on women's rank salary employment status and education The book also draws on the experience of women faculty and administrators as they articulate and reflect on the social economic political and ideological contexts in which they work and the multiple influences on their professional and personal lives

Women in Academic Leadership Susan J. Bracken, Jeanie K. Allen, Diane R. Dean, 2023-07-03 Colleges and universities benefit from diversity in their leadership roles and profess to value diversity of thought of experience of person Yet why do women remain under represented in top academic leadership positions and in key positions along the academic career ladder Why don't they advance at a rate proportional to that of their male peers How do internal and external environmental contexts still influence who enters academic leadership and who survives and thrives in those roles Women in Academic Leadership complements its companion volumes in the Women in Academe series provoking readers to think critically about the gendered nature of academic leadership across the spectrum of institutional types It argues that leadership the academy and the nexus of academic leadership remain gendered structures steeped in male oriented norms and mores Blending research and reflection it explores the barriers and dilemmas that these structures present and the professional strategies and the personal choices women make in order to successfully surmount them The authors pose questions about how women leaders negotiate between their public and private selves They consider how women develop a vital sense of self efficacy along with the essential skills and knowledge they need in order to lead effectively how they cultivate opportunity and how they gain legitimacy and maintain authenticity in a male gendered arena For those who seek to create an institutional environment conducive to equity and opportunity this book offers insight into the pervasive barriers facing women of all colors and evidence of the need for a more complex multi dimensional view of leadership For women in academe who seek to reach their professional potential and maintain authenticity it offers encouragement and a myriad of strategies for their growth and development
